FARM BOARD ENEMIES HIT

Teague Scores Big Business

Opposition to Agricultural Relief Act Laid to Selfishness

National Chamber Assailed; Wheat Efforts During Crisis Praised

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 8. (Exclusive)—Vigorously defending the Federal Farm Board against attacks by business interests, C. C. Teague of Santa Paula, Cal., commissioner for fruits and vegetables, declared in a radio speech broadcast nationally from Washington tonight that the opposition to the board's activities is based on selfishness.

He said bluntly that the business leaders are strongly in favor of farm relief in theory, but began to howl the moment the Farm Board put into effect practical policies which interfered in any degree with the fat middlemen's profits they were accustomed to making off agricultural products. In other words, he said, they are only for a gesture toward farm relief and turned against it as soon as they found the Farm Board was not making a political gesture, but was really interested in helping the farmer get a better price for his labor at the expense of the dealers in between him and the ultimate consumer.

CHAMBER SCORED

Mr. Teague leveled his guns particularly at the United States Chamber of Commerce for its resolution adopted here last week condemning the Farm Board and pledging its efforts toward repeal of the act which created the board a year ago.

"It was interesting to note," declared the California commissioner, "that all of the speakers (at the chamber meeting) who demanded the repeal of the agricultural marketing act represented national organizations of commercial and speculative operators, bonded together for mutual protection, who were attacking the attempt of the government to assist the farmers in organizing so as to be in position in some measure to protect themselves.

"The resolutions committee reported a resolution which was passed by the chamber, pledging it to work for the amendment of the act so as to make it ineffective. In my opinion, the United States Chamber of Commerce has made the greatest mistake in its history."

SPLIT REPORTED

In connection with Mr. Teague's radio address, there were reports here today that President Hoover has come to a parting of the ways with Julius H. Barnes, former presi-

QUEEN SEES HOW OTHER HALF LIVES

Unemployed Londoner Entertains Royalty in Humble "Model Flat"

LONDON, May 8. (AP)—An unemployed lighterman, with his wife in a hospital and little chance of getting a job, today entertained Queen Mary in a humble flat of London's East End, where Her Majesty had an opportunity of seeing how the other half lives.

The Queen was visiting a nurses' training center and said she wished to see one of the model flats built by the Deptford Council.

A police inspector, accompanied by the Queen, knocked on the door of a flat. A man wearing a derby hat and an overcoat opened it.

"The Queen would like to see your house," said the inspector.

"Certainly," gasped J. C. Conlay, the jobless lighterman, and he escorted the Queen inside, showing her everything, even to the bathroom. The Queen showed great interest and talked to Conlay, who told her he came from the slums and the model flat suited him admirably. He remarked that he is out of work, but is still hunting.

"That's a pity," sympathized Her Majesty, "I hope you get work soon."

She shook hands with the workman and he still is trying to convince himself that it wasn't all a dream.

Garfield, Jr., a grandson of the twentieth President of the United States, is expected to be named defendant in a divorce suit to be filed here within the next two or three weeks, it became known today when the presence in Reno of his wife, Mrs. Edwina Garfield, was discovered.

Mrs. Garfield said today that she could not discuss her contemplated divorce action at this time, but did not deny that she is here for divorce purposes.

Amara, a veteran flyer, was killed outright, and Brown died an hour later in the Langley Field Hospital.

Trans-Atlantic Phone Rate Cut

NEW YORK, May 8. (AP)—A reduction of $15 for the first three minutes and $5 for each additional minute on trans-Atlantic telephone calls was announced today by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

The reduction is effective on the 11th inst. and if service this year is as heavy as last will mean a saving of approximately $450,000 to those who use the transocean service, the company said.

Mexico Faced by Possibility of Rail Strike

MEXICO CITY, May 8. (Exclusive)—Possibility of a strike on the National Railways of Mexico loomed today with announcement that the management will not consider the signature of a collective labor contract, which is one of the principal demands made by the unions.

Javier Sanchez Mejorada, president of the railways, and former Secretary of Communications in the Portes Gil administration, replied to the unions that the board of directors will not authorize signature of the collective contract until the pending Federal labor law is approved by Congress. Influence of the government, it is felt, will be sought to prevent the walkout.

Attending physicians said he probably will die. The wing of his plane struck a tree while he was attempting a landing.

Postmen's Pay Increase Voted

WASHINGTON, May 8. (AP)—An increase in pay for the 900 village mail carriers was voted today by the Senate in passing a bill by Senator George, Democrat, Georgia.

The measure would increase the pay by $200 annually, increasing the minimum from $1150 to $1250 and the maximum from $1350 to $1550.

GROUNDED OIL TANKER ABANDONED

Crew Quits Richfield on Drake's Bay Reef When Explosion Threatens

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8. (AP)—Abandoned by the crew, the Richfield Oil Company tanker Richfield was left tonight to the mercy of the high-running sea on the treacherous Drake's Bay reef thirty-five miles north of here, as darkness defeated efforts of salvagers to get a steel hawser on to the crippled vessel.

Hugging the shore to gain protection from a stiff head wind, the tanker struck a hidden rock, veered around and crippled its rudder on another. Distress signals were sent out as the steamer drifted helplessly inshore and before a tow could arrive the Richfield was fast aground on the dangerous reef.

The patrol cutter Smith of the Coast Guard took off Capt. Henry Lee and the crew of twenty-seven when it was feared the highly combustible cargo of gasoline and oil, valued at $150,000, might explode.

The stern of the vessel lies under water and salvagers expressed little hope that it can be floated.

The vessel left this port for Portland a few hours before grounding.

WASHINGTON, May 8. (AP)—The Postoffice Department announced today the Salt Lake City-Los Angeles air-mail route will be extended to San Diego June 1.

LONG SKIRTS VOTED DOWN

London Business Women Decide to Either Keep 'Em Up or Fall Back on Trousers

LONDON, May 8. (Exclusive)—A group of business women, clerks and stenographers threatened tonight to wear trousers rather than submit to the dictates of fashion and don long dresses. At the end of the conference held in Caxton Hall, Westminster, all 250 present, with the exception of five men and one young stenographer, voted in favor of short skirts for twentieth century wear.

No woman came forward to defend long skirts, and eventually a London art critic, G. S. Dandilands, appeared, in a somewhat embarrassed manner, and addressed the ladies:

"Long skirts have been trumps throughout the whole of history," he said. "It is a question of long skirts or no skirts at all. I would advocate not short skirts, but long skirts or trousers, for if it is comfort you want, you can discard your skirts altogether."

He stumbled down the platform with the deriding cheers of the women ringing in his ears.

Miss Ellen Wilkinson, sprightly member of Parliament, described long skirts as "a cloud on our feminine horizon." She said the ideal dress for the twentieth-century woman is as follows: "Skirts should fall an inch or two below the knees; they should cover the knees when the wearer is sitting down; they should be capable of being worn in busses and should avoid extremes.

"Long skirts," Miss Wilkinson declared, "are not practical. They look perfectly lovely at your looking glass, but before you leave the house you have to hitch them up or tie them around your neck."

Lady Duff-Gordon, famous style expert, suggested six inches below the knee as the ideal length for skirts for day wear.

"I am convinced that trousers will be the next thing," she said.

CENSUS GAIN IN BAY CITY

Unofficial Total 621,762

Increase of 22.75 Per Cent Not Up to Estimate of 700,000 There

Huntington Park's 24,575 Shows Growth Since 1920 of 444.5 Per Cent

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8. (Exclusive)—Complete but unofficial census returns for the city and county of San Francisco, made public today, give a population of 621,762. The count is 115,086 higher than that of 1920, or 22.75 per cent, but it is short by 80,000 or more of the estimated actual population of 700,000. The work of rechecking now is under way.

The largest district increase is the Sunset, south of Golden Gate Park. Present population there is placed at 64,032, against 34,646 ten years ago.

The city and county were divided for the purpose of the enumeration into twelve districts, corresponding to the Assembly districts. Gains were shown in eight and losses in four of the districts. In three of the districts that lost population the decrease is attributed to the encroachment of industrial activity. In the fourth, the Mission district, once the favorite residential section, brunt of the loss is laid to improvement stagnation. The district abounds with flats and homes which have stood for two or more generations and many have moved from it to newer and more modern portions of the city.

HUNTINGTON PARK SHOWS GAIN OF 444.5 PER CENT

Huntington Park has a population of 24,575 under the new 1930 United States census, Census Supervisor De Coudres of Long Beach announced yesterday on completion of its count. This shows Huntington Park to have made a gain of 444.5 per cent, or 20,062 persons, over its population of 4513 at the time of the last census in 1920. Walnut Park, De Coudres announced, was found to have a population of 8553. It was not listed in the 1920 census and so no comparable figures are available.

Supervisor Ballentine of Monrovia announced La Verne's 1930 population as 2975, a gain of 1277, or 75.2 per cent over the 1920 figure of 1698. Forty-eight farms are included in the count. Other results announced by Ballentine show for San Dimas 2087; San Dimas township (which includes San Dimas and part of La Verne,) 3095, including 273 farms; San Jose township (which includes Pomona, Claremont and Big Pines,) 29,048, including 998 farms. Comparable 1920 figures for San Jose township, San Dimas township and San Dimas are not given.

Supervisor Kincaid may delay announcement of Santa Monica's population for a few days as result of a conference with Secretary Cooke of the Santa Monica Chamber of Commerce. Cooke said a large number of Santa Monicans have not been counted and he broadcast an appeal for such to get in touch with Kincaid's office, GLadstone 0700, and ask for enumeration blanks to be filled out. Santa Monica guessers are calculating that Santa Monica will run from 23,000 to 45,000 with the majority placing the figure at 40,000 or more.

OKLAHOMANS MOVING TO CITIES, CENSUS REVEALS

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 8. (AP)—Oklahomans are leaving the smaller towns and villages and moving to cities of more than 10,000 population, partial Federal census reports make certain.

Statistics available from 188 cities and towns of the State show an aggregate gain of 56,911 or 18.3 per cent, despite heavy losses reported by the smaller communities.

Thirty-six of the sixty-six towns of less than 500 population, which already have reported, show an aggregate loss of 1813 or 8.2 per cent.

All cities in the 10,000 or more group reported heavy gains, with not one chalking up a decrease.

SHOWERS END EAST'S HEAT WAVE

More Deaths Reported Before Thunderstorms Start Mercury's Fall

NEW YORK, May 8. (Exclusive) New York's record early spring heat wave now seven days old became a little more bearable this afternoon, when a series of thundershowers dropped the mercury back into the upper 70's—nine or ten degrees below yesterday's sizzling levels. Cooler weather overnight and tomorow was promised.

Various other cities of the East share in the improved conditions—and from the same causes.

Before the intermittent showers, however, the heat had claimed more victims, bringing the total of deaths credited to high temperatures in the East up to twelve. The new victims were residents of Camden, N. J.

A dozen or more prostrations were reported from various points during the morning and early afternoon. The heat wave reached its climax yesterday, when May 7 records were broken throughout the East.

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, May 8. [To the Editor of The Times:] Did you read that Beverly Hills census? For the past year or so every little buffalo wallow that was afflicted with a Chamber of Commerce has claimed that they was "the fastest growing town in the United States." From 674 prolific souls (of which I happen to have been one) in 1920, we now have 17,428, a gain of 2500 per cent, and not a graveyard in the town and the jail is empty. And, incidentally, I never was able to get in this census. I used every known influence but they never come to see us. There must have been thousands of others here just as unimportant, so if they had gotten all of us, why we would have been bigger than New York.

Yours,

WILL.

BLOODY DAY FOR INDIA

Death and Chaos in Sholapur

Many Lose Lives During Battling and Night Fails to Bring Quiet

Cavalry Forces Occupy City But Authorities Demand More Troops

LONDON, May 9. (Friday) (AP)—Unofficial reports reaching here early today say that yesterday's riot at Sholapur greatly exceeded any disturbance since the beginning of the civil disobedience campaign. One dispatch says three policemen were murdered and that their bodies then were soaked in kerosene and burned on a street.

Five others are reported missing, probably murdered, and several more are injured.

The Daily News learned that civilian authorities have all but lost control and are anxiously awaiting arrival of troops.

Reports of casualties among the rioters differ greatly, the highest placing the number of killed at twenty-five and those injured at 100.

At one time, during the height of the rioting, the police were hopelessly outnumbered and withdrew toward headquarters. The mob, composed mostly of millmen, followed with gathering strength and spread terror en route.

The district Courthouse and several police stations were burned, the rioters firing them with kerosene taken from the shops.

MILITARY FORCES MOVE INTO TROUBLE AREA

BOMBAY, May 8. (AP)—Hope of an early end of difficulties with the cohorts of civil disobedience went down in blood and ashes tonight while cavalry forces rode upon Sholapur, where twenty-seven were killed during strife that lasted all day.

Nightfall did not bring quiet to the scene of the most severe clash since the internment of Mahatma Gandhi.

With its lists of dead and probably more than 100 wounded, Sholapur this evening sent out calls for troops and more troops. It was evident that a stubborn encounter still was in progress.

Thirteen European women and children tonight had been evacuated from the city. They were removed to a point of safety said to be Poona, where earlier in the day it had been reported and denied that the Mahatma had been spirited from his internment quarters to a fortress in Purandhar.

MORE TROOPS DEMANDED

The famous Duke of Wellington's West Riding Regiment clanked its way from Ahmednagar this afternoon. Sholapur authorities, however, demanded more troops to stop the chaos which had reigned except for a few hours since last evening. The killing of two policemen, the burning of six police stations and all of Sholapur's liquor stores had created an untenable situation and one against which the city authorities and the reservists were wholly powerless.

Sholapur, an important seat 230 miles southeast of Bombay, was awakened to its peril last evening when the police ban on liquor-shop picketing and mass demonstrations precipitated the struggle. Firearms were brought into use immediately after a sharp clash. Quiet followed in the night. Early today, however, fierce attacks were launched by the natives and the killing began.

DIRE OUTLOOK

The Sholapur outbreak came as a serious blow to the brighter prospects which had been the result of yesterday's comparative calm. It makes the outlook for Saturday, which the Nationalists will celebrate as the anniversary of the outbreak of the Indian mutiny of 1873, decidedly more unpromising.

The Indian Chamber of Commerce, the Bengal National Chamber of Commerce, the Calcutta Iron Merchants' Association and ten other bodies with headquarters in Calcutta have addressed a letter to Viceroy Lord Irwin drawing his attention to the "policy of general terrorism" pursued throughout India by the authorities, urging on behalf of the Indian mercantile community that he should "stop the repression."

SOLDIERS SLAIN BY MOROS

Four Killed and Eighteen Wounded in Clash With Outlaw Forces on Mindanao Island

MANILA, May 8. (AP)—One of the sharpest clashes in years between the Philippine Constabulary and Moro outlaws occurred on the island of Mindanao today, resulting in the death of a constabulary officer and three privates and the wounding of three officers and fifteen privates. The number of Moro casualties has not been determined.

The fighting took place in the mountainous Kawayan district. The size of the rebel force was not known but its ranks included murderers, cattle thieves, robbers and tax dodgers and others sought for law violations, and judged by the nature of its resistance, it is believed to be large. It was intrenched in an old fort.

The wounded constabulary officers included an American, Capt. J. R. Grinstead, commander of troops in Lanao Province on the island. His wound was in the leg, but considered possibly fatal. The officer killed was Lieut. A. C. Maynes, a Filipino. He fell when constabulary troops attacked a fort. Lieut. Garcia, another Filipino officer, was wounded in the head during the attack.

Moro outlaws have long been a source of trouble to the constabulary. Many Moros, who are Mohammedans, have opposed Christian Filipino sovereignty, saying they would acquiesce in foreign domination if ruled by Americans. Other Moros, as represented by their datus, or chieftains, have declared willingness to submit to Filipino rule if certain abuses were removed and if allowed sufficient home rule. Moros have always chafed more or less under taxation and the constabulary has often had to go into the Mindanao and Jolo regions to quell uprisings growing out of objection to taxation and other regulations.

ROAD VICTIMS' AID PROPOSED

Red Cross Will Establish Emergency Stations

Resolution Adopted at Washington Meeting

Date Set for Observing Golden Anniversary

WASHINGTON, May 8. (AP)—The American Red Cross today moved to create a widespread system of emergency first-aid along the major highways of the United States as a means of diminishing the death and suffering caused by automobile accidents.

Adoption of the resolution was almost the final act of the four-day annual meeting of the organization. The proposal is designed not to supplant regular medical aid available for automobile victims, but to "prevent death or further injury to sufferers prior to the arrival of a physician."

Another resolution adopted fixed May 31, 1931, for a nation-wide celebration of the golden anniversary of the American Red Cross.

Characterizing the Junior Red Cross as the world's greatest organization of children, Dr. H. B. Wilson, national director of the American Junior Red Cross, told the convention it is also one of the most potent existing factors in a march toward greater international understanding.

SEATTLE, May 8. (Exclusive)—A tribute to those uncounted thousands of teachers who each year give of their scanty store of time to inculcate in their students a love of patriotism and a reverence for our national origin will open the Pacific Coast finals of the seventh National Oratorical Contest in the Civic Auditorium here tomorrow night.

There, in the presence of a great audience and those seven student orators who seek the Pacific Coast title and the right to join in the national finals at Washington, D. C., on the 24th inst., Justice Beals of the Washington Supreme Court, presiding officer, will thank these high school coaches for their patriotic services. A response to this tribute will be made on behalf of all the Coast coaches by L. O. Raasch, who coached the Washington champion to victory.

ALL CONTESTANTS ARRIVE

With the arrival here late today of Alfred Baughn of Phoenix High School, champion of the contest sponsored in California, Arizona and Nevada by the Los Angeles Times, the roll of contestants was completed. Young Baughn was accompanied here by Gladys Bookman of Phoenix Union High School, his coach. Allan Nichols, contest director of the Los Angeles Times, arrived later in the evening.

Tomorrow morning the six boys and the lone girl in the contest will have their last trials before the microphone which is linked to the battery of loud-speakers necessary in the great auditorium. Young Baughn's voice was tested today, with highly satisfactory results, and he anticipates no disadvantage from this method of delivery.

To attain the Coast championship and the ten weeks' tour of Europe which it carries with it, the youth from Arizona must defeat a brace of contestants who have twice won their State championships and who competed last year at the Pacific Coast finals in the Shrine Auditorium at Los Angeles.

STUMBLING BLOCK

These speakers are Lavon Sorensen, a tall youth from Rexburg, Idaho, who carries the championship of that State, and Fred Moulton of Billings, Mont., champion of his home State. A speaker no less polished but not so experienced is Vernon Withuhn of Seattle, who, though he is in his first year as an orator, has prepared a powerful oration.

Like all the other speakers, young Withuhn must deliver an extemporaneous speech based upon his set oration. This extemporaneous speech is expected to prove a stumbling block to one or more of the speakers. It was brought into play this year by the Los Angeles Times, the Seattle Times and their cosponsors to test the genuine breadth of each speaker's knowledge of the Constitution of the United States, the topic upon which all orations must be based.

The sole champion of the fair sex in the contest here will be Margaret Bairos of Punahou Academy in Honolulu, champion of Hawaii. Miss Bairos is but 15 years of age, but attained her championship by defeating the finest speakers from each of the islands in the Hawaiian chain.

Chief Justice Oliver P. Coshow of the Supreme Court of Oregon heads the quintet of judges. Others include Justices Folland and Millard of the Supreme courts of Utah and Washington, respectively; Judge Franklin Ailshie, former Chief Justice of Utah, and Dr. Alfred Atkinson, president of Montana State College.

PROHIBITION IN CANADA CHURCH AIM

Presbyterians Ask Stricter Laws in Ontario and Approve Border Curb

TORONTO, May 8. (AP)—Declaring the present liquor legislation in Ontario "entirely inadequate," the Presbyterian synod of Toronto and Kington adopted a resolution calling upon the Provincial and Federal governments to take such steps as shall control the liquor traffic with the view to ultimate prohibition.

Objection to the term "prohibition" was voiced by Dr. W. G. Wishart of the University of Toronto, and Rev. John Lennox, of Havelock.

"You will never never get Canadian public opinion to submit to that," said Mr. Lennox. "As soon as you get a club over a man's head and tell him what he must do, he won't do it."

The meeting approved the action of the Federal Parliament in refusing clearances of liquor to countries having prohibitory laws.

DECREASES SHOWN IN YEAR'S LIQUOR PROFITS

REGINA (Sask.) May 8. (AP)—A decrease of $631,186 in Saskatchewan's liquor profits for the year ended March 31, over the previous year is shown in the annual statement today of Howard McConnell, Provincial treasurer. Profits for the year were $2,398,413. Several government stores reported operating at a loss.

(Exclusive)—Armed with engineering charts, climatic data, surveys, statistics and arguments, Northern California's naval dirigible base delegation left for Washington tonight to fight for selection of Sunnyvale, on the peninsula, as the location of the Navy's west coast base, in preference to Camp Kearny, San Diego.

MORE STATES GO 'BONE DRY'

"Digest" Poll Shows Five in Enforcement Column

Repeal Ballots Still Hold Plurality in Nation

NEW YORK, May 8. (Exclusive) Prohibition advocates rallied their forces in this week's returns from the Literary Digest national prohibition poll and added three States to the "bone-dry" list of those giving an absolute majority for continuance and enforcement of present laws. For the first time, according to the tabulations in Saturday's issue of the magazine, the enforcement vote exceeded that of modification; but the repeal ballots still led with more than 40 per cent of the total.

North Carolina, Oklahoma and Tennessee were the three States joining the "bone-dry" group, which already included Kansas and Arkansas. Only three States, Connecticut, New Jersey and Rhode Island, cast a majority vote for repeal, although in New York and Louisiana the repeal vote was 49 per cent of the total.

The total vote tabulated in this week's returns was 4,150,017, almost 500,000 more than in the previous tally two weeks ago.

Enforcement received 1,248,589 votes of this week's total, or 30.09 per cent. This was the first time that enforcement had tallied more than 30 per cent. For modification of the Volstead Act 1,231,849 ballots were marked, or 29.68 per cent. Repeal registered 1,669,579, or 40.23 per cent. The magazine reported that since the first returns there had been no marked change in the ratio of the three groups, but that a general trend toward a drier vote is noted in the later reports.

Kansas continues as the driest State of the forty-eight, while Connecticut maintains its position as the head of the wet States.

Poiret Director Charges Theft in Dodge Case

PARIS, May 8. (Exclusive)—Count Jean Recope, director of Paul Poiret's dressmaking establishment, today filed a complaint against unknown persons for the theft of documents and accounts of Mrs. Robert L. Dodge of Mill Neck, N. Y., who recently was fined $213,000 for smuggling gowns and jewelry into America. The person here who tipped off the authorities is rumored to have obtained $50,000 reward.

An examination of the files at Poiret's revealed that they were broken open in April and the card index statements of Mrs. Dodge's account moved and photographed. The photo copies were produced in New York.

OIL SCION AND BRIDE WILL CRUISE

Nelson A. Rockefeller to Take Wife Around World; Wedding to be June 2

PHILADELPHIA, May 8. (Exclusive)—Long and geographically extensive will be the honeymoon of Miss Mary Todhunter Clark and Nelson A. Rockefeller, it was learned here today. Following the wedding at St. Asaph's Protestant Episcopal Church in Bala on June 2, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Hamilton Clark of Cynwyd and the son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., will start around the world. They will cruise for seven months, with long stops in China and India.

According to information given to fellow-students at Dartmouth, Mr. Rockefeller expects to enter his father's office in Lower Broadway, and to take his bride to a home at Pocantico Hills that will cost his father $75,000.

The romance of Miss Clark and Mr. Rockefeller began in Northeast Harbor, Me., several years ago, when both families were spending the summer there. Mutual interest in sports brought them much together. Miss Clark, graduate of the Fox Croft School in Virginia and holder of a Sorbonne degree, has been active in the Junior League and has been identified with the social-service work which it sponsors.

Nelson Rockefeller has played fullback for two years on the Dartmouth soccer team and has been editor of The Pictorial, a photographic review of college life that appears three times a year.

of the Armour plant and approximately 500 volunteer rescuers toiled with axes, crowbars and every instrument that came to their hands to clear away the wreckage in search of victims. Flood lights were set up to illuminate the scene after dark.

Walter Kline, a foreman in the sausage-making department, was rescued alive from under three tons of debris and taken to a hospital. Jacks were used to lift the debris high enough from his body for workers to reach him.

A railroad switch engine was pressed into service to pull away heavy timbers and blocks of debris. Other cables attached to movable parts of the building were hauled at by squads of men numbering up to 150.

WILD CONFUSION

Within a few minutes after the blast a crowd of 1500 spectators and frantic relatives of persons trapped in the structure milled about the gates of the plant. The scene was one of wild confusion. Firemen, fighting against the strangulating ammonia fumes, sought to clear their way through the mass of debris. Women screaming in the crowd of spectators added to the uproar.

Three firemen were overcome before the fumes cleared away. Others became ill and gas masks were donned.

Officials of the company said the smokehouse was valued at $75,000. The immense size of the timbers hindered the work of clearing the wreckage. The building was of brick construction with joists of 4x12 inches.

FOES OF FARM BOARD ASSAILED

Teague Defends Federal Act in Chain Broadcast

National Chamber Accused of Selfishness

dent of the United States chamber, and long-time close friend and adviser, because of the latter's persistent campaign against the Farm Board. Barnes is one of the country's largest grain operators and has been personally affected, it seems, by the board's activities in the wheat market. For months he has been directing an organized underground attack on the board, which burst into the open at the Chamber of Commerce meeting last week, and resulted in a militant defense of the board by its chairman, Alexander Legge, and Secretary of Agriculture Hyde.

In his speech tonight Commissioner Teague explained that obviously if the farmers are to get any real benefit from the Agricultural Marketing Act it must be at the expense of the middleman, although not necessarily raising prices to the consumers. He declared that the action of the board in going into the wheat and cotton markets "undoubtedly saved a panic in these commodities," which would have cost the farmers millions, and which, if added to the depression caused by the stock market collapse last fall, probably would have cost the country as a whole up in the billions. He said the board acted in a "national emergency," and what it did was proper in the interest of all the people.

ACT JUSTIFIED

"If these efforts to prevent a serious decline in wheat and cotton prices have made any important contribution toward the prevention of a general crisis or panic in this country," he said, "it may be that this alone justifies the Agricultural Marketing Act."

Teague outlined the efforts made by the Farm Board to bring genuine relief to the farmer and the inevitable result that some of its activities would cause criticism through stepping on the toes of business interests accustomed to wringing profits out of agricultural products by buying from the farmers as low as possible and selling to consumers as high as possible.

NINE ENSHRINED IN FAME'S HALL

New York University Scene of Ceremonies

Illustrious Names Comprise Honor List

All Sixty-five Pedestals Now Occupied

NEW YORK, May 8. (AP)—Bronze busts of nine more illustrious Americans were placed in the Hall of Fame at New York University today, filling all of the hall's sixty-five pedestals.

A former President, other statesmen, an inventor, a poet, educator, historian and an author took their places in the colonnade among the fifty-six men and women who had been previously honored.

A large gathering looked on as tributes were paid to these men: James Fenimore Cooper, the romantic author; James Russell Lowell, the poet, Elias Howe, inventor of the sewing machine; George Bancroft, historian, statesman and founder of the Annapolis Naval Academy; Joseph Storey, one-time associate justice of the Supreme Court; John Lothrop Motley, historian; Patrick Henry, the brilliant orator of Virginia; John Quincy Adams, sixth President of the United States, and Horace Mann, educator, as their busts were unveiled, seven of them by direct descendants.

Senator Gillett of Massachusetts, where seven of the men were born; Gov. Pollard of Virginia, William John Cooper, United States Commissioner of Education; John Bassett Moore, member of the Permanent Court of Arbitration; Dr. William Lyon Phelps of Yale, and Prof John Erskine, Columbia University, delivered their tributes. Two others by David Jayne Hill, former Ambassador to Germany, were read.

CURTAIN RUNG DOWN FOR VETERAN ACTOR

Will Cressy

FAVORITE OF VAUDEVILLE SUCCUMBS

Will Cressy, Popular on Stage Many Years, Among First in War Service

ST. PETERSBURG (Fla.) May 8. (AP)—Will Cressy, 66 years of age, veteran actor, died today at his home here.

While entertaining soldiers near the front in the World War he suffered from a gas attack which affected his heart. He had been on the stage most of his life, and was in the original "Old Homestead" company with Denman Thompson.

Mr. Cressy was born in Bradford, N. H., and made his first stage appearance in Norwalk, Ct., in the Frost and Fanhawe Repertoire Company, on September 19, 1889. After six years with "The Old Homestead" he went into vaudeville, usually appearing in an act with Mrs. Cressy.

In this country he was a vaudeville favorite, particularly as a rural character, with his wife, Blanche Dayne. The team of Cressy and Dayne was in the first unit of the Overseas Theater League.

DEFEATED CANDIDATE KILLS SELF

Wealthy Gary (Ind.) Man Fires Bullet Into Brain When Rival Wins Race

GARY (Ind.) May 8. (AP)—William J. Fulton, defeated for renomination as County Commissioner in Lake county at Tuesday's primary election, shot and killed himself at his home today.

Fulton's campaign manager, M. H. Marquardt, was arrested election day on a charge of conspiracy to violate the State election laws in importing five Chicago women to vote at the Gary polls. Marquardt was released under $2000 bond yesterday, part of it furnished by Fulton.

Fulton, a former Mayor of Gary, was 48 years of age.

He was defeated for the Republican renomination as County Commissioner from the First District of Lake county by William H. Olds of Hammond.

Fulton was reputedly wealthy, the head of an oil and gas distributing company in Gary and a real estate operator. He leaves his widow and a son, William, Jr., a student of Purdue University.

In a note written to Mrs. Fulton shortly before he shot himself, the former Mayor disclaimed any knowledge of the election irregularities, over which some authorities believe he became despondent.

Anti-Saloon Leader Before Lobby Committee

Declares Group Not in Touch With President

Expenditure of $273,047 Last Year Explained

WASHINGTON, May 8. (AP)—F. Scott McBride, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, told the Senate lobby committee today that 5 per cent of the activities of his organization are legislative and that neither he nor the organization has any contact with President Hoover.

He added, however, that while the organization did not make recommendations to the President for prohibition appointments, it presented information.

"You say that this man is good and that one bad?" asked Chairman Caraway of the committee.

"Yes," responded McBride.

The Anti-Saloon League superintendent said his organization spent $273,047 last year in advocating support of the prohibition laws.

TO BE CALLED AGAIN

McBride, who succeeded the late Wayne B. Wheeler as head of the dry league two years ago, was not questioned about the recent testimony of Representative Tinkham, Republican, Massachusetts, that the organization and its State subsidiaries had spent $67,565,313 between 1883 and 1926, inclusive.

The committee, however, indicated it will inquire into this later. It directed McBride to submit a list of contributors to the association, and Chairman Caraway announced that a representative of the committee will be sent to Westerville, O., to look over the records and correspondence of the national organization. Receipts, most of which he said were obtained through subscriptions, totaled $269,916. The statement did not show the finances of State organizations.

He submitted a list of the salaries of employees in the Washington office, which aggregated $95,000. He said his own salary is $7500 a year and expenses.

Questioned by Chairman Caraway concerning the methods employed by the organization in advocating support of the prohibition laws, McBride said a four-fold program is followed consisting of education, agitation, law enforcement and legislation.

MOST REPRESENTATIVES DRY

He said the league had not been very active in soliciting the support of members of Congress for dry legislation, explaining that it was "not necessary, since a large majority of Representatives are favorable to prohibition."

Asked by Caraway what action was taken when a prohibition bill is introduced in Congress, the witness explained that the league co-operates with other dry organizations and sends letters to members of Congress outlining their views.

Responding to other questions by the committee, the witness denied the league wrote either the Volstead Act or the Jones law. He said he did not think the league was the "most powerful lobbying organization in Washington."

"I think our work has been effective," he added, "but we haven't had to do much to be effective. The work was done back in the home districts."

McBride told the committee that not as much liquor is being consumed now as before prohibition went into effect. He added this is one of the reasons for the dissatisfaction of the wets.

"This is a fight," he asserted, "between those who want liquor and those who thing it is injurious."

McBride was directed to reappear tomorrow for further questioning.

DRY FOE ATTACKS CARAWAY AND ROBINSON

PITTSBURGH, May 8. (AP)—Henry H. Curran of New York, president of the National Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, at a mass meeting here tonight accused Senator Caraway of Arkansas and Senator Robinson of Indiana with "snooping" in his private letters and with refusing to make public confidential reports "about some of the drinking drys" in Congress.

Curran, who recently appeared before the Senate lobby committee, made the charges in an address given in support of a "wet" Republican ticket, headed by Francis H. Bohlen of Philadelphia as the Senatorial candidate, which the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment is supporting.

Millionaire's Nurse Will be Made His Bride

BRIDGEPORT (Ct.) May 8. (Exclusive)—A 72-year-old manufacturer, worth many millions, and his pretty brunette nurse of 33, today applied for a license to wed.

He is Henry A. Sprague, inventor of a gas meter in universal use and owner of the Sprague Meter Company. He is a widower and a member of one of Yale's most famous classes—that of 1881.

She is Miss Hattie Magness of Forest City, Ark., a World War nurse. Three years ago while Sprague was visiting in Hawaii he became ill and Miss Magness, who was nurse in a Honolulu hospital, took care of him. Since then she has been his constant companion.

House Adopts Bill to Buy Yosemite Land

WASHINGTON, May 8. (AP)—The conference report on the $286,543,000 Interior Department supply bill for the fiscal year 1931 was adopted today by the House. The report still is subject to approval by the Senate.

The report represents an increase of $4,072,000, over the bill passed by the House several months ago. Among the new allotments is $1,750,000 for purchase of lands in national parks, most of which is for thirteen square miles of timber land in Yosemite National Park. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is to contribute funds to cover half the cost of this purchase.

REBELS BEGIN NANKING DRIVE

Northern Military Alliance Battles Nationalists

Steady Streams of Wounded Moving from Front

Chiang's Forces Reported Seriously Menaced

NANKING, May 8. (AP)—Severe fighting took place today, with heavy casualties, as the northern military alliance began its drive toward Nanking, capital of the Nationalist government of China. Five thousand wounded Nationalists arrived at Suckow from the battle fronts and 2000 other wounded are reported on their way to this city. The number of Nationalists killed is withheld by the censor. Northern casualties are unknown.

Directed by Yen Hsi-shan, Governor of Shansi Province and head of the rebel "national" government, and Marshal Feng Yu-hsiang, the northern troops engaged the Nationalist (Nanking) government forces along the railway fifty miles west of Suchow, Kiangsu Province.

SERIOUSLY MENACED

The few details permitted by the censor to go through in dispatches indicate the government forces are seriously menaced by seasoned troops of Yen and Feng, trained in the revolt of last November and December. Facing the foe are the flower of the Nationalist armies.

The rebels met with some success in cutting Nationalist communications with the Nanking capital, as they swung around to the Nationalist rear and cut the railroad fifty miles south of Suchow.

Another major engagement occurred in Western Shantung Province as Shansi rebel troops heavily attacked the Nationalists north of the Kweiteh-Suchow battle front. An attempt seemed to be in progress to envelop the Nationalists in Suchow.

PRESIDENT BLOCKED

Halted by the severed railroad south of Suchow, Chiang Kai-shek, President of the Nationalist government, was unable to proceed farther from Nanking to take personal command of his armies. He was reported at Pengpu.

Today's battle was the first major activity since Yen Hsi-shan, Governor of Shansi Province, announced a month ago that he had been appointed to head a coalition against the Nationalist government at Nanking. Yen declared the objects of the rebellion were to oust Chiang Kai-shek, President of the Nationalist government, because he is a "dictator," and to overthrow the government which Yen charged is corrupt, while its provinces are infested by bandits.

Supported by Feng Yu-hsiang, Yen announced the formation of a new "national" government. Its capital was to be in the old capital city of Peking, renamed by the Nationalist (Nanking) government Peiping.

In English, Peking means "northern capital," while Peiping is "northern peace."

Progress in Banking

California's first iron safe arrived at Santa Barbara in 1846. The first banks were private enterprises for the exchange, transfer or safe-keeping of gold dust . . . Under the primitive conditions of eighty years ago, such banks answered every purpose . . . But Californians soon realized that gold was not their most important asset. . . . As agriculture, commerce, and industry found a place in the new State, a stabilized and efficient banking system was born—a system that has won national recognition and reputation.

The Bank of America—with roots deep in the pioneer past—is a logical result of progress in California. Throughout the State—in 160 business centers—it affords the utmost in modern banking facilities. Each of its half million depositors, from the Oregon line to the Mexican border, enjoys the full protection of its strength—the helpfulness of its unsurpassed ability to serve.

GIANNINI BACKS BRANCH BANKS

Trend from Small to Urban Centers Cited as Need

California Financier Talks to House Committee

Fear of Money Trust Without Foundation, He Asserts

WASHINGTON, May 8. (AP)—Asserting the current trend away from small communities to the urban centers has changed the banking needs of the country, A. P. Giannini, founder of the Bank of Italy and the Trans-america Corporation, joined today in the demand for legislation to permit branch banking on a nation-wide scale.

Taking the stand as one of the last representatives of group and branch banks in the House Banking Committee's financial study, the California financier voiced the opinion that "branch banking is coming and you can't stop it."

"You can't block economic progress, you're against a stone wall," he said, explaining that with the smaller communities "drying up" there is no longer a need for the small unit bank.

"With the farmers driving over paved roads" to the larger cities to do their banking and other business and to go to the theater, he added, the unit country bank is hard put to survive on the business left.

"Why in the world can't we have nation-wide branch banking?" he demanded after pointing out that no restrictions were placed in the way of the development of other industries on a national basis.

He called "ridiculous" the fear that branch banking on a large scale would result in a "money trust," arguing that many different branch systems, with their offices in many sections of the country would spring up if the law permitted.

At the outset he said he would answer any inquiry but could no longer speak for the Bank of Italy or the Trans-america Corporation, the leadership of which he relinquished on his sixtieth birthday, two days ago.

AUSTRIAN DEBT PACT SIGNED BY PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, May 8. (AP)—An agreement under which the Austrian debt to the United States will be funded over a period of forty years was signed today by President Hoover, Secretary Mellon and Minister Prochnik. The agreement, approved by Congress in February, calls for the payment of $24,000,000.

Entire Criminal System Declared Wrong

Hughes Commends Efforts for Improvement

Addresses Made Before Bar Institute

WASHINGTON, May 8. (AP)—An attack by Chairman Wickersham of the Law Enforcement Commission upon the nation's method of keeping criminals, under augmented penalties, in conditions "which cry aloud to high heaven," today marked the opening of the eighth annual meeting of the American Law Institute.

He was followed by Chief Justice Hughes, who commended the judicial fact-finding efforts of the institute. He added that when the information now sought becomes known, "even legislation may become intelligent."

MODEL CODE

More than 600 State chief justices, Federal and State judges, professors of law and lawyers attended the start of the three-day convention. During the afternoon they were received by President Hoover at the White House.

Earlier, the delegates considered a voluminous draft of a model code of criminal procedure, already approved by the institute's council, and awaiting their adoption. Among its recommendations are changes in the methods of determining insanity in criminal cases, and of modifying the necessary unanimous verdicts of juries in other than capital cases.

Chairman Wickersham, speaking as president of the institute, assailed as "fundamentally wrong" the entire method of dealing with criminal offenders in the United States.

He asserted the "present-day practice of endeavoring to prevent crime by augmented penalties" is based upon a "fallacy that has time and again been demonstrated."

PRISON PROBLEM

Assailing prison conditions, Wickersham said, "men and women are being sent to prison—to antiquated, overcrowed, unsanitary and unsafe institutions, under conditions which cry aloud to high heaven for immediate improvement."

"I would not have the construction of new, fairly decent and adequate prisons wait upon the reformation of the penal laws." He continued.

"No problem is perhaps more urgent at this moment than that of the disposition of those unfortunates who have been convicted of crime and sentenced to terms of imprisonment."

Wickersham said he believes the institute's proposed model code of criminal procedure would be "a distinct contribution to the improvement of law enforcement."

HUGHES SPEAKS

Chief Justice Hughes spoke extemporaneously. He said:

"I suppose it is characteristic of our day that the evils that afflict the administration of justice are attacked from so many angles by disciplined forces under high command.

"We are today seeking in many ways an expansion of knowledge with respect to the actual working of the mechanism of justice. Even law professors are looking for facts. The survey is being made not in a sporadic but a scientific manner. I hail all those efforts."

Mr. Hughes earlier paid tribute to the late William Howard Taft, whose place on the bench he assumed.

Two Boys Drown and Third Saved in Lake Tragedy

GARY (Ind.) May 8. (AP)—Three boys were swept out into Lake Michigan on a raft last night, and only one was clinging to the frail craft today when coast guardsmen rescued him after an all-night session.

The two other lads are missing. One had attempted to swim back to shore and the other was washed overboard and drowned.

The survivor is Peter Yurrich, 14 years of age, who grimly held on to the derelict raft through thirteen hours. The other boys were John Kordich, 13, and Michael Murdey, 14.

Bryan's Kin in Congress Race

MINNEAPOLIS, May 8. (AP)—Silas M. Bryan, Minneapolis attorney and a member of the famous Bryan family, today announced his candidacy for Congress from the fifth Minnesota district and declared he favors resubmission of the Eighteenth Amendment to the States.

Mr. Bryan, a nephew of the late William Jennings Bryan and a son of former Gov. W. Bryan of Nebraska, denied he is "wet," but said he favors some plan to settle the prohibition question.

ILLINOIS SLAYER WINS RESPITE FROM DEATH

CHICAGO, May 8. CHICAGO MALT STORE CLOSED

Action Taken Under Recent Home-Brew Ruling

Proprietors Face Jail if Contraband Found

CHICAGO, May 8. (Exclusive)—The government's war against home brewers reached Chicago today when eight prohibition agents armed with a warrant charging the illegal sale of malt, hops, hose, bottles and caps filed into Joe Grein's "hop" shop in the downtown district and took over the place in the name of the United States government.

Simultaneously an announcement came from Prohibition Administrator Yellowly that the campaign against home brewing in Chicago has begun in earnest and that the raiding of this large establishment is the first step in that direction. This, the first raid following the Supreme Court decision upholding the seizure of bottles, barrels, malt, hops and such was regarded as a test case, but Mr. Yellowly disagreed.

"The government doesn't need a test case," he said. "We know what we can do and we are going to put an end to home brewing at the source."

The raid was quite a polite and casual affair. Ray Brown led his fellow-agents into the place, ordered the doors locked so that neither customers nor merchandise could leave the place and read his long warrant to Joe Pahls, Grein's partner.

The action brought against the shop was both civil and criminal. The doors will be closed until an equity hearing is held and a Federal judge can examine an inventory of the stock. If any of the goods are found to be contraband under the new decision, Grein will be charged with a misdemeanor and subject to a sentence of not more than one year in jail and a fine of not more than $1000.

FIVE MORE OF TORNADO INJURED DIE

Deaths from Storms in Texas Brought to Total of Seventy-five

DALLAS (Tex.) May 8. (AP)—The deaths of five injured today brought the total dead in the tornadoes that swept sections of Central and South Texas Tuesday to seventy-five. A number of other injured were not expected to recover.

The deaths were at Hillsboro, bringing the fatalities in Hill county to sixteen, and near Runge, where the death list was increased from twenty-six to twenty-eight.

Work of rehabilitating the tornado-swept sections and providing for the sufferers was progressing today under the supervision of State, county and Red Cross officials.

Funeral services were held for most of the victims of Tuesday's series of twisters today. A mass funeral was held for a number of those killed at Frost, the hardest-hit of the towns struck.

MORNING SCHOOL ONLY, FRENCH DOCTOR'S PLEA

[Copyright, 1930, by the New York Times]

PARIS, May 8. (Exclusive)—Children should attend school only in the morning, in the view of Dr. George Bertier, a French authority on child training, as expressed in a paper read before the French Academy of Medicine.

All lessons, Dr. Bertier said, should be completed in the morning while the child's mind is fresh and receptive. To try to teach them after lunch is simply a waste of time and bad for the children's health, he asserted. The afternoon should be devoted to drawing and practical work and exercises, in his opinion.

There is too much cramming in French schools, Dr. Bertier said, and the opinion of the Academy of Medicine supported his contention that doctors should be consulted in planning school curricula.

No classes, Dr. Bertier recommended, should exceed twenty-five pupils and abnormal and inept pupils should always be weeded out for special treatment.

EGYPTIAN PACT DICKERING FAILS

Negotiations at London for Treaty Collapse

Attitude on Sudan Said to be Cause of Split

LONDON, May 8. (AP) — Anglo-Egyptian negotiations for a treaty collapsed today.

While no official communique was issued, it was authoritatively stated that the rupture took place over Egypt's claims regarding the Sudan.

Nahas Pasha, the Egyptian Premier, demanded that the whole Sudan be recognized as Egyptian territory, to be administered jointly by Egypt and Great Britain. Arthur Henderson, the British Foreign Secretary, refused to concede this.

When it was found that an agreement was impossible Mr. Henderson told the conferees that the greater part of the British public would be very sorry that a settlement had not been reached. Nahas Pasha replied that the Egyptian public also would be grieved because there is nothing the Egyptians want more than to be on good terms with the British.

Mr. Henderson said he wishes it to be understood that the door must still be open and that if either side thinks better of the situation the treaty is still there to be considered afresh.

Why a prevalent "after 40 ailment" robs 6 out of 10 of success and health. Many needlessly so.

THE average man's most productive years are between 40 and 50. During this span he "cashes in" on the preparation years preceeding. Chart the income curve of the man who has properly prepared in earlier years, and its biggest upward curve begins at 40.

But...statistics prove this life's most tragic paradox. Over half of those equipped to achieve success, fail because of health breakdown. The ten most productive years lost!

Doctors trace the cause, in many cases, to the most prevalent after 40 ailment...kidney breakdown. 6 out of 10 men and women are affected. Caused, they say, by overwork of these vital organs. MEXICO REVISES LAND POLICIES

Government Tracts Opened to Homesteaders

Ortiz Rubio Makes Good on Campaign Pledges

Move Expected to Placate All Property Owners

MEXICO CITY, May 8. (Exclusive)—A new policy calling for the homesteading of public lands as has been done in the United States and Canada, which it is felt will lessen the seizures of large estates for the small farmer is made effective in Mexico with the issuance of a decree by President Ortiz Rubio and publication of the decree in the official gazette.

While nothing is said of revocation of Mexico's old agrarian policy of expropriation of lands which has caused protests among Mexican and foreign landowners, the new decree is seen to be in accordance with the President's precampaign promises to distribute lands among small farmers, but to seize none from owners without first paying for them.

HOMESTEAD RIGHTS

The new policy gives all of Mexico's small farmers the right to homestead public lands under rental contracts for five years, the lessees acquiring title to the lands after the five-year period, if conditions have been properly met. The size of the grants is to be regulated according to the sustenance requirements of the lessee and his family. It is stipulated the lessee and family must personally cultivate the land. Only persons with capital not greater than 5000 pesos are eligible for grants.

All of Mexico's public lands except forest preserves and the basin of Lake Texcoco near Mexico City are to be open for homesteading. The Presidential decree specifies homesteaders must be Mexican citizens at least 18 years of age. Rental contracts call for uninterrupted cultivation for five years, rent to be paid annually in advance. Homesteaders must use lands for the purpose of agriculture, cattle raising or other agricultural endeavors, excluding cultivation of plants used for manufacture of alcoholic liquors and cultivation of poison or narcotic-producing plants.

LANDS TO REVERT

If a homesteader forfeits his right to lands because of noncompliance with the regulations, the lands, together with any improvements made by the lessee, revert to the nation.

The amount of rent is to be fixed in each case by the Ministry of Agriculture.

President Ortiz Rubio recently instructed all State and Territorial governors to submit reports of national lands within their jurisdiction, together with description of the lands. It is felt that the new homesteading policy will do away with complaints that have been made that, while large productive holdings were being broken up and parceled out to small farmers, millions of acres of good land in many parts of the republic were lying idle.

MAN EXPECTS FORTUNE IN "NO MAN'S OIL LAND"

OKLAHOMA CITY (Okla.) May 8. (AP)—Sandwiched in the heart of one of the richest petroleum areas in the world, an unclaimed two-acre plant in the Oklahoma City oil field has been staked out by an ex-service man who stands to make a fortune if the government grants him the right of homestead.

The modern pioneer, who discovered the tract that was missed by government surveyors in 1870 and since has been "no man's land," is Forest Parrot, Oklahoma City automobile dealer and World War veteran.

As in the covered wagon days of 1889, when homesteaders made a run for land in Oklahoma, Parrot dashed to the long-ignored plat after research among the records of the register of deeds here had revealed the precious secret to him. He drove down his pegs and hurried back to file a homestead claim and assert priority as an ex-service man.

Notice was given to the government he has taken actual possession of the land and has started improvements in conformity with the homestead law.

EVANGELIST DEFENDANT IN NEW SUIT

Mrs. McPherson and Attorney Ormsby Named in Film Contract Action

OAKLAND, May 8. (AP)—Suit was filed in Superior Court here today by J. Ray Stewart, film actor and director, asking that Aimee Semple McPherson and Cromwell Ormsby, her former attorney, be made to settle their differences and fulfill a contract calling for the starring of the evangelist in a talking picture depicting her life.

The complaint asserts Ormsby, under indictment here on bribery charges involving the purported protection of Alameda county gambling and bootlegging resorts, made the contract with Stewart as the evangelist's attorney. Later, Stewart sets forth, the defendants dissolved business relations and on February 4, last, Mrs. McPherson repudiated the contract and denied claims of all involved.

Stewart estimates profits of the proposed film at between "$3,000,000 and $5,000,000."

Stewart declares in the complaint that half of the profits of the picture were to be split between Mrs. McPherson and Ormsby and the other 50 per cent between himself and financial backers.

HARBOR BILL ENACTMENT UNCERTAIN

Johnson Says Compromise on Disputed Parts Found to be Impossible

WASHINGTON, May 8. (AP)—Chairman Johnson said, after an executive session of the Senate Commerce Committee today, that enactment of the House rivers and harbors bill at this session appeared doubtful.

The Californian said he could give no indication when the bill might be reported to the Senate. He called the committee together "in an effort to reach some compromise on disputed sections," he said, but this was found impossible.

After hearing Senator Walsh, Democrat, of Montana, oppose a provision for acquisition of the Erie Canal project by the Federal government, the committee agreed to hear further testimony on this project by Senator Copeland, Democrat, of New York.

ACTION ON R.C.A. SEEN BY COUZENS

Senator Says Suit Will be Begun in Few Days by Justice Department

WASHINGTON, May 8. (AP)—Assurance that the Justice Department will institute suit against the Radio Corporation of America "within the next several days" was voiced tonight by Senator Couzens, Republican, Michigan, chairman of the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee.

The committee, in executive session, was informed in a letter from John Lord O'Brian, special assistant to the Attorney General, of the status of department investigation contemplating action against the corporation.

Senator Couzens said, however, that he was not informed whether the suit will involve the corporation's pending unification of its Radio holdings with those of Westinghouse and General Electric, or whether it will involve action against R.C.A. in connection with its own radio patent holdings.

YOUTHS REMAIN BOYISH LONGER

Grandfather Matured at Earlier Age, Says Savant

Mental Hygiene Problems Discussed at Congress

Treatment of Bright Child Presents Difficulties

WASHINGTON, May 8. (AP)—In point of maturity and responsibility, says Dr. S. M. Gruenberg of Columbia University, the modern youth does not compare favorably with his grandfather when the latter was young.

Addressing the International Congress on Mental Hygiene, Dr. Gruenberg today said that the youth of today is "appallingly unaware of alternatives" and "almost totally innocent in the making of choices."

The problem, he continued, is to discover a technique whereby the adolescent may be projected into a situation where the stakes are real and the issue worthy of concern.

The maturity process of the modern child, in his opinion, is likely to be delayed by the lengthening of the period of schooling with the generally consequent freedom from economic obligation.

YOUTH OF TODAY FRANK

Dr. Arthur H. Ruggles of Yale University said the youth of today is "open, frank, and eager to put his cards on the table." It is difficult, he pointed out, to find enough hours to devote to the problems young men bring to the college mental hygienists.

There have been in the past, he said, many graduates from colleges without any knowledge as to what the world is about and without any understanding of their own potentialities. "If mental hygiene in college," he said, "were to do nothing but give such individuals a greater understanding of their own inhibitions and to provide them with the tools of insight, emotional stability, imagination, and the courage to venture, it would make a worthwhile contribution."

GENIUS REAL PROBLEM

In treating of the child of superior intelligence as a special problem, Dr. Leta S. Hollingworth of Columbia University explained that when he drifts in school unrecognized, his "abilities are never genuinely challenged and he receives daily practice in habits of idleness and day-dreaming." On the other hand, it was pointed out, if he is accelerated in the grade so that he is able to function intellectually with real interest, he will be misplaced in important respects.

SUFFRAGIST OF JAPAN SPEAKS

Mrs. Tsune Gauntlett, Head of Organization, Heard

Also W.C.T.U. National Leader in Her Country

World Peace Aims of Nation Told at Glendale

GLENDALE, May 8.—Japan's aims today are set toward the promotion of world peace and the establishment of the national industrial situation on a sound basis, with thoughts of war and conquest holding absolutely no place in the national consideration. This is the statement of Mrs. Tsune Gauntlett, president of Japan's National Woman's Suffrage organization, who is in Glendale today to deliver an address before the members of the First Methodist Church and another address at the Glendale High School later in the week.

Mrs. Gauntlett is also a director of the Japanese Peace League, vice-president of the Japanese National W.C.T.U., and one of the delegates who attended the conference held in Washington in January of this year to discuss the cause and cure for war.

From Washington Mrs. Gauntlett went to London to present to the envoys of the five participating powers the petitions of the women of the United States, Japan, Great Britain and France urging the delegates to the conference to lay the foundation for the establishment of a permanent world peace. When the naval conference was called, the executive officers of the Japanese W. C. T. U. circulated petitions to be presented at the conference, and within twenty days they had secured the signatures of 180,000 persons, she said.

In London they were received by Premier Ramsay MacDonald in St. James's Palace, the British Premier expressing his appreciation of the work that women of the world are carrying on to end war and to bring peace.

"The women of Japan, even though they have not yet been granted the franchise, nevertheless exercise a great deal of influence on the national life, and the recommendations of organizations such as those with which I am associated are always seriously considered by the Japanese officials," Mrs. Gauntlett said.

"We are working steadily toward the day when we will stand on an equality with our American sisters in voting power, and in the meantime we are striving by every means in our power to promote world peace."

In the present industrial depression there, she pointed out, the women of Japan are seeking by rigid economy and by example to restore prosperity to their country.

New Gas Rates in Effect Now

REDLANDS, May 8. — The new schedule of gas rates went into effect today, it was announced by Hugo Tieck, manager for the Redlands district of the Southern California Gas Company. All meters read on the 7th inst. and after will be charged at the same rate as that charged in San Bernardino, Colton and Riverside, representing a material reduction as compared with the former schedule.

Efforts to get Redlands on a parity as to gas rates with other cities have been under way for many months. Allen Wheaton, former Mayor, during his administration had been the persistent champion of the cause, and succeeded in having the new charges established as his term of office was completed.

Consumers here pay annually approximately $218,000 for gas, and the saving will be approximately $20,000 to them, according to Wheaton.

FRIENDLY CALL ENDS IN BANDITRY ARREST

SANTA BARBARA, May 8.—Because he stopped in a house to talk to an acquaintance H. E. Christian of Ventura is under arrest for the robbery of Lewis Turner, a sailor, who asserted he was robbed of $180 after bumming a ride on the Coast Highway.

Turner says he caught a ride with a stranger near Ventura. They stopped in a house in Santa Barbara and then continued north. Near Naples Turner said the owner of the car hit him over the head with an iron pipe and took his bank roll away from him.

Undersheriff Jack Ross, assigned to the case, found that Christian is thought to be the man who stopped in the house with the sailor. He was arrested in Ventura and is being held awaiting identification by Turner.

LIONS AND WIVES IN DAY OF FESTIVITIES

INGLEWOOD, May 8.—A day of festivities for the Inglewood Lions Club occurred here yesterday when the members and their wives assembled at the Pickwick Nite Coach factory and boarded one of the giant night coaches for a tour of the coast line.

Stops were made at scenic points and pictures taken showing the group, which included, besides the Lions and their wives, many past members of the club and their wives, and a company of entertainers.

At the conclusion of the trip the party repaired to the Pickwick factory where a chicken dinner was served and a program including music and speaking was given.

Harry James, noted English wit, and Mrs. James contributed delightfully to the entertainment with humorous sketches. Music by the Ross sisters and Karlin Carlson completed the program. Ralph F. Lamb was in charge of the program and Ernest W. Gould, president of the club, presided at the dinner.

DELAYED LAUNCHING HELD

Valencia, Two Years on Ways Due to Litigation, at Last Hits Water and Evades Attachment

NEWPORT BEACH, May 8.—The Valencia, 134-foot Diesel-powered passenger boat, for two years on the ways of Thomas Broadway here, and because of the litigation which featured its construction known as "Burge's Folly," was in the water today, much to the surprise of Broadway, the man who supervised its construction.

Despite a last-minute attempt on the part of Judge C. B. Diehl, attorney for Broadway, to place an attachment on the much-plastered side of the Valencia, workmen employed by the Burge Navigation Company slid the $200,000 boat into the water last night and today it was expected that the Valencia would leave Newport Beach for San Pedro, where it will be fitted up for a run between Los Angeles, San Diego and Ensenada, as Burge originally planned.

Soon after the keel was laid trouble began for Burge and the Valencia. Dorothy Bell Burge, his youthful wife, complained that the former Santa Ana capitalist gave the boat more attention than he did her.

She charged further in her divorce hearing that he continually pored over the plans for the boat when he should have been entertaining her.

With the drain on his estate caused by the divorce settlement, Burge began to have serious difficulty with his financial obligations on the boat. At one time he and Broadway engaged in a legal battle as to whether planking should be put on the vessel, preparatory to its launching. That was months ago. Burge was recently haled into court in Santa Ana under a supplementary proceeding and flipped a 5-cent piece from his pocket. "That's my last nickel," he said.

His friends say that with the Valencia in the water, the tide of financial affairs has turned for him and that he may recoup much of his lost fortune through its operation. He is president of the Burge Navigation Company.

Huge Mountain Lion Killed By State Hunter

REDLANDS, May 8.—Missing Two Toes, a mammoth male mountain lion long sought by hunter and trapper, yesterday made his last kill.

Shortly after the big killer had slain a deer, his traces were discovered by J. L. Brown of Big Meadows, who got in touch with C. W. Ledshaw, a State hunter, who, with his dogs, has been hunting in the San Bernardino Mountains and and has been active in the vicinity of Holcomb Creek for two weeks.

A chase of several hours, in the course of which the lion made use of every ruse known to hunted animals, resulted in the treeing of the big beast by the dogs near the mouth of Holcomb Creek about one mile from Big Meadows.

Just before Ledshaw arrived on the scene with his rifle, the lion, contrary to the usual thing, leaped down from the tree and made his last stand against dog and man on the ground.

The lion measured seven feet, two inches from tip to tip, and weighed 140 pounds. His carcass was brought to San Bernardino yesterday afternoon.

Missing Two Toes received his nickname from the fact that he lost two of the toes from a front foot two years ago when he made his escape from a trap which had been set by Thomas Shannon, a mountain hunter.

After the dinner was over the host and hostess and the two guests went for a jaunt in the plane over the valley area.

CROSSING AT ARCHES FURTHERED

State Will Share Third of Cost for Separation of Grade at Busy Point

SANTA ANA, May 8.—Interesting thousands of motorists throughout Southern California, a telegram was received here today by J. P. Baumgartner, member of the State Highway Commission, announcing the decision of the State to share one-third of the cost of the proposed separation of crossings at what is known as the Arches, at the entrance to Newport Beach. The total cost of the project is estimated at $190,000.

Under the financing plan as advanced, the remaining two-thirds of the cost would be borne equally by the city of Newport Beach, already committed to the proposal, and by Orange county.

The telegram concerning the State decision was sent from Sacramento by B. B. Meek, director of public works. In addition to the State's participation to the extent of a third of the cost, it will pay $10,000 incident to the expense of obtaining a clearance of the Southern Pacific's overhead crossing. Because of the existence of this crossing the railroad will not be called upon to bear any of the expense.

Plans for the work have been in existence for some time. Roughly, they call for the construction of a viaduct, with the Ocean Boulevard passing over the county road or vice versa. Construction of the separated crossings has long been urged as a means of preventing congestion of traffic on holidays, when at times literally hundreds of automobiles are delayed for long periods.

Suit Brings Up Moot Point in Business Ethics

SANTA BARBARA, May 8.—Whether an employee on a delivery service has the right to use his knowledge of the names and addresses of the customers of his firm to solicit business for another concern is to be tested in Superior Court. The Golden State Milk Company yesterday filed suit against Ray Jones, a former employee, for an immediate, temporary, and permanent restrainiinig order to prevent him from soliciting business from his old customers for his new firm.

It is contended in the suit that the cash retrn from Jones's downtown district since he left the company's employ two months ago has fallen from $356.79 to $280.50 a month. Damages of $2000 is asked in the suit and it is claimed another employee of the Golden State also turned over a list of customers to Jones. The company asserts that its list of customers, including those added by Jones during his employ, is a trade secret.

RAMONA PAGEANT REPEATED

Record Audiences Expected There

Argument Rages Between Herder and Overseer

Edward Poorman as the Old Overseer of the Camulos Rancho, and Archie O'Loan as the Herder Captain, in a stormy scene from the Ramona Pageant at Hemet.

HEMET, May 8.—Preparations are being made to accommodate a record throng at performances of the Ramona Pageant here Saturday and Sunday afternoons in view of cancellation of last week-end's presentations on account of the rain.

Edward Poorman, president and manager of the pageant association, states that all of the principal players have been signed up for the additional performances scheduled for the afternoons of the 17th and 18th inst. The pageant originally was programmed to close this week-end, and it was necessary for Herbert Heyes, portraying the hero, Alessandro, to cancel an eastern tour to play the extended dates.

Under the supervision of Phil Whiting, the director, the entire cast of the spectacular dramatization of Helen Hunt Jackson's famed novel, "Ramona," are holding intensive rehearsals in the Ramona Bowl to insure perfect presentations for the anticipated throngs.

Reservations for the performances of this week-end and the 17th and 18th inst. may be made in Los Angeles at the Owl Drug Store, Sixth and Broadway, principal department and music stores, and at branch offices of the Mitchell agency throughout Southern California. Seats for the canceled performances may be exchanged for those on any of the four forthcoming presentations or the purchase price will be refunded, Poorman states.

Prentice Given Sentence, but Appeal Looms

VENTURA, May 8.—Milton W. Prentice, 18-year-old ranch hand, who pleaded guilty to the fatal shooting of Steve Semerenko, fisherman-sailor, February 23, at San Nicholas Island, today was sentenced to San Quentin for from five years to life by Superior Judge Edward Henderson.

Immediately after the sentencing Merle J. Rogers, attorney for Prentice, declared he would appeal the judgment to the District Court of Appeals on the grounds that the Ventura Superior Court did not have jurisdiction in the case.

The sentence handed down by Judge Henderson carried with it his recommendation that Prentice be given the minimum prison term. Prentice was sentenced to the penitentiary for the "term prescribed by law," which is five years to life on Prentice's charge of second-degree murder.

Rogers told the court that he will file a certificate of probable cause delaying Prentice's transportation to the State institution, and also a writ of habeas corpus testing the trial court's jurisdiction.

Prentice will remain in the County Jail until the legal matters are disposed of.

WEST'S FINE ROADS MAKE GOING GOOD

OWENSMOUTH, May 8.—The continual telling of the fine roads in the West should furnish an incentive to other parts of the United States to "pep up" on their highway building. On the last day of her trip from here to Wymore, Neb., Mrs. Alice Fink and her son Irvine drove 745 miles. The two have just returned here. L. B. Hankins, another resident of this section who has recently returned from a motor trip in the South, says there are more miles of concrete in San Fernando Valley than there are in the entire State of Texas.

ELIGIBILITY RULING IN CASE MADE

Sam B. French Held Not Resident of Coronado, So Can't be Councilman

SAN DIEGO, May 8.—Sam B. French was not a resident of Coronado and, therefore, could not legally be a candidate for election to the Coronado City Council, Superior Judge Charles C. Haines ruled today. The court's ruling settled the issue of eligibility which had been brought up by Michael Morley, a resident of the transbay city. Morley had instituted his contest against both French on grounds of residence, and Fellows Jones, rival candidate to French. A majority of votes was reported cast for French in the municipal election last month. Subsequent to filing of the contest in Superior Court French resigned. The Council appointed A. H. S. Black to fill the vacancy. The legal contest as to Jones's candidacy was dismissed before Judge Haines but status of this candidate was not settled by the court, which was concerned solely with eligibility of French. This issue settled against French, the status of Black and of Jones, rival candidate, was expected to become another issue.

Motion Under Consideration in Edison Action

VENTURA, May 8.—Motion to strike out two of the three causes of action in the five consolidated damage suits against the Southern California Edison Company for the Sulphur Mountain fire of September 16, was made today by attorneys for the defense, and the motion was submitted to Superior Judge Henderson for consideration.

The trial of the five cases brought by W. C. Harvey, Edith W. Hoffman, Hobson Brothers Packing Company, Gosnell Company and Thomas McQuire, and which ask for a total of $46,700 in damages resulting from the fire asserted to have been started by negligence of the power corporation, went into its third day this morning before a jury of eleven men and one woman.

In event the motion of the defense is granted, the plaintiffs will have to choose which cause of action they will try. The three actions cover origin of the fire, asserted negligence on the part of the Edison company, and asserted poorly constructed electric power lines.

Highway Opens Next Saturday

AZUSA, May 8.—Formal opening and dedication of Foothill Boulevard, improved and widened within the city limits, will be held here Saturday with prominent officials participating in the ceremonies.

Following the dedication ceremonies, the day will be given over to sport events and contests.

The boulevard project, which includes widening of the thoroughfare from Soldano avenue on the east to the westerly city limits, to a width of seventy-six feet, and the installation of ornamental lights and sidewalks, approximates an expenditure of $260,000, according to official figures. This improvement, along with the widening of the San Gabriel River bridge to conform with the width of the new highway, a project now under way, represent two of the largest road improvements in the east end of the valley.

Organizations sponsoring the boulevard dedication are the newly formed Azusa Merchants' Association, American Legion and Chamber of Commerce.

GAS STATION MAN HELD

Tom McGuire of Corona Arrested on Statutory Charge; Also Facing Extortion Complaint

RIVERSIDE, May 8.—Held under $5000 cash bond, Tom McGuire, 40-year-old operator of a Sixth-street service station at Corona, was arrested yesterday by Albert L. Kelly, District Attorney's investigator, on serious charges made by an 11-year-old girl. The child resided with the McGuire family for a time, it is stated.

The girl was taken in charge by the county juvenile authorities and is being cared for at the county detention home at Arlington pending outcome of the charges against the service-station operator. McGuire is married and living with his wife, according to the authorities. He was out of jail awaiting trial for extortion and assault with a deadly weapon in connection with an asserted bold halting of a Long Beach Sunday-school party recently in Santa Ana Canyon.

The service-station operator was free today on $5000 bail. The warrant was issued through the Riverside Township Court and it is probable the case will be returned there for the preliminaries.

McGuire and another defendant, Special Officer Northcliffe of Santa Ana Canyon, are awaiting trial on the extortion and assault with a deadly weapon charges. They grew out of an incident which occurred two or three weeks ago when a boy, a member of a Long Beach Sunday-school party, passing through Corona, stopped at McGuire's station and bargained for an inner tube for the motorcycle he was riding, along with a truckload of other class members.

The youth picked out one and was to pay 50 cents for it. Before he paid the money, however, he attached the air hose to it and after a quantity of air had inflated the tube it burst. The boy then refused to pay for it and went across the street and purchased a tube from another station. Angered, McGuire is said to have telephoned to Northcliffe in the Santa Ana Canyon to stop the truck and motorcycle, which pulled out of Corona before he came to a decision to act. Northcliffe, uninformed as to the details of the incident other than what he was told by McGuire, halted the party and refused to let them go until they paid the 50 cents. Members of the party reported he drew a gun on them.

The woman in charge of the party returned here the next day and swore to a complaint against the pair, and they were taken into the Corona justice court for hearing.

COUNTY AND CITY SEEK POWER BID

San Diego Committee to Decide Upon Amount from Boulder Dam Needed

SAN DIEGO, May 8.—Boulder Dam power for both the city and county will be asked of the Interior Department, according to action of a conference between the City Council and Board of Supervisors. The conference appointed a committee to determine the amount and arrange the details. This committee includes Councilman E. H. Dowell, Supervisor E. F. Hastings, Hydraulic Engineer H. N. Savage and former Mayor John L. Bacon. The latter consented to act as adviser to the committee. He is president of the California-Colorado River Commission.

The committee is to report to a joint session of the Council and Supervisors next Monday.

Following report of the committee, the Council and Supervisors will forward to Washington a request for the amount of power decided by the committee. All requests for power must be in the hands of the Secretary of the Interior by the 15th inst., it was stated at the conference yesterday.

The committee was asked to have the necessary application forms made out by Monday for passage by the Council and Supervisors. After the application is made, the city and county will have until next April to enter into a binding contract for the power with the government.

Ventura Legion Given Site for New Clubhouse

VENTURA, May 8. — G. Ferro, local business man, rancher and former Councilman, presented last night to the local American Legion post a site on Poli street for the proposed Legion clubhouse.

The lot, 70x270 feet on the north side of Poli street near Palm, was accepted by the post with thanks. Patriotic motives and an appreciation of the work that the Legion is doing inspired the gift, Ferro said.

Finances for building the new headquarters started coming in today with a deposit of $151.27. Further plans for raising money to build a clubhouse are now being drawn by a special committee. According to terms of the gift, the property must be built on within two years.

Whittier Lions Hear Governor

WHITTIER, May 8.—Gov. Young today visited here and spoke before two groups of citizens.

His first address was given at the college assembly at 11 a.m. and was followed by a luncheon speech at the William Penn Hotel before the Lions Club.

Gov. Young spoke on "California State Finances and What the State Gets for Its Money." He gave a summary of the budgeted revenues for the eight fiscal years ending June 30, 1931. He also gave the budgeted expenditures.

He gave a brief history of the budget system in the State. "Prior to 1913," said he, "the State had no budget system; there was a competitive scramble for appropriations before the finance committees of the Legislature."

The Governor distributed printed leaflets showing the highway budget, the educational budget and the general budget and a tentative ten-year building program was presented.

He took occasion to refer to the work of the Whittier State School and was generous in his praise of the system which was inaugurated by the late Fred Nelles and was successfully carried on by his successor, the incumbent, K. J. Scudder.

ENCINO, May 8. — P. B. Anspacher of North Los Angeles yesterday while driving along Ventura Boulevard near the Adohr Stock Farms had the windshield of his automobile broken by a large deer that had strayed down from the Encino foothills and got mixed up in the traffic. The deer fell to the pavement following the collision but soon scrambled up again and ran back to the foothills two miles distant.

Arcadia Mayor in Outline of Harmony Plan

ARCADIA, May 8.—Setting forth a new ruling whereby the various city departments from now on, he hopes, will be managed on a more efficient scale, Mayor John M. Walshe announced before the City Council last night that harmony must exist if efficiency in city affairs is achieved.

"From now on the heads of the various departments are in full charge of their respective staffs and if any member has a grievance the complaint must be registered with their executive head," Mayor Walshe declared. "Providing the complainant believes that he did not receive an impartial hearing with the department head he is then privileged to take his complaint to the Council committee," he stated.

"In the past, if a member of any department was dissatisfied and wished to make a complaint, he ignored the supposed head of the department and took the grievance to the Council, thus bringing about dissension difficult to solve for the best interests of all involved," Walshe said.

"I, as Mayor of Arcadia, want all city business transacted by efficient department executives and staffs and this cannot be achieved if department heads are given no authority to transact their own business," was a part of the vehement declaration of the Mayor.

EPISCOPALIANS HONOR WOMEN

Steps Taken to Give Them Executive Posts

Coast Synod at Bay City to End Tomorrow

Great Church Need Told by Bishop Remington

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8. (Exclusive)—Preliminary steps were taken today to give women a place in the executive activities of Episcopal churches on the Pacific Coast, an action which, if approved tomorrow by the twelfth annual synod of the Province of the Pacific, will mark a pioneering step in the affairs of that church. Rt. Rev. Edward Lambe Parsons, bishop of the California diocese, introduced an amendment to existing ordinances which would add three women to the provincial council.

Heated discussion greeted the proposal, its advocates and opponents swinging swiftly into line. The matter eventually was referred back to the committee on ordinances, where it is scheduled for hearing tomorrow, with subsequent submission to the entire gathering for ultimate action.

F. M. Lee of San Francisco was elected treasurer of the province and the following were named to the council for three years each: Rt. Rev. Walter Mitchell, bishop of Arizona; Rev. George F. Weld, Santa Barbara, and W. A. Monten of Los Angeles.

A joint session of the synod, women's auxiliary and other participating organizations to study and discuss missionary work in foreign fields was addressed by Bishop William P. Remington of Eastern Oregon. He described one of the greatest needs of the church today as a new array of human stock with the blood of pioneers in their veins; men and women who will build and who can re-create in the minds of the modern "such a portrait of the Christ as will command the attention of a materialistic age."

The church, Bishop Remington said, has no legitimate argument with science, nor vice versa.

"Science," he asserted, "is not apart from the ministry of religion but the continuous and prophetic fulfillment of God's promise to care for humanity and help him solve his problems. God is in the discoveries of the bacteriologist, the chemist and the inventor."

Sessions of the synod are scheduled to be concluded tomorrow with a short business session, discussions of religious education, Christian healing and ministry conferences.

Entirely Free Of Pain First Time In Years

"For the first time in five years I'm entirely free from pain, and I owe it all to this wonderful Sargon medicine!

MRS. EMILY McGARY

"I used to have the most terrible pains like neuritis in my limbs—the agony I went through day and night would be hard to describe. My liver was so sluggish I was continually having to dose myself with laxatives for constipation, and I'd have terrific bilious and dizzy attacks that would last for two or three days at the time. My circulation was poor and my whole system seemed filled with poisons. I took about every kind of medicine and treatment I heard of, but I was disappointed in one after another of them because they didn't bring me a particle of lasting relief. Then I kept hearing what wonderful results so many of my friends here in Long Beach had gotten from this new Sargon, and I made up my mind to try it.

"I hadn't been taking Sargon but just a few days when I began to feel better all over, but I kept on with it until I'd taken six bottles in all, and now there isn't an ache or pain in my body! The treatment had a stimulating effect on my circulation and my whole system seems wonderfully strengthened.

"I also took the Sargon Soft Mass Pills along with the liquid and they toned up my liver and overcame my constipation, and my bilious and dizzy attacks are a thing of the past.

"Sargon has brought me wonderful health and strength, along with relief from torturing pain, and I just wish everybody could know what a marvelous medicine it is."

The above statement was recently made by Mrs. Emily McGary, 123 Granada Ave., Long Beach.

Sargon may be obtained at all Owl Drug Stores and Liggett Drug Store in Los Angeles and other cities.—[Advertisement.

BISHOP CANNON DEFENDS SELF

Vindication by Church in Lobbying Row Seen

Report Filed at Methodist Dallas Conference

Daniels Admits Being on "Tight, Hot Spot"

DALLAS (Tex.) May 8. (Exclusive)—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., presented his report as chairman of the board of temperance and social reform of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, at the church's twenty-first general conference here today. In it, he asserted that his activities in the last Presidential campaign were "as a private citizen and not as chairman of the church board."

The bishop continued that he "did actively and openly oppose the election of Gov. Smith as a man who had always supported the liquor traffic." But, he insisted, "no funds of the board were used," and "the board itself took no part in the campaign."

The report was turned over to the conference committee on temperance and social service, he added, by Josephus Daniels, a member of the late President Wilson's Cabinet.

Mr. Daniels explained tonight that he was not present when he was made chairman of the conference committee which sat in judgment on Bishop Cannon's political activity. He admitted that he was in a "tight spot," but stated that he had been in "tighter and hotter ones" and came out whole.

DANIELS HOPEFUL

"I lived a whole year in a single week at Houston in 1928," said Mr. Daniels, referring to the Democratic convention that made Al Smith the party's Presidential candidate. "I guess everything will come out all right, somehow."

Mr. Daniels's committee will not go into session until next week.

A sample of the tension to be expected then was revealed when Bishop Cannon today asked the conference to approve two resolutions included in his report rather than to let them go without conference action to the committee.

One of the resolutions asked that the conference petition Congress to comply with the request of President Hoover April 28 for speedy action on proposed law-enforcement reforms.

The other resolution proposed by the Bishop commended the recent "bottle ruling" of the Supreme Court.

Mr. Daniels spoke against the resolutions. He declared that he did not wish to have the conference handle the prohibition problem in piece-meal fashion, but urged that the church give "a deliverance for prohibition so powerful that it will purge the whole land of the liquor evil."

VINDICATION PREDICTED

virtually assured. Despite the Bishop Cannon by the conference is Political observers among the delegates declare that vindication of charges of involving clericalism in politics, misappropriation of campaign funds and bucket-shop patronage, the church leaders express much sympathy for the Bishop.

Bishop Cannon's defense, as indicated in the report submitted today, may be summed up as follows: "I've done what you told me to do."

He states his conception of the position of the church in the report, listing five points.

"First—the general conference has waged relentless, continuous warfare against the liquor traffic.

Second—The general conference has appealed to the President and to Congress for the passage of the prohibition legislation, thus distinctly and emphatically injecting the influence of the church in the final legislative settlement of this great moral social question.

"Third—The general conference has urged our people specifically to vote for dry candidates for Congress and to defeat wet candidates for Congress, both in the primary and the general election.

PRESIDENT INCLUDED

"Fourth—The general conference has declared that, in order that the prohibition law may be administered by its friends, officials must be selected who believe in enforcement not only because prohibition is the law, but because it ought to be the law.

"Fifth: The general conference specifically and intentionally included the office of President in the list of those who should be so elected."

Bishop Cannon did not stop with the five points. Under the heading, "The Board's Instructions," he proceeded:

"In the face of this general conference record from 1910, culminating in the sweeping declaration of 1926, the officers of the board have the right to consider themselves to be positively instructed to do everything possible and right to defeat the campaign for nullification of the Eighteenth Amendment and to procure the election of officials who believe in prohibition enforcement. As far as they have heard, there has been no criticism of their efforts to prevent the insertion of a wet plank in the platforms of the political parties, or to prevent the nomination of a wet Presidential candidate by either party."

SMITH FACES DEFENSE

This defense will have to be faced by Al Smith's fellow-Democrat, Josephus Daniels, when he leads his conference committee to judicial findings in the bishop's case.

Aside from what is construed by observers as his personal defense, Bishop Cannon opened fire on "certain newspapers" in a section of the report entitled "The Baleful Press," as follows:

"Threats of rebellion and anarchy have been broadcast through the nation by speeches of certain blatant Congressmen, but especially by certain metropolitan newspapers which have from the beginning led in the circulation of defeatist propaganda not only by denouncing the law—which they have a perfect legal right to do—but attacking government officials because they were faithfully trying to enforce the law. The most baneful influence in public life today is that section of the press which opposes every form of legislation which has for its object the protection of society from the excess of selfish individualism; recently so absurdly extolled by Nicholas Murray Butler as 'higher lawlessness.'"

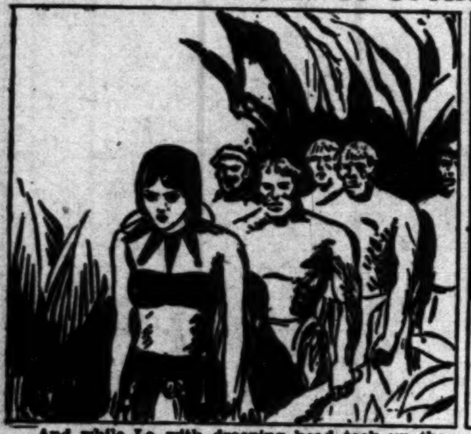
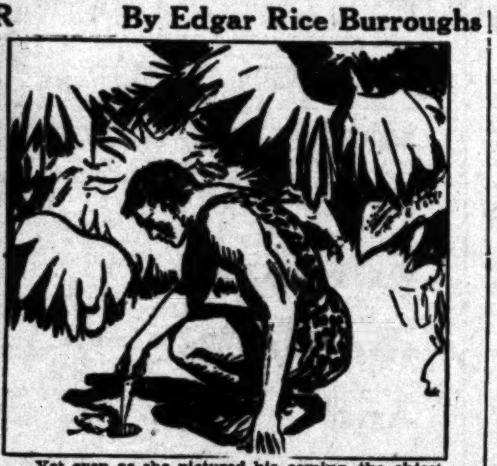
TARZAN AND THE JEWELS OF OPAR

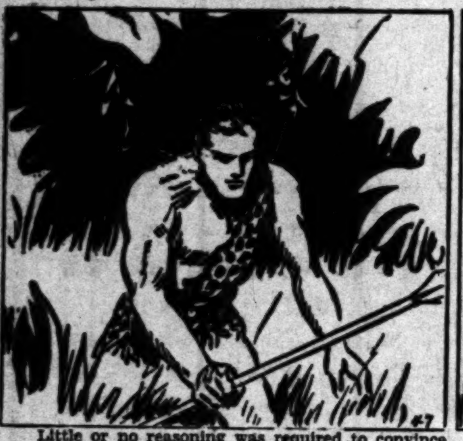
By Edgar Rice Burroughs



And while La with drooping head took up the long march to Opar, Tarzan of the Apes raced through the trees until the darkness of night had settled upon the jungle. Then he lay down and slept, with no thought beyond the morrow and with even La but the shadow of a memory in his consciousness. And but a few marches to the north Lady Greystoke looked forward to the day when Tarzan should discover the crime of Achmet Zek and be speeding to rescue and revenge.



Yet even as she pictured his coming, the object of her thoughts squatted almost naked beside a fallen log busily gnawing food from his grimy fingers. The thought of the jewels entered Tarzan's mind and he conceived a desire to play with them again. Having nothing better to do he started to the place where he had buried them. But when he came to the spot and dug with his hunting knife, the gems were missing. Tarzan's brow clouded as he made the discovery.



Little or no reasoning was required to convince him of the guilty party, and with the same celerity that had marked his decision to unearth the jewels, he set out upon the trail of the thief. Though the trail of the Belgian was days old, the ape-man had no difficulty in following it. To his sensitive nose and vision it was as clear as the printed page to us. Doggedly he went on, pausing by day only to kill and to eat, and at night only to sleep and refresh himself.

Occasionally he passed parties of savage warriors. These were Basuli's Waziri allies marching to a common rendezvous in preparation for an assault upon the stronghold of Achmet Zek. But to Tarzan they were enemies and he gave them a wide berth for he retained no conscious memory of any friendship for these black men. It was night when he halted outside the palisaded village of the Arab raiders. To this place the spoor had led him. His quarry must be within.

RED-BLOODED BOYS FULL OF BLUE-BLOODED HENS

WASHINGTON, May 8. (AP)—The mystery of the disappearance of three blue-blooded hard-working hens, worth $2500 — which participated in the national egg-laying contest at the University of Maryland two months ago—has been solved.

They went to make a holiday for the Maryland chapter of the Sigma Nu Fraternity.

While the egg-laying contest was in full feather the Sigma Nu commanded three initiates to supply chickens for a banquet. They did so, but no explanation of where the fowls were obtained was made. The banquet was held two months ago.

Only recently the leg bands of the departed egg-laying champions were found in a Sigma Nu trash receptacle.

The Maryland chapter has been suspended for a year by the national fraternity, and the university has come forward with a pledge for the value of the three departed hens.

BRITTEN SCORES NAVAL PROGRAM

Plans for $936,995,000 in New Ships Revealed

Illinois Man Charges That England Set Preference

Recommendations of Adams Will be Requested

WASHINGTON, May 8. (AP)—Making public a $936,995,000 warship-construction program which he holds necessary to attain parity with the British under the London Naval Treaty, Chairman Britten of the House Naval Committee today said no treaty at all would be better than one which results in enormous expenditures for American ships of British preference.

Britten plans to introduce a bill tomorrow based upon figures given him by Secretary Adams, which, he said, would authorize the President to undertake before July 1, 1936, "the construction of cruisers, destroyers, submarines and aircraft carriers in accordance with the terms of the London naval conference."

The Illinois member said he will ask Secretary Adams for his recommendation on the building program.

PLANE IMPALED ON PHONE POLE

Occupants Escape Injury as Machine Slides Down to Ground

CLEVELAND (O.) May 8. (AP)—An airplane diving out of control, was impaled on a telephone pole today, but the two occupants escaped serious injury.

Capt. Byron G. Cooke, the pilot, and John F. De Klastel, the passenger, suffered cuts and bruises. Cooke said engine trouble developed at a height of 300 feet.

The plane had fallen about 260 feet when the telephone pole pierced one wing. The craft then slid to the ground.

OHIO CONVICTS DIE IN MISHAP

Two Killed by Machine Gun While They Sleep

Another Wounded in Same Columbus Accident

Prisoners Who Burned Tents Now Without Shelter

COLUMBUS (O.) May 8. (AP)—Their heads pierced by machine gun bullets accidentally discharged by Ohio National Guardsmen, two Ohio penitentiary convicts lay dead tonight, the latest in the long string of prison casualties and disorders dating from the Easter Monday fire, when 320 convicts met death.

A third convict was wounded in the shooting of this morning a few hours after unruly prisoners confined in a barbed wire stockade within the prison yards destroyed their temporary shelter tents by firing them.

The two dead, Albert Freeman and Frank Ross, both of Cuyahoga county, serving long terms, met death as they slept in the dormitory where the better element of prisoners is confined.

Tonight scores of convicts who had been housed in the tents pending repairs to the cell locks they damaged, had only the ground as a bed and the sky as a cover. Many left "homeless" by the incendiary fire found shelter in improvised "pup tents" made from sections of burned tents, blankets and other bed clothes. Authorities are firm in the determination that the unruly men will sleep in the open until the cell blocks are repaired, now that they have destroyed the shelter furnished them by the State.

NEW ANTIWAR MOVE FORMED

League Group Favors Treaty Aiding Menaced States

Draft to be Presented at Next Session

Kellogg Pact Not Mentioned in Latest Formula

GENEVA, May 8. (AP)—A draft treaty for financial assistance for a state menaced or attacked by another state was adopted today by the League of Nations committee on arbitration and security.

This instrument, embodying a further effort to discourage war, will be presented at the next Assembly and then to the individual governments. The proposed treaty provides for loans to a victim country to be guaranteed by the other states which are parties to the treaty. The League Council will decide when this economic aid is to be given. The treaty's coming into force is made dependent on adoption of a general disarmament convention.

The formula adopted does not mention the Kellogg pact, thus meeting the objection of Uruguay and other nonsignatories to this agreement. Despite Turkey's expressed wish to open the treaty to nonmembers of the League, it was decided technical reasons made it best to confine the treaty to League members.

With a new wing on his fleet open biplane and his locally manufactured Kinner motor overhauled, Frank Goldsborough, 19-year-old flyer who set a new transcontinental record for juvenile pilots on his trip to Los Angeles from Westfield, N. J., took off yesterday at 7:34:34 a.m. from Aero Corporation of California field in an attempt to set a West-to-East mark.

A letter to the Junior Chamber of Commerce of New York City was given the youth by Randall Irwin on behalf of the local junior body.

GOLFERS GASP ON GREENS AT RANCHER'S HUGE DIVOT

SANTA CRUZ, May 8. (Exclusive)—Peter M. Leonard, rancher, today set a record on the Rio Del Mar golf course that probably will stand to the end of time. He took up a divot three feet wide and 100 yards long.

But he did it with a plow instead of a niblic. To excited golfers who gasped in astonishment as Leonard calmly drove his plow right down the center of one of their favored fairways, he said he had just decided to take possession of a right of way whose deed he declares has never been canceled since its granting seventy years ago by the late Adolph Spreckels. Leonard was arrested for disturbing the peace and the right of way matter will be threshed out in the courts.

STUDENTS HELD AFTER YALE RIOT

More Than 200 Battle Police, Break Windows and Do Other Damage

NEW HAVEN (Ct.) May 8. (AP)—Eleven Yale students were arrested, three students were taken to a hospital, while several other students and policemen were given medical attention as the result of a clash between students and police tonight.

The clash occurred when more than 200 students set up a wooden barrier four feet high across High street and began shouting taunting remarks to police. About thirty patrolmen broke down the barricade. Students were felled by police clubs and many were taken to police headquarters.

The disturbances, centering around Berkeley Oval, where the freshmen dormitories are located, called out police reserves. Fire apparatus summoned by two false alarms added to the general confusion.

Many windows were broken and other property damaged by students.

Sergt. James V. Blake was struck over the head with a bottle. His assailant escaped and Blake continued on duty.

SOUTHLAND PLEA MADE TO HOOVER

Shortridge and Swing Urge Customs Offices Placed at San Diego

WASHINGTON, May 8. (AP)—Division of Southern California's customs district to place a headquarters at San Diego was urged upon President Hoover today by Senator Shortridge and Representative Swing.

They told the President restoring of the San Diego office, abolished in 1923, will be in the interest of economy and will increase the efficiency of the border patrol.

Grave criticism, they said, has been directed at the border patrol recently, and added that placing the chief officer at San Diego will give him closer contact with enforcement.

The two California statesmen also presented the President with a lifetime invitation to attend the California Valencia Orange Show at Anaheim. The metal invitation was mounted on a piece of wood from the first summer orange tree imported into California.

Four Los Angeles banking and trust company executives are scheduled to take a prominent part in the thirty-sixth annual convention of the California Bankers' Association, the program for which was issued yesterday by the association's president, Arnold J. The conference will be held at Del Monte, opening on June 5, and will run three days. More than 1000 bankers from all over the State are expected to attend.

SPOTTS TO SPEAK

Ralph H. Spotts, general counsel, Title Insurance and Trust Company, Los Angeles, will lead the opening session of the trust officers' division on the first day of the conference. Mr. Spotts is chairman of the trust officers' section. Frederick H. Behrends, vice-president of the California Trust Company, Los Angeles, is among the speakers who will address the convention on the second day in matters dealing with trust functions.

In the afternoon of the second day a series of departmentals for discussion of credits, bank operations, and business development will take place under the respective chairmanships of J. C. Lipman, vice-president of the Union Bank and Trust Company, Los Angeles, L. W. Eley, vice-president of the Security-First National Bank of Los Angeles, and Fred W. In the election of officers in the final session it is expected that, in line with precedent, Lane D. Webber, vice-president of the First National Trust and Savings Bank, San Diego, will be advanced from vice-president to president for the ensuing year.

SMOCK TO ADVANCE

Herbert H. Smock, vice-president of the Security-First National Bank of Los Angeles, will under similar policy of promotion, become the new vice-president of the association.

At the closing session Rome C. Stevenson, vice-president of the American Bankers' Association, will speak on the activities of the national association and Joseph S. Thompson, president of the Pacific Electric Manufacturing Company, will address the convention on "A Month in Soviet Russia."

Other speakers on the program include R. M. Sims, vice-president American Trust Company, San Francisco; Louis Ferrari, vice-president of the Bank of Italy, San Francisco; and Will C. Wood, State Superintendent of Banks.

Next Saturday, as was recently announced, the group No. 5 division of the California Bankers' Association will hold its semiannual spring meeting at the Biltmore. Will C. Wood will be the principal speaker at this conference at the banquet concluding the business sessions of the afternoon. Bank management, programs for business development and the relation of trust departments to banking will be the leading topics of the afternoon business conferences.

Celotex Suit for Receiver Starts Query

NEW YORK, May 8. (Exclusive) Investigation is being made to determine how much of a short interest there was in Celotex Company stock before the petition for receivership was filed, according to reports published today in New York newspapers.

An article in the New York Telegram stated that the receivership application "has all the appearances of a malicious attempt on the part of a bear clique to take some quick stock-market profits."

The New York World stated in a similar article that there is "a possibility that someone may get into a jam over the filing of the suit. There is an investigation on now to learn how big a holder of stocks was the man who has asked the receivership and also how much of a short interest there was in the stock before the request for a receivership was filed."

FILM HEAD WELL QUALIFIED

Edward B. Derr, New Pathe Chief, Experienced in Broad Range of Business and Finance; Policies Told

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Four years in the picture business and a wealth of diversified experience in industry and finance constitute the background of the man who is helping Pathe Exchange beat back to normal. Edward B. Derr, recently appointed executive head of Pathe following the resignation of Joseph P. Kennedy, has already introduced a number of fresh ideas into the business of manufacturing and selling entertainment.

He is the first picture executive to house under one roof the producing and sales divisions. Headquarters of Pathe are now in the Culver City studio and Mr. Derr is the only man running the show. Unlike other picture companies, Pathe no longer maintains sales and executive offices in New York and producing headquarters in Los Angeles.

POLICY EXPLAINED

Explaining this centralization policy yesterday, Pathe's new chief cited as the main reason the elimination of confusion and misunderstanding between the financial and producing officers. Knowing what the sales division is doing, and conferring with his producing department at the same time, Mr. Derr believes he will better be able to adjust producing operations to the type of entertainment the market demands.

Under the dual office plan, the picture companies have always contended with opposing ideas of producing and financial officers of what amount of money should be invested in proposed pictures. Hollywood reports, for example, the picture will cost $500,000 and New York replies that $300,000 will have to suffice. Pathe expects under its new system to avoid the poor pictures that frequently result from the clashing of ideas on the size of investment. One man, knowing both sides of the story, will make the decision.

Mr. Derr should know costs and finance. He was early in his career an auditor for the Lehigh Valley Railroad, and was appointed by President Roosevelt as the first railroad accountant of the Interstate Commerce Commission. Later he was made comptroller of Bethlehem Steel's Fore River shipyards. In this capacity, he first became acquainted with Joseph P. Kennedy, then assistant general manager. After the war he succeeded Kennedy as president of the United States Mutual Liability and Insurance Company, largest of its kind in the New England States.

EXPERIENCE BROAD

He knows, too, more than one side of the picture business. At one time he was interested in the theater business in Bethlehem, Pa., his home town, where he constructed and operated the Broad Theater. Later he was interested with Kennedy who had obtained the New England rights for the Robertson-Cole Pictures.

Knowing from experience what theater owners want, and having learned from his four years' association with Kennedy in F.B.O. and First National Pictures something of the producers' problems, Mr. Derr has developed this paramount policy for Pathe: Quality pictures make their own market.

Pathe Exchange, oldest company in the motion-picture business and largest of the independents, is not a theater owner. It is not interested in any of the theater chains, a policy diametrically opposed to other large units. Pathe, according to Mr. Derr, believes that a quality picture, either feature or short subject, will always find a place on the exhibitor's schedule. Theater operators, he says, never get enough good pictures in a season.

As for earnings, he will be satisfied if Pathe earns $1,000,000 net in 1930. This will be double the 1929 profit of approximately $501,000. Resumption of dividends on the common is a question that will hardly come up for another year.

Schwabacher Shifts Staff

Appointment of Ralph E. Murphy as manager of the investment department for Schwabacher & Co., members of the New York Stock Exchange, was announced yesterday by Paul Grannis, resident manager. Richard F. Gibson will become sales manager.

L. St. John, president, stated yesterday following a meeting of directors. The company has levied an assessment of $1 a share on its outstanding capital stock, payable June 5 and delinquent July 1.

Mr. St. John said that the operating profits were steadily increasing but that the interest on indebtedness on the large land holdings acquired for future development had caused a deficit. TRADE BALANCE DEFECTIVE

Inclusion of Tourist Credits in Compilation of Reports Viewed as Important

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, May 8.—Import and export figures are usually published without including "invisible" items—an inexcusable omission.

American economic experts recently have been studying the trade balance sheet between France and the United States. France has always bought more goods from the United States than she sold to the United States. Hence, France is supposed to have been a debtor of the United States during all these years.

But these items never included so-called "invisibles"—tourist credits being the largest item. With these included, France shows that she has had a favorable balance of trade with the United States over the last nineteen years—of about $60,000,000.

So American tourist trade, which last year was reckoned at $160,000,000 in France, cannot be ignored. It's a vital part of the business between the two countries.

France sells to the United States besides her mountain scenery and her hotel rooms, manufactured goods, lingerie, clothing, silk and perfumes.

The United States sells to France raw cotton, cotton waste, crude and refined mineral oils, gasoline, copper, steam and other machinery.

French exports to us may look much more delicate and refined than our exports to France, but France is very wise. She knows our weak points and how to take advantage of them—commercially.

No nation has taken France's measure in international trade since the war.

Again William F. Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, champions the five-day week to "help correct unemployment and create an opportunity to use the goods and commodities which industries produce."

Investigation reveals that more than 500,000 men and women in the United States are working on the five-day week schedule. About two-thirds of this number are union members. But why a five-day week?

Let Mr. Green answer: "Machinery and power makes it possible, and humane and spiritual reasons make it necessary . . . we have come to understand as never before that it is not enough merely to create the power to buy, but we must create the opportunity to enjoy and use goods and commodities."

In a word, it's not long hours, but sustained purchasing power that produces good times and high living standards.

How much of a fee is a lawyer entitled to? No one has ever given a satisfactory answer to that question—probably no one ever will.

But Newton Baker's announcement that he would ask a fee of $5,000,000 as counsel for Mrs. Catherine Dexter McCormick in her suit for a large income from the $52,000,000 estate of her husband, Stanley McCormick, is probably the largest ever suggested.

Samuel Untermeyer is supposed to have received a $1,000,000 fee in his work for William Fox recently. Before that this New York lawyer's biggest fee was reported to be $775,000 for putting through the Boston and Utah copper merger.

Another large fee was charged Marshall Field III by the late John B. Stanchfield for getting an interpretation of Marshall Field's will, which permitted his grandson to obtain control of a larger share of the estate promptly—this job cost the young man $1,600,000. Mr. Stanchfield also received $800,000 from F. A. Heinze, copper king, for securing his acquittal in a bank case.

Another $1,000,000 fee was that collected by John B. Dill for handling the affairs of the Carnegie Trust Company.

Doubtless there have been many other legal fees of $1,000,000 or more charged and paid since the war. In 1922, a lawyer in San Francisco is reported to have received $3,000,000 on a 50 per cent contingent agreement for recovering certain valuable potash lands.

But the suggested Baker fee tops the list.

Melon Slated on Hollywood Realty Stock

Hollywood Business Properties, Ltd., yesterday declared a 200 per cent common stock dividend, which will be paid to stockholders of record April 1, last, according to an announcement by N. F. Wilson, president. The company now holds under lease, by direct purchase or by part interest, almost a mile of key business frontage in the Hollywood area, including several apartment-houses and business buildings. It is interested in the new Ritz Carlton Hotel, the new Hollywood Pantages Building and other major projects.

Dividends of 7 per cent have been paid in cash on the preferred stock ever since the company was organized January 1, 1923. When it was eighteen months old, a dividend payment at the rate of 50 per cent per annum on the common stock was established. This is paid semi-annually at the rate of 25 per cent every six months, Mr. Wilson said.

"The fact that so young a concern has advanced so rapidly during a period of so-called depression, indicates the potential profit possibilities of Los Angeles properties once the business skies are cleared of artificial psychological obstacles," Mr. Wilson declared.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, May 8. (AP)—The listed bond market held its ground in a rather dull session today. The investment department maintained a firm tone under the leadership of the rails, which have more consistently reflected the influences of cheap money than any other group. Most active were the loans, legal for savings bank and the best gains of the day were in this group. Convertibles and industrials gave the market a somewhat ragged appearance.

Trading was in an extensive list and slackened during the final hour. Total sales were the smallest of the month.

Call money again held at 3 per cent. There was no change in time money, but Federal Reserve banks of New York and Boston cut their buying rates for bankers' acceptances.

The most extensive accumulations today were in the Pennsylvania, St. Louis and San Francisco, Missouri Pacific and Erie issues. Southern Railway general 6½s was the best ground gainer, with a net advance of 1¼ point.

Atchison general 4s, Pennsylvania 4½s, Frisco 4½s, Wabash 5s, St. Paul adjustment 5s ended the day ½ point higher.

American Telephone 5s and North American Edison 5s were most in demand in the utility group, which, however lacked the buoyancy of the rails.

Convertible bonds presented an irregular appearance as they fluctuated with stocks. American Telephone 4½s showed some recuperative power and closed ½ point lower. Missouri Pacific 5½s and Reading Coal and Iron 6s, in which trading was extensive, moved up more than a point.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in order given. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

Total sales today, $10,195,000; previous day, $12,447,000; week ago, $14,370,000; year ago, $10,055,000; two years ago, $12,817,000; Jan. 1 to date, $1,132,969,000; same year ago, $930,294,000; same two years ago, $1,258,455,000.

San Fernando May Lose Espee Roundhouse

SAN FERNANDO, May 8.—Rumor persists here that some time during the summer San Fernando will lose the local roundhouse of the Southern Pacific, which has a pay roll of about $6000 monthly. The roundhouse is a landmark in San Fernando Valley. It was established here in 1876.

The rumor, while not confirmed, is given credence because of the fact that the new thirty-seven-stall roundhouse of the road has just been completed at Glendale, south of here. This new roundhouse also will have a track circle capable of accommodating a large number of locomotives. If the San Fernando roundhouse is abandoned some of the train dispatchers here will be moved to other parts of the railroad line, they say. The loss of the roundhouse will be an industrial blow to San Fernando.

HALLGARTEN & CO. and HALSEY, STUART & CO., INC., Fiscal Agents.

The following is taken from a statement authorised by His Excellency Javier Mendivil, Minister of Finance of the Republic of Uruguay:

These Bonds constitute the direct obligation of the Republic of Uruguay.

The proceeds of the loan are to be used for the construction and improvement of roads, ports and other public works, and for the refunding of certain existing debt incurred for like purposes.

The Government's revenues are largely derived from customs duties, supplemented by direct taxation on property, excise taxes, and receipts from Government-owned properties. Revenues exceeded expenditures for the four fiscal years ended June 30, 1929.

The national public debt upon completion of this financing will amount to about $244,000,000, of which approximately $156,000,000 is external. This debt largely represents investments in productive enterprises under control of the State, including banks, railways, public utilities and port works, which showed substantial profits from operations in the last fiscal year and are estimated to have a value substantially in excess of the amount of the external debt. The national wealth is estimated at $3,000,000,000, or over $1,620 per capita, this being approximately 12 times the per capita debt.

The Republic has agreed to make application to list these Bonds on the New York Stock Exchange.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Stock Prices Turn Upward in Late Trading to Show Small Gains on Final Sales

With the exception of Standard Oil of California and Transamerica Corporation, which continued to outplay all other operations combined, trading on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday fell to quiet levels, indicating a disposition on the part of traders to await some definite trend on the New York market out of the present irregular movements.

While the sharp decrease in brokers' loans announced around noon Pacific Coast time revived the activity of commitments somewhat, the resultant strengthening of the price level was not extended to any impressive degree. A small fractional improvement was shown at the close, but the real optimism was reflected in the final sales, which reached the high levels for the session.

Standard of California was traded to the extent of 6000 shares and from an early low at 67½ advanced to a high and close at 69 3-8, up 1-4 net. Transamerica with a turnover of 6300 shares opened at 40 3-8 and firmed up to a high and close at 41 3-4, for a net gain of 1 point.

Southern California Edison, Rio Grande and Union Oil were the only other issues traded in excess of 1000 shares. The first two firmed up 1-8 at the close and Union gained 3-4 to 45 3-4. Richfield, not traded in the afternoon, yielded 1-4 to 23 and Pacific Western under similar conditions fell off ½ to 16½.

Pacific Lighting, which has not been traded here for some time, dropped off 1 3-4 points to 95 1-4 and was the only issue next to Transamerica which recorded a net change of a point or more. On light sales, Pacific Finance dropped back 3-4 to 38 1-4; Byron Jackson, ½ to 15½ and Macmillan Petroleum, 5-8 to 24 7-8.

Sales totaled 24,639 shares valued at $1,091,344; previous day, 29,633 shares valued at $1,323,845.

ONE RAILROAD

Whose Earnings Are Up Instead of Down

Net earnings of the Louisiana and Arkansas Railway Company, applicable to bond interest, dividends, etc., for the first quarter of 1930, showed an increase over the first quarter of 1929, despite the general decline in rail earnings for 1930, as shown by an average of 173 leading railroads. We offer:

LOUISIANA & ARKANSAS
RAILWAY COMPANY

First Mortgage 5% Gold Bonds, due 1969
Price 92 and Interest, to yield 5.50%

This issue is directly secured by a first mortgage on the rail lines, terminals and other property and by pledge of the stock of subsidiaries. Net earnings for 1929 available for interest amounted to over twice the requirements on this issue.

In comparison with other recent railway offerings, these bonds appear very attractive at current prices.

SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8. (AP)—Decreased brokers' loans gave the stock market a boost in the afternoon today, after the morning had been used up in a series of reversing price movements of minor scope.

Activity remained moderate even after the loans report came out. Failure of Wall-street speculators to trade through the exchange here after the close in New York was not stimulating to Montgomery-street operators. Investors were not affected by the report, and continued to hold off, making further commitments pending the lifting of economic clouds hanging over industry. Shares sold totaled 44,984, at $2,220,920.

The oils were notably affected by the improved speculative outlook. After selling off on minor swings in the morning, practically all made up losses and added fractional gains during the afternoon. Union closed up a point. High production continued a source of uncertainty, however, and constituted a drag on prices.

Utilities bounced up quickly, with former leaders again showing a sensitive response to better market conditions. Pacific Lighting rose 2 points, Pacific Gas almost as much, and San Joaquin 7s were up more than a point. On the other hand, several utilities failed to rally, California Water Service being allowed to remain at 93, a new low and a loss of 3½ points.

Transamerica was actively accumulated after it emerged from an early period of quiet and uncertainty. It closed with a ¾-point gain on a turnover of more than 10,000 shares. Anglo and London-Paris Bank slipped 5 points on a sale of eight shares, reaching a 1930 low at 207½.

New business, expanding sales and merger reports were factors in the rise of Oliver Filters "A," I. Magnin preferred and Eldorado Oil Works, respectively, the gains ranging from more than a point to 2 points. Losses among the industrials were fully as numerous, and slightly larger than the gains. Crown Zellerbach "B" dropped 2⅛, Honolulu Plantation 1¾ to a new low at 60¼, Leslie Salt 1 and Lyons Magnus also 1, hitting a new bottom at 11.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, May 8 (AP)—Curb market stocks worked irregularly lower today, in the dullest trading since March 17. Total sales were 865,600 shares, compared with 2,340,900 on Monday.

Selling on this market was fairly active for a time in the morning, but the market displayed a fairly firm undertone, and trading dwindled during the afternoon, as traders practically suspended operations pending publication of the weekly brokerage loan figures.

American Light and Traction new stock lost about 3 points. Electric Bond and Share, on the other hand, sold up 2 points, although it lost part of its gain later. American Superpower sold off 1½ in active trading, but regained its loss and turned bull. United Power and Light A also sagged, then regained its loss and closed unchanged. American Gas, American Cities B, and American Commonwealths A, lost a point or two, net.

Industrials were highly irregular. Aluminum Company lost 4 points in a few sales, and Driver Harris, Copeland Products A, Niles Bement Pond, Libbey McNeil, Technicolor and United States finishing lost 1 to more than 2 points. Radio Products dropped nearly 5 points to a new low.

Oils were inclined to sag. Such issues as Gulf, Humble and Indiana closed a point or so lower. Cities Service sold off a point, then rallied to close up a fraction. The few coppers on this market failed to participate notably in the rise of the copper shares on the big board.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low and both low and close when same as the high.

METAL MARKETS

CLEVELAND, May 8. (Exclusive)—Metal Trade today says:

Activity in steel bars, shapes and plates continue to make a fair showing, but the recent upturn in business appears to have been halted for the present.

Plates and shapes are in better demand than bars. Heavier operations of the automotive industry have had but little effect on bar business and demand still is seasonally light.

The mills are able to give prompt shipments on most sizes, due to the short range nature of buying which has provided little back log. The market continues to hold at 1.80, Pittsburgh, on steel bars, with plates and shapes held at the same general level, although the largest consumers are able to do less. Open inquiries for pig iron are light in the Chicago district, but a fair tonnage is being sold and present obligations balance merchant production in the district.

Taylor & Murphy's Seeberg No. 1 in the town lot area at Potrero, which came in for an initial yield of 1700 barrels of 40-deg. gravity oil per day from a depth of 5337 feet, has maintained a steady flow and has a cut of about 10 per cent, according to field reports. Pressure on the tubing is 410 pounds and 1000 pounds on the casing. The new producer is yielding about 1,500,000 cubic feet of gas per day.

Sólo en la Mañana Debe Haber Escuela, Dice un Doctor

PARIS, Mayo 8.—Los niños no deberían asistir a la escuela más que en la mañana, según el sentir del doctor George Bertier, autoridad francesa en cuestión de educación infantil. Así lo expresó en un trabajo leído ante la Academia Francesa de Medicina.

Todas las lecciones, dijo el doctor Bertier, debieran darse por la mañana, que es cuando la mente del niño está fresca y retiene lo que le enseñan. Tratar de darle instrucción después del almuerzo es pura pérdida de tiempo, y perjudicial para su salud, afirma el citado médico; quien opina que debería dedicarse la tarde al dibujo, a trabajos prácticos y a ejercicios.

Atiborran demasiado a los alumnos en las escuelas francesas, dijo luego la autoridad citada, y la Academia de Medicina apoyó su aserto de que debiera consultarse a los médicos en la preparación de los programas escolares.

Recomienda el doctor Bertier que las clases no exceden de veinticinco alumnos, y que se aparte siempre a los anormales o ineptos para aplicarles tratamiento especial.

Candidato Derrotado que se Suicida

GARY (Indiana), Mayo 8.—Disparándose hoy un tiro en su casa, se ha privado de la vida William J. Fulton, derrotado en su reelección, en las primarias del martes, para delegado del condado de Lake.

M. H. Marquardt, director de la campaña de Fulton, fue arrestado el día de las elecciones, pues se le acusa de haber violado las leyes electorales del Estado, por haber traído cinco mujeres de Chicago para que votaran en los comicios de Gary. Mediante fianza de $2000, otorgada en parte por Fulton, salió libre Marquardt.

El suicida, alcalde que fue en otro tiempo de Gary, tenía 48 años de edad.

Ahóganse dos Muchachos en el Lago Michigan

GARY (Indiana), Mayo 8.—Anoche fueron arrebatados hacia lo interior del Lago Michigan tres muchachos que iban en una balsa, y hoy, después de haber buscado la balsa toda la noche los guardas del servicio de costas, la encontraron, y sólo quedaba un muchacho prendido aún a la frágil embarcación. Los otros dos habían desaparecido; uno de ellos intentó irse nadando hasta la ribera, y el otro fue barrido por las olas, y pereció ahogado.

El superviviente, que se llama Peter Yurich y tiene 14 años, se mantuvo prendido a la balsa con increíble tesón por espacio de trece horas. Sus compañeros eran John Kordich, de 13, y Michael Mur, de 14 años.

Escabullóse de noche hasta el Puerto de Boston, se metió en un buque, y se fue por mar de su ciudad natal, llevando consigo una muda de medias y una camisa limpia embutidas en las faltriqueras, y ninguna otro cosa más que el vestido que llevaba puesto, un espíritu animoso y perseverante, y un corazón recto y honrado (He stole down to Boston Harbor at night, got on board a ship, and sailed away from his home city, taking with him an extra pair of stockings and a clean shirt stuffed into his pockets, and nothing else but the clothes he wore, a courageous, persevering spirit, and an upright, honorable heart).

HARBOR HUB FOR NEW CARGO LINE

Will be First and Last Port of Call on Coast

Antipodean Service Started by Norway Company

Four-Carrier Fleet Slated to Maintain Schedule

BY WAYNE B. CAVE

With the departure loaded from here today of the new Norwegian motorship Dagfred, Los Angeles becomes the strategical port in another service direct to and from New Zealand and Australia.

Known as the Ocean Steamship Company, represented on this coast by Swayne & Hoyt, the new line will dispatch a freight motorship monthly to the Antipodes with Los Angeles as the last Pacific port of call.

Likewise the first inbound port of call from the Antipodes will be Los Angeles, whence the ships will proceed up the Pacific Coast and return to sail again from here.

The Dagfred, 8100 tons deadweight, and completed three months ago in Europe, goes out on her maiden voyage practically loaded with Pacific products, including 1100 tons of case oil and general cargo from here. She is a thirteen-knot ship and is commanded by Capt. Thor Nielsen, master of the earlier Dagfred, a steamer.

Second of the four ships in the new run will be the motorship Brand, due next month under time charter to the Ocean Steamship Company. She will be followed by two sisterships of the Dagfred, now nearing completion in European yards for the Ocean line.

Newcastle will be the first port of call from here, but Capt. Neilsen said he expects to call at some of the South Sea Islands for copra on his way back to Los Angeles.

ADMIRAL FLAGSHIP BACK ON SUMMER RUN

The Admiral Line flagship H. F. Alexander comes back into the coastwise passenger run this morning, arriving from San Francisco with 600 passengers, her capacity. She will sail at 5 p.m. today for San Francisco and Seattle with an equal number, northbound accommodations having been sold out for many days.

Hereafter throughout the summer she will make weekly round-trip voyages arriving from Seattle and San Francisco each Friday morning and sailing for those ports each Friday afternoon.

Capt. Fred Nystrom again commands the greyhound, and Harry Proctor and Bert Gillespie are back as chief steward and purser, respectively.

The liner made her last previous voyage to Los Angeles last November, following which she laid up at San Francisco for the winter and spring.

A twenty-foot model of the new Danish motorship Amerika, now en route here from Europe on her maiden voyage for the East Asiatic Line, is to be put on exhibit at the Biltmore during the trade convention late this month. The liner is due June 1, and after visiting the North Pacific, will sail with her capacity, fifty-four passengers, from here for home July 1. Balfour, Guthrie & Co., are agents.

Three around-the-world liners will visit the port during the twenty-four hours ending Tuesday noon; Dollar Line's President Fillmore, due Sunday noon on her regular westward swing around the globe, with 100 travelers; the Hamburg-American cruiser Resolute, due at daylight Monday with 381 passengers on the homeward lap of her eastward world tour; and the Cunard liner Franconia, due from Hilo Tuesday noon and also completing an eastward world cruise. Both the Franconia and the President Fillmore will dock at Berth 232-A, the regular Dollar terminal, while the Resolute will be docked at Berth 153, in the Wilmington district.

The fourth big liner in port will be Nippon Yusen Kaisha's motor liner Tatsuta Maru, third of N.Y.K.'s three sister trans-Pacific speedsters, due Monday morning from Yokohama via San Francisco on her maiden voyage. One hundred representative shipping men will be tendered a luncheon on board the Tatsuta Maru at noon Monday. She will sail for the Orient at 2 p.m. the 14th inst.

The last of the huge twin-engined Douglas bombing planes which the Navy is concentrating at Pearl Harbor will go out aboard the Lassco cabin liner Calawaii tomorrow afternoon, the ship also taking seventy cabin passengers and 2000 tons of package freight. Among her travelers will be Edna P. Dale, missionary, Los Angeles; Caroline Webster, Sierra Madre artist, and Arthur Verneau and John Gottschalk, interior decorators.

Capt. H. W. Lee and the twenty-seven members of the crew of the Richfield tanker Richfield, which went ashore on Point Reyes yesterday, were last night all reported safely rescued from the ship's boats. The tanker, of 1436 net tons, is expected to be a total loss.

Hamburg-American Line's motorship Los Angeles arrived from Hamburg and Antwerp at sunset yesterday, four days behind schedule due to a stop at San Jose de Guatemala for coffee and bananas. She has from North Europe forty cabin passengers and 3000 tons of freight.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8. (AP)—Northwest headwinds along the Coast and extending far out on the Pacific continued today to delay shipping. Vessels from Los Angeles and other southern ports were hours late in arriving. The adverse winds delayed the new Japanese liner Tatsuta Maru, which arrived here today on her maiden voyage, and the master of the liner Tahiti, Capt. A. T. Toten, wirelessed that he will not be able to make port until noon tomorrow, more than five hours behind schedule. The Tahiti is coming in from Sydney.

Fully laden with 8000 tons of Belgium sand in her holds and with Capt. E. Sand on the bridge, the Norwegian motorship Bronnoy arrived here late today from Antwerp. She sailed from Antwerp early in April.

Roy V. Crowder, passenger traffic manager of the Lassco Steamship Company, will leave here Saturday on a tour of the East and Middle West to confer with agents of his company, interview travel authorities and otherwise glean information on travel prospects for the rest of the year. He will be gone three weeks.

SEATTLE, May 8.—Ready for another six months' service to ports not touched by regular liners on the Western Alaska coast and Aleutian Peninsula, the steamer Starr of the San Juan Fishing and Packing Company sailed tonight for Seward, her base port. She is taking a full passenger list.

The new liner Aleutian, on her maiden voyage as the finest ship to enter the Alaska service, was reported maintaining her schedule with ease. The Alaska Steamship Company liner is due in Cordova tomorrow. She left here Saturday.

PORTLAND, May 8.—The steamer North King with 164 sailors and employees aboard, left down river today en route to Naknek and Nushagak, Alaska, where it will spend the next five months engaged in handling the salmon pack.

In addition to the cannery and fishing crews the North King carried F. Lorne Daly, general superintendent of the plants of the Pacific American Fisheries at Naknek and Nushagak with headquarters at the former point, and Arthur Daly, superintendent at Nushagak, as well as their families.

The North King carried a full cargo. On deck was piled lumber and other material, while a barge was lashed on the deckload aft and a Diesel tug was with the shipments on the forward deck. Bellingham is headquarters of the Pacific American Fisheries and the North King had considerable cargo aboard when she arrived here from the north.

TACOMA, May 8.—The Henry D. Whiton was in from Baltimore today with 850 tons of bulk sulphur for wood pulp manufacture which was discharged over side and towed by barge to Shelton. The vessel left for up sound, where she will pick up lumber for the east coast.

In from Hobart, N. Z., the Norwegian steamer Kaifari under charter to the Douglas Fir Exporting Company, arrived today to load for Osaka. The vessel is taking lumber and general cargo and will remain in port several days.

TWO HELD IN HOAX ON ANGELENO

Mexicans Said to Have Induced H. Wood to Back Buried Treasure Hunt

MEXICO CITY, May 8. (AP)—Frederico Mirelles and Ignacio Morales have been detained here on a charge of attempting to swindle H. Wood of Los Angeles, Cal., by obtaining funds to seek buried treasure in the State of Guerrero.

The men are asserted to have obtained Wood's promise of financial backing to seek treasure said to be 1,000,000 pesos (about $500,000) buried by a former revolutionary chief at an hacienda in the Zihuatanejo region of Guerrero.

Wood came here and found Morales already had gone to the ranch. He accompanied Mirelles with an escort of soldiers to the ranch, which is in the heart of a low tropical district. Once there the two Mexicans are reported to have admitted the whole scheme was a hoax. The soldiers brought them back here under arrest.

NEW POWER PERMITS TO BE LIMITED

Colorado River Projects Involving More Than One State Will be Delayed

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 8. (Exclusive)—Now that all power contracts have been executed for the Colorado River dam, it is expected that the Federal Power Commission will grant permits for subsidiary power projects on Colorado River tributaries. The first of these will probably be some water power sites in the Gila River, but the Federal Power Commission will not consider any permits where more than one State is interested.

Governors and other representatives of the upper basin States of the Colorado, have asked the commission to issue no licenses without consulting the States in which the projects would be developed.

Secretary Wilbur, chairman of the commission, has forwarded to the Governors a list of the projects on which the power commission expects to take action. In his letter accompanying the list, Mr. Wilbur said that the commission does not propose to act on applications for permits which would involve interstate problems.

Procter & Gamble Get Building Permit for Their Headquarters Structure

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, May 8.—Procter & Gamble, soap manufacturers, today took the first definite step toward construction of their proposed $5,000,000 factory here by applying for a building permit involving a $3000 headquarters structure. Erection of the building will be started at once, it is announced, by Stone & Webster, general contractors, who are named in the permit. It will be put up on the factory site at 1601 West Seventh street, the rear of which fronts on the turning basin of Long Beach Harbor.

No indication was forthcoming today as to when permits for the factory buildings will be requested.

The projected plant, it is said, will be operated largely for the manufacture of products for export.

CONGRESS TO GET NEW RADIO PLAN

Lamont Approves Placing All Activities in Hands of Federal Commission

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 8. (Exclusive)—Congress is to be asked before its adjournment to consolidate all radio activity of the Federal government in the Federal Radio Commission. A joint resolution has been prepared providing for placing the radio division of the Department of Commerce under the commission. All the Washington and field staff work would then be coordinated with the commission's activities and it is believed much expense can be saved and better service rendered.

The text of the resolution has been approved by Secretary of Commerce Lamont, and has the approval of President Hoover and House and Senate leaders concerned with radio legislation.

This move is in line with President Hoover's policy of consolidating under one head all government activities in a given field.

DENNISON DEATH SHOCK TO MANY

District Attorney Blames Overwork for Tragedy

High Praises Sounded for Able Prosecutor

Funeral services for Edward J. Dennison, veteran prosecutor of the District Attorney's office who died from a sudden heart attack at his home, 256 Thorne street, Highland Park, early yesterday morning, will be conducted from the Cresse Funeral chapel, 5860 Pasadena avenue, at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Death came to Mr. Dennison a few hours after he had finished the closing arguments in the trial of Morris Lavine, newspaper reporter, and Leontine Johnson, who were charged with extorting $75,000 from Charles H. Crawford.

Wednesday afternoon he delivered a stirring argument to the jury, asking for the conviction of the defendants. Leaving the courtroom, the deputy appeared to be ill and confided to Tom Cavett, an investigator, "I feel like I have traveled a long way. I am near the end of my trail."

With this remark Dennison handed Cavett a sheaf of important papers concerning a pending investigation and asked him to guard them well in the event of his death. A few minutes later the prosecutor closed his office and went home.

AUTOPSY PERFORMED

At 2:30 o'clock yesterday morning he suffered a sudden coughing spell which was followed a few minutes later by the fatal heart attack which claimed his life before medical assistance could be called.

Because of the fact that no physician was present at the time of death, it was necessary that an autopsy be performed and county autopsy surgeons announced later in the day that a chronic heart ailment was the cause of death.

But while hundreds of friends were expressing sorrow over his death, his spirit still lived on in Superior Judge Schauer's courtroom while other deputies read page after page of testimony to the jury including questions he had asked numerous witnesses and the answers they gave from the witness stand. The jury had asked that the testimony be read to them when they had failed to reach a verdict after hours of deliberation.

Throughout the Hall of Justice public officials were unanimous in their bereavement over Dennison's death.

FITTS SOUNDS PRAISE

Dist.-Atty. Fitts attributed the sudden heart attack to the extremely heavy burden of work placed upon all members of his staff during the last year.

"Mr. Dennison is the fourth member of this office to die within the past few months," he said "Through his passing the people of Los Angeles county lose an honest, faithful and extraordinarily conscientious servant.

"The loss to the office is extremely heavy. I personally have lost a hard-working, conscientious associate as well as a loyal, warm friend. I am inclined to believe that his death was caused by terrific strain and extremely heavy volume of work on his shoulders for the past months."

Judge Schauer, in whose court Mr. Dennison spent his last day of life, praised highly the character of the deputy District Attorney.

"AN HONEST MAN"

"I am inexpressibly shocked at the report of the passing of Mr. Dennison," he said. "Only yesterday he appeared in the full vigor of the prime of manhood. He was one of the rarest of prosecutors, a man who in the bitterest of prosecutions unconsciously flung out through all the atmosphere about him, not only a message of the sincerity of his purpose, but also the story of the lovableness of his own heart.

"In the last case which he tried, the case which is even now pending in the hands of the jurors, to the great credit of his office and himself, be it known that when testimony disclosed the illegality of the seizure of certain documents, he promptly withdrew the offer of such evidence. The District Attorney, the courts, and the community have lost a faithful and able servant, an honest man, a noble work of God."

At the time of his death Mr. Dennison was nearly 60 years of age. He was born at Marshall, Mich., September 29, 1870. In his youth, he obtained only a common

BERMAN AGREES TO RETURN

Fitts Will Ask Mitchell to Let "Bright Boy" Leave Cell and Appear in Julian Trials Here

Jacob Berman, "bright young man" of the Julian case, has agreed to come back to Los Angeles and stand trial on two felony charges.

That was the announcement made last night by the District Attorney's office, following the return of Chief Deputy District-Attorney Stewart, who early this week visited Berman at McNeil Island Federal penitentiary, where Berman took refuge two weeks ago when the first of his trials was scheduled to commence here.

Not only will Berman return here for his own trials, but he has also agreed to testify as a State's witness in seven other criminal actions pending here, it was stated, and immediate negotiations for his return here have been started.

A statement issued by the District Attorney's office in the Berman matter reads in part as follows:

". . . Application will be made today to the Attorney-General of the United States to return Jacob Berman to be tried on the two charges in connection with which bench warrants were sent by the Superior Court to Seattle for his apprehension.

"The application for the return of Berman will be based upon writs of habeas corpus ad prosequendum in the same manner as was followed in the Lewis (S. C. Lewis, president of the Julian Petroleum Corporation) return.

"At the same time the District Attorney will apply to the Attorney-General to permit the return of Berman to testify in seven criminal cases pending against various persons and set for trial during the next few months.

"If the Attorney-General consents to the presence in Los Angeles of Berman for the requested purposes, proper writs of prosequendum and testificandum will be applied for in the Superior Court and the necessary proceedings following that will

AIR STUNTS ON TODAY AT CULVER CITY

Women Flyers Will Try to Outrival Male Pilots in Program of Thrills

Thirty-two women flyers will contest with several nationally known male pilots, including ten army flyers, this afternoon on a program that includes all the thrills of modern stunt flying at the Culver City Airport, Culver City.

Margaret Perry, only woman pilot in the Southland operating an airport, will be in charge of the activities that will reopen the port.

The women flyers will take off from Clover Field, Santa Monica, at one-minute intervals for Culver City, the first girl scheduled to land at 1:15 p.m.

Ten army planes from Long Beach will set down at 1 p.m. Douglas Keeney and Bud Hussey also plan to fly in from Long Beach, their ships tied together with a sixty-foot rope.

Hussey will climb to 18,000 feet to attempt the longest tail spin on record. Billie Brown, diminutive girl parachute jumper, and two men jumpers, will provide the air leap thrillers.

Col. Art Goebel will stunt his Waco biplane preceding the ten-mile speed race between Bill Randall, Hussey, T. Burdette and Jack Helm.

The army ships will stunt in formation.

Miss Perry has taken over the airport, formerly operated by William Gibbs McAdoo, Jr., primarily as a center for women's flying activities.

Bad Weather Delays Flight of Col. Turner

Low cloud ceilings and stormy weather caused Lieut.-Col. Roscoe Turner last night to postpone his scheduled take-off on a one-stop flight from here to Roosevelt Field, N. Y., until 1 a.m. tomorrow.

The pilot plans to take off in his giant Lockheed Air Express from United Airport, Burbank, in an attempt to lower the coast-to-coast record of 14h. 23m. and 27s. set by Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh. His ship is the fastest commercial plane built.

Gilmore, Turner's lion cub pet, will go along. Turner expects to follow the Great Circle route and make one stop at Wichita, Kan. His flight is sponsored by the Gilmore Oil Company.

"CROWN me Queen of the May" will be the general refrain at Occidental College this afternoon and evening, when women students hold their seventeenth annual May Festival before several hundred students from Southern California schools and junior colleges and friends and relatives of the college women.

Features of the program will include the crowning of Miss Fieda Brigham, senior student chosen by a vote of the student body as the May Queen, and English May fete; scenes from "Much Ado About Nothing" under the direction of Mrs. Joyce Turner Weil; a puppet show; tours of the campus and a dinner and informal dance in the College Union.

The festival is given by the Assocated Women Students in Orr Terrace Gardens on the campus, and members from all classes participate. This year there will be about eighty girls taking part in the various events.

County to Join City in Planning Prisoner Camp

Three executives of Sheriff Traeger's office and Road Commissioner Jones were appointed yesterday by the County Board of Supervisors a committee to confer with a committee from the City Council to draft plans for placing city and county prisoners in a joint prison farm or road camp.

County Jailer Peoples, Undersheriff Dewar, Capt. Starkey, in charge of the Sheriff's road camps, and Commissioner Jones will confer with City Jailer Shand and Councilman Williams. A report of the committee will be available in a few weeks, it was said.

Prisoners in county road camps earn 50 cents a day which they collect on discharge from custody.

Pasadenan Wins Scholars' Honor

Bruce Fisken Dean, son of Dr. and Mrs. John Marion Dean of 837 North Los Robles avenue, Pasadena, has just received word that he is the winner of a $1000 scholarship to the Sorbonne University in Paris. He is one of ten students throughout the United States to receive the award this year, which is given by the Institute of International Education in New York.

A graduate of Pasadena Junior College, Dean now is attending the University of Southern California. He expects to leave here the end of the summer for France, where he will spend a year as a student at the Parisan university, after which he will return and take his degree at U. S. C.

HIGH COURT DEADLOCKED OVER PANTAGES'S PLEA

New complications in the effort of Alexander Pantages, millionaire theatrical man, to obtain his release from the County Jail under bail pending his appeal to the higher courts from his conviction on the assault charge, developed yesterday when it was discovered that one member of the Supreme Court had disqualified himself from sitting on the case and that the others are deadlocked three to three and unable to reach an agreement.

This fact was disclosed in a telegram to Dist.-Atty. Fitts from B. Grant Taylor, Supreme Court clerk, which stated:

"In the application of Pantages Justice Tyler, deeming himself disqualified, will not participate. The court is unable to agree and unless counsel for parties stipulate another judge may be called in his place it will be necessary to set aside submission and put matter on the Los Angeles calendar."

After receiving the telegram Dist.-Atty. Fitts and Chief Deputy District Attorney Stewart conferred with LeCompte Davis, Jerry Giesler and Frank Titus. At the conference the attorneys stipulated to accept the appointment of any other judge selected by the members of the Supreme Court to review the case with them.

According to Stewart, the stipulation will avoid a lengthy delay which would have been imperative had it been necessary to continue the matter until the next session.

Justice Tyler withdrew, it was said, because his brother, Russell P. Tyler, Los Angeles attorney, was asked to become a member of defense counsel for Pantages. Although the request was not accepted, Justice Tyler felt it best to remove any possible thought of partiality.

GARLAND OFF TO BERLIN MEETING

Olympiad Body Chief Bears Program for 1932

International Organization to Pass on Details

Farmer Already on Ground for Preliminaries

Bearing with him the complete tentative program for the 1932 Olympic Games for the perusal and, it is hoped, the approval of the International Olympic Congress, William May Garland, president of the California Tenth Olympiad Association, left last night for Berlin. Incidentally, Mr. Garland intends to give something of a demonstration of speed himself, as he plans to be in Berlin on the 20th inst. This will be made possible, despite a two-day stopover in New York, by utilizing the new mistress of the seas, the German liner Europa.

The meeting in Berlin will open as a session of the International Olympic Committee, which is the governing body responsible for the allocation of the games and for their general supervision. This will be followed immediately by what is known as the Olympic Congress, a joint conference between the parent body and the various sports federations which are its members.

IMPORTANT MEETING

Inasmuch as the Olympic Congress, which is held two years in advance of each Olympic competition, passes on and approves or disapproves the entire program for the ensuing games, this meeting is of tremendous importance to Los Angeles. It will decide what sports will be held, set the dates for the actual competition and can—if the situation warrants such action—go so far as to recommend the abandonment of the games.

Mr. Garland is taking with him a complete and exhaustive study of the present situation in Los Angeles. He has a reel of motion pictures compiled by M.-G.-M. studios and an enormous number of still photographs of the Coliseum, the Exposition Park Armory and all the various other athletic fields and buildings which will be utilized for the games.

"No city ever has had such complete arrangements for the Olympic Games actually ready so far in advance," said Mr. Garland last night. "I am only sorry that our program is incomplete in one detail—the failure of the City Council to appropriate its share of the funds for the completion of the Coliseum. If that were done, and I'm sure every good Southern Californian wants it done, I should feel that we had taken every possible step to present our best front to the Olympic officials."

Due to the fact that the Olympic Games have never been held outside of continental Europe, the time and expense of making the long trip to Los Angeles is regarded by the European sports organizations with considerable apprehension. Figuring on an average of two weeks each way and close to a month in Southern California, the foreign nations are fearful of an average expense of about $2000 a man.

RATES PROBLEM

Knowing the danger that such an expense might make the participation of many of the European nations improbable if not absolutely impossible, the local Olympic officials have been at work secretly for more than a year in an effort to obtain the best possible rates for the Olympic teams and Mr. Garland feels that when the findings of the local committee are made public at Berlin the latter part of this month, the European sports bodies will be astounded at the low figures made possible through the work of the Los Angeles organization.

Preceding Mr. Garland by a couple of weeks was Zack Farmer, secretary-manager of the local Olympic body, who has borne the brunt of much of the preparatory work. Following the Olympic congress, Farmer will have a week of conferences with European officials to dispose of problems of all sorts and assure them of satisfactory arrangements in 1932.

With the program for 1932 finally settled upon, Messrs. Garland and Farmer will return to Los Angeles about July 1, next, and will at once proceed with the formation of the gigantic organization which will be needed to carry out the details of the huge international sports meeting.

Mrs. Watson New President and Mrs. Irish Issues Statement on Election

Mrs. Leiland Atherton Irish was defeated by Mrs. Fred V. Watson in a hard-fought race for the presidency of the Woman's Club of Hollywood, which came to a dramatic close with the counting of the ballots yesterday at the clubhouse following the election of Wednesday. That Mrs. Irish anticipated defeat was indicated in a statement which she issued previous to the election in which she said, in part:

"I shall be defeated without a question; but I will not turn my back on my enemies. I have nothing to explain nor have I anything but five years' hard, conscientious and loving service in my past record for the Bowl. For eighteen years I have endeavored to serve in some capacity for the good of the community. If all that I have done can be obliterated by a group of false friends and by lies, then I am sorry."

Mrs. Watson, the successful candidate, first loomed as a presidential possibility when she was elected to the first vice-presidency in 1929 after several active years of work in the club. The other officers elected for the coming term are: Mrs. E. B. Dixon, first vice-president; Mrs. Mulford Perry, second vice-president; Mrs. Charles S. Sarver, third vice-president; Mrs. Rollin Brown, curator; Mrs. Morris Ebersole, corresponding secretary; Mrs. James A. Bartlett, recording secretary, and Mrs. Charles E. Scott, treasurer. Directors elected to serve a two-year term are Mrs. H. G. Bantham and Mrs. Wayne Webster. Mrs. Carl Bush was chosen to serve a year term.

The special purpose of the meeting is to make plans for the State convention in Sacramento, June 25-30.

The scheduled sessions of the State executive are as follows: Saturday 1:30 to 5:30 p.m., headquarters, 301 Columbia Building; Saturday 6:15 p.m., banquet in Room 501 Y.M.C.A., 715 South Hope street; Sunday 8:30 to 10:45 p.m., headquarters; Sunday 1:30 to 4:30 p.m., First Evangelical Church, Twelfth and Hope streets; Sunday 4:30 p.m., closing fellowship service.

PUMPED WATER PERIL TOLD

Action on Injunction in Owens Valley Would Cut City's Supply Sharply, Van Norman Warns

The startling revelation that Los Angeles is now pumping 150,000,000 gallons of water daily from its wells in the Owens Valley as the only available means, under present conditions, of keeping abreast with the water consumption in the city, was made yesterday by Chief Engineer Van Norman of the City Water Bureau.

Van Norman's report on the water situation was based upon records sent to the department headquarters from the valley and upon the daily consumption charts.

In addition to the neck-and-neck race between consumption and supply in the water system, Van Norman called attention to the further fact that the pumps producing the water in the valley are being permitted to operate only because of a technicality of the law, combined with the leniency of the court, a condition that might be removed at any moment should the State Supreme Court decide to sustain an injunction order granted by the lower court. This would mean the shutting down of pumping operations and consequent cutting off of a large source of the city's water supply.

Every gallon of the water now being pumped from a battery of ninety-five deep wells in Owens Valley is being developed to meet actual water needs in Los Angeles, Van Norman pointed out. The cutting off of this enormous flow of water, 150,000,000 gallons, would confront the city with a shortage to that amount, he declared.

The injunction orders restraining the city from operating the Owens Valley wells, Van Norman stated, are being temporarily held up pending a decision by the Supreme Court on the restraining orders already granted against the city by the Superior Court of Kern

PARIS ought to get gooseflesh every time she hears the name of the City of Mexico. Within five years this will become the greatest tourist playground of the world.

Mexico has everything—history, art, tradition, almost bewildering beauty—mystery, charm, a wonderful climate, gayety and the promise of the greatest spiritual and intellectual awakening the world has ever witnessed.

THE CHURCHES

To me, Mexico is a debauch in fine architecture. You can't drive for an hour without seeing 200 beautiful churches—so many that the best guide books do not attempt to mention them—lonely little country churches—churches on the old haciendas—the little chapel which Cortez built in which to say his prayers while he gathered his army of invasion to retake the city from which he had been driven by the Aztecs.

TOO GOOD

You can read a lot into this architecture.

There is a great deal of hope for the future of a race that builds the horrible, ugly, crude, stupid, gingerbread churches that we see in our Middle West. They make you wince, but they reassure you.

The churches of the early Spanish were too beautiful. They were the glow and brilliance of decay. Especially as in all of them one senses the faint perfume of a Moorish refinement that was dying.

It is hopeful to see that the modern art of Mexico is represented by the terrific strength of artists like Diego Rivera—who have touched the well flow of the Indian races.

SURPRISES

Mexico is full of surprises.

It nearly knocked me over when I saw the great stone that they call the Aztec calendar, but which is in reality a visualization of the ancient Aztec religion. In this stone I saw exactly what the Apache Indians have described to me as their religion. Only, of course, the Apache version is crude and half formulated.

Is it that the Apache is a remnant of the older civilization; or does this represent the missionary work of an ancient people, sending their culture into the barren deserts of the north?

WORKS OF ART

Of all the churches I have seen in this land of churches what seems to me the finest by long odds is the cathedral at Morelia.

The cathedral in Mexico City is gorgeous and overwhelming; but it is a hodgepodge. There are side chapels that glow with beauty and vaulted reaches that have grandeur; a high altar that is the final limit of gorgeousness; old paintings that are among the great works of art of the world; but the church as a whole lacks the serene, composed unity that makes for great architecture.

BURRO RELAY RACE TO BE FEATURE OF SHOW

One of the unique features at the Breakfast Club Spring Horse Show on the 24th inst. and one which has never been held here before, will be a burro relay race, which will be participated in by two members from each of the following clubs: Uplifters Club, Flintridge Riding Club, Breakfast Club and the Sportologue Hunt Team. This race with the sixteen jockeys in colors is described as promising one of the greatest novelty attractions ever given here in an outdoor show.

CHECK FORGERY SUSPECT JAILED

Carey S. Smith and Girl Companion Arrested

Former Accused as Naval Officer Impersonator

Wanted on Many Charges Throughout West

CAREY S. SMITH

Although he is said to be wanted by the authorities of eight cities along the Pacific Coast and by the United States Department of Justice on a number of charges, Carey S. Smith, 35 years of age, of 620 South Figueroa street, apparently made no attempt to disguise himself, for his arrest yesterday was due to his recognition by two detectives as the subject of a photograph in Wednesday's police bulletin.

His captors, Detective-Lieutenants Mogue and Ryan, were driving down Hill street. Halted by traffic at Seventh street, they studied the passing crowds of pedestrians and suddenly were startled by the resemblance between Smith and the photograph in the police bulletin. They followed Smith and a woman companion to a restaurant and took them into custody. The latter described herself as Peggy Lynch, 26, of 2522 West Ninth street.

NAVEL CHECK FORGERY

The specific charge on which Smith was arrested is the asserted forgery of a naval pay check. Examination of his record, however, disclosed that he is wanted here on two additional warrants for the same offense, as well as in San Francisco, Oakland, Berkeley, Stockton, San Deigo, Portland and Seattle.

It was also found that within the past seven years he had been arrested innumerable times, and convicted on three occasions, each of them being in a Federal court. In most of his operations he is said to have impersonated a United States naval officer, and among the twenty-eight aliases on his police record his favorites seem to be Capt. R. O. Hammond and Lieut. J. C. Rider.

SURPRISING LENIENCY

Despite his numerous arrests, Smith has enjoyed surprising leniency so far as prison terms are concerned. He was first arrested in 1924, according to local records, but his first conviction was in the local Federal court in May, 1926, when he was found guilty of impersonating a naval offier and sentenced to serve fifteen months at McNeil Island.

Five months later he was paroled, but the following January his parole was revoked. Apparently it took several months for the authorities to find him, however, for it was not until July that he was recommitted. He was held here to stand trial on another indictment charging forgery of a Treasury check.

On August 1, he pleaded guilty to this charge and was sentenced to serve fifteen months of it at McNeil Island. He did not suffer, however, for the revocation of his parole, for the unexpired portion of his previous term was made to run concurrently with his second term.

MANY CHECKS ISSUED

Moreover, he apparently was enabled to receive a good behavior allowance, for within a year he was out again and standing trial in San Francisco on another charge of impersonating a Federal officer. On this third conviction he was sentenced on August 21, 1928, to serve a year and a day at McNeil Island, and the local records do not show whether or not he served this sentence in full.

From the time he was released until yesterday, the local police say, he has issued at least 400 worthless checks along the Pacific Coast and their amount is said to total at least $50,000. Whether or not he will be tried on this occasion in the State courts or again be turned over to the Federal authorities had not been decided yesterday.

MRS. HOOCKER PAROLED AFTER REVIEW OF CASE

After serving a week of a 180-day sentence in the County Jail for violation of the Wright Act, Mrs. Louise R. Hoocker, prominent Pasadena woman, was paroled yesterday by Dist.-Atty. Fitts and Sheriff Traeger after review of the circumstances surrounding her arrest and conviction.

One of the circumstances taken into consideration was the serious illness of Mrs. Hoocker's daughter, who soon is to undergo a major operation.

In appealing for parole, Mrs. Hoocker charged that she had been "framed" and that she did not merit such a severe sentence.

According to the records of the case, officers found a small quantity of wine and home-made beer in the Hoocker home at 2895 Sierra Grande street, Pasadena.

Etiquette Cited in Divorce Case

Paul J. Anderson, salesman, committed an unpardonable breach of etiquette in the eyes of his wife, Mrs. Cora Lee Anderson, when he appeared at the dinner table when they had company in his shirt sleeves, she told Superior Judge Edmonds yesterday when asking for a divorce.

This was bad in the eyes of the court, but hardly sufficient for a divorce. However, when the wife further testified that her husband borrowed their family car, after their separation, then reported it to the police as stolen just to embarrass her, Judge Edmonds declared: "Decree granted."

COUNCIL DENIES PROTESTS

Protests were denied by the City Council yesterday against the improvement of the Somers-avenue and Filion-street district. The hearing of protests against the improvement of Hillcrest Drive and Twenty-third-street district was continued until June 12, and the hearing of protests against the improvement of Randolph avenue between Edison street and Hillsdale Drive was continued until July 10.

Gold-Star Party Off for France

WAR MOTHERS START TRIP

First Los Angeles Group Leaves for Europe With Well-Wishes of Friends and Relatives

Trumpets did not blare, nor was there a roll of drums, when fourteen Los Angeles war mothers gathered on the platform of Central Station last night to start their journey to France. There was not a flag on display as the multitude of friends and relatives clustered about the gray-haired women, who were being given bewildering attention by station attendants and railroad officials.

They are the first of the 250 Gold Star Mothers of Los Angeles who have accepted the invitation of the government to visit the graves of their sons who fought, died and were buried in France.

The mothers were driven to the railway depot in the cars of their respective relatives or friends. They acted as any other mothers would who are not accustomed to railroad depots or the prospect of thousands of miles of travel.

"We've all agreed not to do any crying during the whole trip to France and back," one of them asserted. "We have been looking forward to seeing the graves of our boys since the day we received those fatal messages. Most of us know little about traveling, but we are going to France just as cheerfully as did our boys; but we know what awaits us and they did not.

"We may look somewhat old-fashioned, but we are not intent on creating any new styles, or creating any impression other than that we are just plain American mothers on our way to visit the graves of our sons whom we sent away to war never to return, thirteen years ago. That, I think, speaks for all of us."

Other contingents from the Los Angeles district will leave in time to join the group of 6000 who are scheduled to sail during next week for France from New York. The journey of the Gold Star Mothers to France, and back to their homes again, is being made under an act of Congress of 1928. Escorts of United States Army officers will conduct the mothers through the cemeteries and battlefields of France and Germany.

In the contingent that left last night Mrs. Frieda Ott, Venice; Mrs. Ellen Moody Ward, Venice; Mrs. Lena B. Allen, Beverly Hills; Mrs. Margaret M. White, Long Beach; Mrs. Elisa G. Roberts, Redondo Beach; Mrs. A. H. Clarke, Hollywood; Mrs. Amanda Clara Lang, Walnut Park; Mrs. Francis G. Bittinger, 1725 West Moreland street; Mrs. Emily P. Boller, 1835 Micheltorena; Mrs. Abigail Broughton, 1211 Serrano street; Mrs. Anna Goldfarb, 4919 Third avenue; Mrs. James S. Henry, Jr., Hollywood; Mrs. Ester Rosen, 737 East Twenty-eighth street, and Mrs. Catherine McLaughlin, Hollywood.

The contingent was divided into two groups. One left at 6 p.m. over the Southern Pacific and the other over the Union Pacific at 6:05 p.m. Both groups will arrive in New York on Monday and on that afternoon will embark on the S.S. Republic.

BERMAN AGREES TO RETURN HERE

be promptly carried out. Berman has informed the District Attorney that he will not oppose the application for his return."

The two cases against Berman are those of forgery and embezzlement, an old indictment, and a recent indictment charging conspiracy to commit bribery. Both cases came up for trial within the last two weeks and when the first was called in Superior Judge Wilson's court it was announced that Berman was preparing to surrender himself to the Federal prison authorities to begin a seven-year sentence on a mail-fraud conviction. Judge Wilson immediately issued a bench warrant, as did Superior Judge Schauer, before whom the second Berman case came up, but the Federal authorities in Seattle took Berman from the custody of the State officers.

If the proceedings go through as slated by the District Attorney's office yesterday, it will mean that Berman, whose testimony was largely responsible for the indictment of more than two-score persons in the Julian cases, will repeat his grand jury testimony in open court. He will be a main State's witness at the trial of thirty-nine men charged with conspiracy to commit usury and against ten men accused of being directly responsible for the huge overissue of Julian stock.

Berman agreed to come back to Los Angeles, however, it was learned, with the understanding that the District Attorney would move to dismiss the charges against him and his brother, Louis Berman, in the bribery case and use the former as a State's witness in that case also. In the bribery case the two Bermans are charged with conspiring with Louis Krause to bribe jurors that sat on the panel which heard the first stock overissue trials in 1928.

The one case, therefore, upon which Berman probaby will be tried is the forgery and embezzlement indictment, trial of which is set for Superior Judge Schauer's court. This indictment was returned by the 1927 grand jury.

While the plans for returning Berman were the center of interest yesterday, the grand jury caused something of a flurry when they swore to affidavits which caused Miss Edith E. Stocker, secretary to the legal firm of Flint & MacKay, to be cited for contempt of court for refusing to answer questions in the grand-jury room several days ago. The citation was made by Superior Judge Wood, before whom Miss Stocker is scheduled to appear next Monday at 11 a.m. for hearing on the charges.

CALLED BEFORE JURY

It was learned that the young woman was called to the grand-jury rooms originally to identify what were supposedly her initials on reproductions of original Julian stock pool agreements on which the usury indictments are based, but that she refused to do so on the ground that communications between a client and his attorneys or the latter's employees are inviolate under the law. The grand jury took the position, however, that Miss Stocker's employer had no client in the Julian case at the time the reproductions were made.

A witness before the grand jury yesterday was Norman Bailie, president of the Los Angeles Bar Association. No statement was forthcoming from any source, however, of the significance of his visit, but rumors were circulated that the jurors had in mind contempt proceedings against another organization, also.

school education. But inspired with the purpose of studying law he entered the office of a law firm and there learned unaided the elements of law. At the age of 30 he was admitted to the bar and practiced law in Michigan for eleven years, coming to Los Angeles in 1911.

For six years he practiced law in Los Angeles as an asociate of the H. H. Appel law firm. In 1917 he entered the District Attorney's office under the late Thomas Lee Woolwine. A few years later he opened the Long Beach branch of the District Attorney's office and superintended its organization.

Mr. Dennison continued his duties as a deputy District Attorney throughout the Keyes administration, heading the homicide department, and when Dist.-Atty. Fitts took office more than a year ago he was given one of the most important positions in the office.

While serving in the District Attorney's office he figured in many of the most prominent criminal trials. Among them were the trials of S. C. Stone, convicted of murdering May and Nina Martin; E. E. Sweeney, asserted lobbyist; J. K. Fronk, check kiter; Mrs. Madeline Obenchain, Clara Phillips, Carl Westcott, Mrs. Louise Peete and many others.

Mr. Dennison leaves his widow, Mrs. Grace Dennison of 256 Thorne street; his mother, Mrs. Anna Dennison, and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Butler and Mrs. Nellie Davis, all of Marshall, Mich.

The funeral services at the Cresse funeral chapel at Forest Lawn Cemetary will be public. Officers of the Highland Park Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons, will have charge of the services at the grave.

MRS. RAPPAPORT DIVORCED

Mrs. Sophie Rappaport, whose husband, Max Rappaport, was sent to jail last year for defrauding a client, obtained a divorce yesterday in Superior Judge Guerin's court. They were married in 1906.

UNIFORMED GROUPS TO AID BONDS

Police and Firemen Will Make Campaign in Behalf of City Water Supply

With the approval of Mayor Porter a drive is being prepared by the Los Angeles fire and police departments to put over the $38,800,000 water bond issue to be voted on at the election on the 20th inst., President Werdin of the Fire Commission stated yesterday.

Werdin reported that a spirit of co-operation between the fire and police departments became apparent at a meeting in central fire headquarters at 217 South Hill street, where 250 executives of both departments gathered to consider plans for a campaign to put over the water bond issue as an absolute necessity for the future expansion of Los Angeles.

Through these executives all firemen and policemen are being informed that it is the wish of the administration that a favorable vote be rolled up on the 20th inst. and that no employee will jeopardize his standing or civil-service rights by urging votes for the bonds since no political issue is at stake.

Policemen and firemen will be allowed to canvass the city for votes while in uniform when off duty.

At the meeting Werdin, Fire Chief Scott, Chief of Police Steckel and Deputy Chief Davis all made talks urging the importance of the bond issue, stating they would give every co-operation toward the furnishing of private automobiles and literature. Werdin promised to furnish five cars with drivers for the campaign. He declared that with both departments working there is every prospect of a successful vote.

Firemen and policemen are being urged to carry on the campaign without getting into any arguments or using any undue influence.

county, where the cases were tried. This stay of the injunction orders was granted by the Supreme Court only after the city had produced proof showing that the cutting off of the wells at this time would work a disastrous water shortage upon Los Angeles, it was explained.

"Because of the seven or eight abnormally dry years that have visited the entire Southwest," Van Norman stated yesterday, "the rainfall locally and the snowfall in the mountains have been extremely light, with a consequent serious lowering in water production.

"At the same time the demand for water in Los Angeles rapidly has continued to increase. The result has been that during the past two years the Water Bureau has been pressed to its last resources in developing the water actually needed by our people.

"It was to obtain the water so urgently needed that the city drilled and put on production some ninety-five deep, heavy-draft wells on its land in Owens Valley. Ranchers owning adjoining land, however, were successful in obtaining court restraining orders prohibiting the operation of these wells on the contention that the city's wells also are lowering the water under their land.

"Purchase of the outstanding water land in Owens Valley at prices long ago set by appraisals would, of course, remove the menace of this injunction."

Van Norman explained that one-half of the total amount of water being brought down to Los Angeles by the Aqueduct is now being drawn from underground reserves accumulated during a long period of years. The shutting down of these wells automatically will cut off one-half of the present Aqueduct supply, it was said.

Improvement of Sunset Ordered by City Council

The ordinance ordering the widening, paving and improving of Sunset Boulevard between Normandie avenue and Havenhurst Drive was adopted yesterday by the City Council.

The project, which extends for 4.3 miles, is estimated to cost $650,000. The city has allocated $110,000.

The street will be widened five feet on each side, making a seventy-foot roadway, except where it would eliminate large trees. This area is left alone. The stretch between Vine street and Highland avenue will be paved first.

PAGEANT TO BE GIVEN

Herbert Sapper, Edna Fishgrund and Wilma Leonard will present a pageant called "A Tribute to Motherhood" at 8 p.m. today at Sinai Temple. Addresses will be given by Rabbi Mayer Winkler and Mrs. S. Markowitz. Past presidents of the Sinai Sisterhood will be honored guests. Following the service a reception will be given to mothers by Mrs. W. Perluss and members of the Sinai League.

SALE RECEIPTS WILL GO TO PROPERTY OWNERS

A wave of resolutions struck the City Council yesterday and five were introduced. Councilman Davis proposed that the money received from the sale of buildings occasioned by the opening and widening of Broadway from Pico to Forty-first street, amounting to $35,694, be distributed on a pro-rata basis to the property owners in the assessment district. This was adopted.

Councilman Webster suggested that the cost of lowering the northerly terminus of Seventh street to West Channel Road in Santa Monica Canyon, thus providing a traffic relief for the Coast Highway, be divided with the county paying half, or $10,050, Los Angeles $8250 and the city of Santa Monica $1800. This was referred to the Finance Committee.

Councilman Martin proposed that the Civil Service Commission make provision whereby the Councilmen can nominate lists of taxpayers as laborers in the lot-cleaning division. This was referred to the Efficiency and Personnel Committee.

Councilman Jacobson proposed that the El Sereno storm drain be eliminated from the plans for the improvement of Huntington Drive north between Locke avenue and Van Horne avenue, and that the City Planning Committee consider the matter of establishing setback lines in Huntington Drive north between Canto Drive and Kendall avenue, the project for widening this stretch having been abandoned. Both of his resolutions were adopted.

Prompt Dental Service Is Parker System Idea

By Dr. PAINLESS PARKER
Founder of the E. R. PARKER SYSTEM

People with little time to spare can get their dental work done promptly in offices of dentists who use the E. R. Parker System.

The old idea that you had to do a lot of waiting, make a lot of visits and go through a lot of professional red tape, is all wrong. That idea is what made old-style dentistry so costly.

When you visit the office of a dentist who uses the Parker System your teeth are examined without delay by an experienced dentist, who tells you at once what work your teeth need and what the price will be for doing it. If you decide to have your teeth cared for, the work can be done immediately.

The work then proceeds without a single useless postponement, and is completed as soon as good dentistry can possibly be done. The result is not only a saving of time, but of money as well.

Why not have that examination made right away? Dentists who use the Parker System make no charge for examination and you need feel no obligation for obtaining their advice.

You are assured of the utmost of courtesy at all times and you will be pleasantly surprised at the high quality of materials and workmanship in view of the unusually low prices.

Prompt service, too.

TUNNEL RULING UPHOLDS CITY

[illegible] on Broadway Deed Lost by Donors

High Court Says Municipality Has Control of Streets

Public Use Declared to Have Voided Gift Conditions

Attempts to enforce provisions of a thirty-one-year-old deed restricting the city from granting a franchise for a street railroad in the Broadway tunnel have been blasted. This was learned here yesterday with the receipt of a copy of a State Supreme Court decision from San Francisco.

The tribunal ruled that the city has an inherent right to control streets and the proper location and regulation of street railways. It was also stated that a public use has intervened to void the conditions of the deed.

DEED CLAUSE CITED

The action was brought by Madeline Francis Wills and named the city and the Los Angeles Railway. It was recited that the plaintiff, her mother and her brother in 1899 conveyed to the city for street purposes a strip of land in the Fort Hill tract with the object of promoting the construction of the Broadway tunnel. Among the provisions of the deed were:

"That no right or franchise for a street railroad over the said right of way be given by party of the second part and that same shall not be used for street railway purposes; and also it is expressly understood and provided that upon the breach of any of the above conditions this deed shall be null and void and the parties of the first part shall have the right to enter upon the premises conveyed and to hold and own same as fully as if this conveyance had not been made."

PLAINTIFF SERVES NOTICE

Application for a street railroad franchise was made in 1925 and granted in 1926. Later, the plaintiff served notice declaring the forfeiture of all rights held under terms of the deed. A trial in Superior Court resulted in a decision for the city and the street railway company. The present appeal was then taken.

The sole question before the Supreme Court was the question of whether or not the plaintiff was entitled to equitable relief. The court held that even if she had a property right in the street, she would have to content herself with an action at law and could not receive equitable relief.

Bellah Welcomes Wife to California

Reunion Marks Train's Arrival

James Warner Bellah "goes California" and sends for Mrs. Bellah, who also brings "Whisky" to Los Angeles from Maryland.

MRS. JAMES WARNER BELLAH has succeeded in transporting "Whisky" from Maryland to California without attracting the frowning attention of the Federal officials.

It all started several weeks ago when Douglas Fairbanks contracted with James Warner Bellah, novelist and short-story writer, to come to Hollywood and write an original for him. Mr. Bellah considered his visit as transient. But instead, he "went California," bought another Scotch terrier and sent for his wife and "Whisky," which all resulted in a happy reunion when the Golden State Limited arrived yesterday.

Hollywood is not new to Mrs. Bellah. She was Bernice Vert, stage and screen actress, who made quite a name for herself with Frank Keenan in "Peter Weston."

RED YOUTH SUES TO GET HIS DIPLOMA

High School Senior Who Confesses Radicalism Falls Back in Arms of Justice

Whether or not a high-school student who believes in the overthrow of the government by syndicalistic methods, as advocated by members of the Communist party should be given a certificate of graduation, will be decided at the hearing of a mandamus writ petition filed yesterday by Ralph Rosenstein, in behalf of his son, Max, 18 years of age, senior at Roosevelt High School.

The writ, filed by Attorneys Chaim Shapiro and H. Y. Romayne, asks F. H. Bouelle, superintendent of city schools, and Thomas Elson, principal of Roosevelt High, to appear and show cause why certificate of graduation should not be granted Rosenstein. Superior Judge Doran set the hearing on the case for the 28th inst. in Superior Judge Hanby's court.

Since June 26, last, it is stated in an affidavit on file, school authorities have failed to give the youth a diploma although he received a passing grade, because it is asserted, the youth is an avowed Communist. As a result, he is prevented from completing a technical education, he says.

WARWICK PAID LAST TRIBUTES

Funeral Rites Conducted for Spanish War Veteran and Retired Business Man

Funeral services for George Neville Warwick, 58 years of age, prominent socially in Los Angeles and a veteran of the Spanish-American War, were conducted at St. Vibiana Cathedral yesterday morning. Mr. Warwick died Tuesday at his home, 445 South Commonwealth avenue, following an illness of more than a year.

A resident of California for twenty-five years, he was one of the directors of the N. B. Blackstone Company, retiring from business activities ten years ago. In 1917 he married Miss Mary Dillon in Los Angeles. His widow is the sister of Dr. Edward T. Dillon and Richard Dillon.

Mr. Warwick was born in London, Eng. His father was Maj. Henry Warwick of the Coldstream Guards. After attending Harrow College in England Mr. Warwick came to America. He lived in Boston a year and then went to Kansas City. A few years later he came to California.

During the World War he was appointed captain of personnel for troops in training in Los Angeles, and later was transferred to the training camp at San Francisco.

DAUGHTER OF JUDGE BECOMES MOTHER

Superior Judge Shaw and his wife yesterday received a cablegram from Paraguay informing them of the birth of a son to their daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Faust, wife of John Bernard Faust, vice-consul and secretary of the American Legation at Asuncion. He is named Owen Hartley Faust, according to the message. The babe is the second grandchild in the judge's family within a year, for a daughter was born to his other daughter, Mrs. Evelyn Lawrie, wife of Arthur E. Lawrie, Glendale, seven months ago.

FINK LOSES IN BATTLE ON APPEAL

Appellate Court Rules for Defendants in Suit on Realty Deal Verdict

Proceedings in the Apellate Court seeking to prohibit Superior Judge Fleming from entertaining or passing upon a motion for a new trial in the case of Benjamin Fink against William Weisman, et al., came to a close yesterday with a decision for the defendants.

The decision, written by Justice Thompson and concurred in by Justice Gavin Craig, found that the defendants did not waive their rights to apply for a new trial in the regular course of procedure. The question was raised by Fink in setting forth that defendants had no right to interpose written motions after oral motions were made and that by reason of their failure to word the oral arguments in the alternative they waived their right to move for a new trial in the regular course of procedure.

Motions for a new trial now are pending in the Superior Court and the court is about to hear arguments upon them.

The Superior Court suit was over profits in a real-estate transaction. Fink was awarded $115,000 by a jury. Immediately following the verdict, defendants orally made motions for a judgment in their favor notwithstanding the verdict of the jury. The court continued the hearing until the following day. Prior to the argument, counsel for the defendants filed with the court written motions for a judgment notwithstanding the verdict, which written motions were different from those orally made in that the former were in the alternative, reserving to themselves the right to apply for a new trial in the event of a denial of their motions for judgment, which motions were denied by the court.

The section of the code involved in the case was taken from similar legislation in Minnesota and North Dakota. In accordance with a well-known rule of construction, it was stated, the act is to receive the interpretation given to it by the courts of the States from which it is adopted.

"We have found the authorities of Minnesota to be definitely opposed to the contention of the petitioner," the decision read. The decision also found that "there is an entire lack of legislative intent to put the losing party to a waiver of his right to apply in the trial for a new trial . . . by his failure to word his motion for a judgment notwithstanding a verdict in the alternative."

MRS. BIXBY WINS ACTION FOR DIVORCE

Long Beach Founder's Son Does Not Appear to Fight Mate's Cross-complaint

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, May 8. — Mrs. Bertha K. Bixby was granted a divorce from Jotham W. Bixby on her cross-complaint at a quiet hearing in Superior Court here yesterday noon. Judge Hight presided. Mrs. Bixby and her sister testified.

Court records were suppressed during the day, but the proceedings were revealed today when Vic Wallace, court clerk, completed his minutes.

Jotham W. Bixby, millionaire son of the founder of Long Beach, who filed the initial suit, did not appear. His attorney announced that the plaintiff did not desire to present any testimony and Mrs. Bixby took the stand and denied the desertion charged by her husband. She asserted that he abandoned her by failing to join her in New York as agreed. Mrs. Bixby's sister, Charlotte Satterlee, corroborated the testimony and Judge Hight awarded the wife an interlocutory decree.

Property claims had been adjusted by a settlement prior to a separation which took place more than two years ago.

THREE STATES TO PICNIC

The spring picnic reunion of the State societies of New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland will be held tomorrow at Sycamore Grove Park, with their respective presidents, C. Newton Miller, George A. Wilson and E. T. Russell, in charge. Each State will have its own section and county registers. Music will be furnished by the White King Quartet.

TOY AIR BATTLE PROJECTED

"Times" Model Plane Builders to Put on Night Display With Flares and Parachute Jumps

Night flying with detonating bombs, star shells, flares, color lighted planes and soaring parachutes will form the high spots of the first miniature warfare demonstration ever attempted in America which will be presented by students of the Los Angeles Times-Playground Aircraft League at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Poinsettia Playground, 7341 Willoughby avenue.

The pick of the Southland's best model airplane designers and builders who have received instructions in the three aviation schools sponsored by The Times plan an exhibition which will rival in miniature the recent army air maneuvers. The public is invited and seating arrangements have been made by Louis A. Orsatti, director of the aviation school, to care for spectators who want to witness this new development in juvenile aeronautics.

PLANES CARRY LIGHTS

On a large darkened field, lighted only by the occasional flashes of home-made searchlights, following a model in flight, tiny pursuit planes will be seen in the attack. Four-foot bombing planes and planes that release a parachute with sister's doll as the pilot will flash across the sky. Trench flares will be dropped upon an imaginary enemy.

Many of the boys will have models in flight carrying red and green traffic lights obtaining energy from small batteries carried within the fuselage. Unbelievable as it seems, one of the youngsters has constructed a miniature plane which lays smoke screens of immense volume. Another boy has entered a rocket plane patterned after the recent German inventions and another youngster will have his ship drop tiny bombs that explode upon impact.

MODELS TO BE DISPLAYED

The public will be taken behind the scenes of the young airmen's organization when all models and release mechanism will be displayed in the Poinsettia Playground community house between 7 and 8 p.m.

A special display will be made of a unique, compressed-air-driven model airplane operating upon 200 pounds per square inch air pressure and capable of flying sixty miles an hour. This creation is a development of E. V. Chandlee of the Los Angeles Playground Department, whose services are available to boys registered as members of the Los Angeles Times-Playground Aircraft League.

Engineers Report Figures to State Commission

Corporation's Operation in 1928-1929 Studied

Inquiry Seeks to Determine Return Paid on Capital

Resuming its investigation of retail gas rates of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, the State Railroad Commission yesterday heard engineers present figures estimating that plant and distribution operating costs of the gas department of the concern were $5,339,000 in 1928 and $5,434,000 in 1929.

The figures were presented in the commission's inquiry on its own motion to determine whether the net revenue of the company exceeds 7½ per cent on its capital investment.

J. E. Spelce, assistant gas engineer for the commission, presented the estimates on operating expenses. At the next session of the hearing on the 22nd inst. commission engineers expect to offer estimates on the book-keeping and office end of the business.

When the inquiry was started last year, commission engineers estimated that the company's net revenue for 1929 would be 9 3-4 per cent on its capital investment, but these estimates were challenged by the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation officials, who said they could prove that the actual return would be less than the 7½ per cent which the commission has held in previous cases to be a fair return for public utility corporations.

BABY BORN TO WIFE OF FILM COMEDIAN

Stan Laurel of the film comedy team of Laurel and Hardy, was on the Hal Roach lot yesterday passing around cigars. Wednesday night at 7:45 o'clock Mrs. Laurel presented him with a baby boy. Mrs. Laurel is convalescing at the Hollywood Hospital. Little Lois Laurel, 4 years of age, is delighted at the prospect of having a baby brother to play with.

TULLY RITES ARRANGED FOR TODAY

Friends of Editor Will Attend Funeral Services at Scottish Rite Cathedral

A host of friends will gather at Scottish Rite Cathedral, 929 South Hope street, at 2 p.m. today to pay their last tribute to A. Y. Tully, managing editor of the Evening Express, who died Wednesday. Only members of the family are to go with the body to Rosedale Cemetery, where it will be cremated.

Dr. Edward D. Gaylord, pastor of the Congregational Church of the Messiah, which was the Tully family church, will open the funeral service this afternoon. He will make a short address and then will turn over the ceremony to Arlington Lodge of Masons. Under the leadership of Worshipful Master A. C. Ayres the full funeral ritual will be given.

A considerable body of Masons, Shriners and Sciots is expected to attend. Mr. Tully in former years was active in Masonic circles. Once he was a high official of the Sciots in Southern California.

Many messages of sympathy were received at the Tully family home, 1808 South Van Ness avenue, yesterday. Mr. Tully's death occurred there suddenly about 7 a.m. Wednesday just as he was ready to go to his office. He died of heart cramps before aid reached him.

The editor was especially known as conducter of the Express' first-page column "Shootin' Straight."

All Fox theaters except those of the West Coast chain will come under the direction of Oldknow and Arthur, it was said, in accordance with the plan of Harley L. Clarke, new president of the Fox Film Corporation and Fox Theaters Corporation, to co-ordinate all Fox activities.

The theaters to be directed by Oldknow and Arthur are about 600 in number.

WHAT THINKS JUDGE BEN?
More divorces in Denver than marriages, is news report. Evidently once is enough for those who have tried it.

THE CAT COMES BACK
It is the cash the "honest citizen" pays to the bootlegger that supplies the sinews of war for the crime organization that sends out its minions to rob him.

GULLIBILITY AND CASH
Despite repeated newspaper exposures, the easily deceived still pour out their cash to the fortune tellers. The curious thing is how the gullible have so much money.

IN REVERSE
Those who believe that "woman will rule the world" and that "man will be the weaker sex" should get a kick out of the trial in which one man is accused of pulling another's hair.

CONCEIVABLE
It is conceivable that events today are among the factors which caused Caesar about 2000 years ago to cross the Rubicon, says Dr. G. N. Lewis of the University of California. That is the way jazz also affects us, Doc.

PROVINCIAL LOOTING
Los Angeles has been comparatively free of the gang warfare and usurpation of political power by racketeers that have characterized so many of the big cities. But the Julian case would indicate that the bunko men still consider us legitimate prey.

THAT REVOLUTION
Wets are talking openly of a revolution that is coming in America. It has already been started and Herbert Hoover is the leader. But it is not a revolution against government or the social order; it is the rebellion of the people against organized crime. The throne of the bootleg king is trembling, no matter what comfort he may take from the ravings of the Hearst newspapers or the "names" that are back of the moist propaganda.

LAME DUCKS
The open season on lame ducks is here again. Five times in the last six years Senator Norris has offered a resolution in the Senate on the subject, and as many times it has been approved. However, the House, which began as the radical body, has turned conservative and smothered the resolution in committee, or by other anesthesia.

If passed, the resolution would shorten the time between election and inauguration of the President and Vice-President and the convening of Congress. The short session would be abolished and the lawmaking body would assemble at least once a year on the second of January. Inauguration day would be the fifteenth of January.

In the early days of the republic there were reasons for delay in the assembly of Congress. Tardy communication and slow transportation demanded time. However, these disabilities no longer hold.

The English Parliament convenes within two or three weeks after election. The French Chamber of Deputies gathers within ten days after being chosen. The German Reichstag meets in thirty days after the polls are closed.

The Senate recently approved the lame duck resolution 64 to 9. If the House should act favorably, which it seems to have done but once in recent years, the Lame Duck Constitutional amendment would be submitted to the people. There is little doubt what the voters would do to it.

Why is a lame duck? His activities have been largely devoted to filibustering in the past. Knowing his fate, he has improved his declining shining hours in holding up needed legislation and defeating the will of the people. About to be consigned to oblivion, he suddenly flares up in a daring and independent manner. As a game bird he is neither good for food nor useful as a pet. A few Representatives who hold their country above their own private interests would soon dispose of this bird.

JUDGE PARKER REJECTED
A combination of partisanship, of factionalism, of spite and of craven fear of those two stuffed clubs, the "union-labor vote" and the "Negro vote," were sufficient in the Senate to reject the nomination of Judge John J. Parker to be an associate justice of the Supreme Court. That Judge Parker is a jurist of demonstrated capacity and integrity, coming from a portion of the country not adequately represented in the government, with the virtually unanimous indorsement of the legal profession, counted for nothing. The radicals, the unions and a few political Negroes were against him. The vote is not a reflection on Judge Parker nor upon President Hoover; it merely illustrates the depths to which some Senators have sunk.

Two incidents of the fight against Judge Parker are worthy of special mention. One was the assertion of Senator Hiram Johnson that the Parker appointment was made for political reasons. If there was any ground for such an assertion, it would be a case of the ashpit criticising the complexion of the saucepan. Senator Johnson could not be more ridiculous than in objecting to the playing of politics by anyone. The other was the assertion of Senator Ashurst that Senator Dill had been promised a Federal judgeship for a vote for Parker—an assertion which Senator Dill promptly denied. This compares with the famous Ashurst utterance from the stump the night before the McNamara brothers confessed to dynamiting, when he tapped his pocket and declared he had therein positive proof of their innocense. The Arizona man by his latest declaration added to his reputation for reckless speech though in this instance he was merely one of the spokesmen of the union-labor lobby.

Senator Borah, who led the attack against Judge Parker, so far as that attack was made on the ground of the Red Jacket case injunction decision, has been one of the loudest of objectors to what he is pleased to call "legislation by the courts." But had Judge Parker's action in upholding the Red Jacket injunction been otherwise he would have been legislating. The law, as declared by the Supreme Court and never changed by Congress, plainly required him to uphold the injunction. Senator Borah was, in fact, complaining of the law, not of Judge Parker; his arrows were aimed at the wrong target.

In the course of the debate, various Senators who had not taken trouble to inform themselves what they were talking about, referred to the so-called liberal attitude of Justice Brandeis on labor questions. It has already been pointed out that Justice Brandeis, though dissenting from the majority in the case on which Judge Parker's decision was in part based, upheld that majority in its contention that nonunion employment contracts are valid. Another opinion by Justice Brandeis, it may be added, contains this emphatic language:

"If lawless methods are pursued by trade unions, whether it be by violence, by intimidation, or by the more peaceful infringement of legal rights, that lawlessness must be put down at once and at any cost."

Applying these words to the Red Jacket case, it may readily be surmised that Justice Brandeis, had he been in Judge Parker's place, would have decided that case precisely as Judge Parker did. The most favorable view that can be taken of the action of the union organizers who sought to disrupt the orderly production of the Red Jacket miners—all of whom had signed voluntarily the nonunion contract—is that they were "peacefully infringing legal rights." The Red Jacket miners had a right to work undisturbed and unannoyed and the right to have the law protect them in that right.

The pretentious charge against Judge Parker fades, on examination, into nothingness.

As to the accusation that he opposed Negroes in politics, that, too, is hollow. In some passing remarks in the course of a speech, Judge Parker appears to have said, in substance, that he deplored the entrance of Negroes, as Negroes, into the political arena. A great many Negroes share this view. No thinking man asserts that mere race is or ought to be either a qualification or a disqualification for political activity. Negroes have their place in politics as citizens of the United States, and not in any other capacity, and no statement of this plain fact ought to be objected to by members of that race. There was no sincerity in the opposition to Judge Parker on this score.

This situation raises the whole question of what the Supreme Court ought to be. In the view of the radicals, apparently, it should reflect the passing opinions of the majority in Congress, change as the political complexion of the country changes. If the court is ever so made up, the American government will have changed gravely for the worse. The Supreme Court ought not to legislate. It ought to declare the law and carry out the intentions of Congress when these are expressed in accordance with the Constitution. Men who will perform this duty impartially alone are qualified to sit upon the high bench; such alone can be depended upon for the protection of individual human rights against encroachment. Thinking men want no weather vanes upon the court. The court is not constituted for the declaration of policy, and ought not to be.

President Hoover must not yield upon the important questions of principle involved in this matter. The Supreme Court can function with eight justices, if need be, but it cannot function if it is to be made spineless.

THE BURMESE TEMBLOR
Shattering the ancient seaport of Pegu, in Burma, an appalling temblor, reported to have killed hundreds of people, was followed by a fire which, according to cables from Rangoon, almost completely destroyed the city. Other towns also suffered from the shocks and from tidal waves.

It is true to their traditional superstition that the orientals should have connected the calamity with the arrest of Gandhi and begun a series of riots in consequence. But one fails to catch their viewpoint when it is considered that the fancied wrath of Buddha over Gandhi's imprisonment was visited upon their own people and not especially upon his "persecutors," while at the same time the Shwe-Dagon pagoda, the greatest pilgrimage shrine of the god, was totally destroyed. Still there is no accounting for the logic of the wonder-loving oriental.

Readers of Kipling will note with interest that the quake extended "from Rangoon to Mandalay." They will want to know if "the old Moulmein pagoda" withstood the shocks and whether they struck terror to the heart of "the Burma girl a-settin'" there. The Burmese quake was one of the severest Asiatic temblors since the Japanese disaster of 1923. But it was not so devastating as the three-day shake-up in Khorasan a year ago this month, when 2000 dead were reported, nor so destructive of life as another Persian temblor occurring a few days ago.

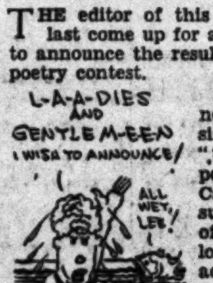
From pole to pole no part of the earth's surface seems immune from seismic disturbances and the Orient has had its full share of them in recent years.

LAW'S DELAYS
A case on trial in Federal Court this week is unique. The alleged rum-running crime was committed in 1925; arrests were made in 1926; it was investigated in 1927; tried in 1930. The judge who heard the original pleadings retired after four years and another heard the evidence. We need a little of the English in our Federal courts.

NOT ALL ROSES
There are some startling population increases, shown by the new census, that no one would care to brag about. For example, 97 per cent at Folsom Prison, compared with 10 per cent for the previous decade.

The LEE SIDE O' L.A.
BY Lee Shippey

THE editor of this colyum has at last come up for air, and is ready to announce the results of the spring poetry contest.



L-A-A-DIES AND GENTLE M-EEN I WISH TO ANNOUNCE!
ALL WET, LEE!

When we announced our desire to discover "the champeen poet of Southern California," we suggested poems of seasonable or local interest, but added that they might be on any subject, sad, glad or philosophical, so long as they were not over sixteen lines long.

The contest has been so successful that we doubt we'll ever start another one—it almost worked us to death. Some manuscripts came in from as far away as Boston. And some contestants, instead of submitting one or two, submitted from twenty to forty!

In all, about 600 people sent us poems and the total number of manuscripts was more than 1000. So if your work of genius wasn't fully appreciated, we hope you'll forgive us because of the crush.

Chinese Student in Petrarch's Style

Before announcing the winner, we're going to print the poems which pleased us most. The first was from a Chinese student at the University of Southern California:

SOLITUDE

I sit and dream within my lonely room,
The moonlight is my dim companion here—
The moonlight and a nameless, haunting fear
Which deepens all the shadows of the gloom.
My fancy makes familiar things assume Disturbing shapes, and ghostly faces leer
Like memories that will not disappear.

The wind is moaning with a cry of doom,
A tapping on my door! A wisp of sound!
At every mournful gust it comes again,
Like bony fingers rattling at the key!
With sinking heart I seek what may be found
Beyond the portal. Nothing at first—and then
Dead flowers that the wind has brought to me.
CHONG YING CHANG.

Noted Poet Competes

The next to deeply stir our imagination came from Louis Dodge, a poet whose verse frequently appears in Scribner's Magazine. Mr. Dodge has been making his home here for the last two years.

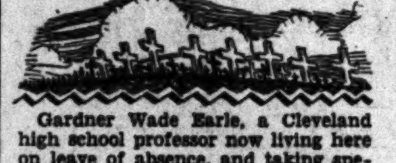
CHANGING WINDS

I have always stood in the open where the strong winds blow,
And they have kept me captive, who so longs to be free:
They shift me about and blind me when I would rise and go,
They deafen me and daze me and will not let me be.

There's a wind that would bring me wisdom, and one that would make me gay:
And one that counsels meekness, and one that would make me strong;
One sings of apples and flagons; one bids me fast and pray;
One tells the tale of candle and book—and one of revel and song.

Oh, I am betrayed by the strong winds, that drive me to and fro;
Because of them I am neither sage nor hero, nor knave nor clown;
And I pray that God may seize me yet and shape me ere I go
To that strange place where death comes, and the winds go down.
LOUIS DODGE.

War Completely Analyzed



Gardner Wade Earle, a Cleveland high school professor now living here on leave of absence, and taking special studies to secure a Ph.D., was a soldier in the World War and sends us this powerful thing:

PEACE OR WAR

Let those who doubt the worth of Peace but ask
The scarred and soul-seared veterans of War.
War's cost to us, to all of those who bore
The brunt of battle with its brutal task.
War memory is keen. She holds her flask
Of bitter wine for us to taste once more.
We knew the death of Pity as we tore
From mankind's leering Past the futile mask.
We heard the guns which opened up the maw
Of greedy earth to make more graveyard room.
Our breath was choked by poison gas—but is
There not a spirit curse, a wound more raw?
Ah, yes, and hell itself has not such gloom:
Our brother sought our lives and we sought his!
GARDNER WADE EARLE.

"Escapade," by Josephine Miles, and "The Musician," by K. M. F., previously published, seem to us entitled to honorable mention. And several others of unusual merit will be published later on this page.

Life's Problem in Six Lines

A whole sheaf of lovely, fanciful and hauntingly suggestive verse came from Sara Van Alstyne Allen, who is, we understand, a teacher at Claremont. This bit of hers, we believe, will mean something to everyone who has tried to choose between the earth earthy and the desire to soar:

CHOICE

Which shall be first,
The voice of the earth
Or the whisper of wings?

Which shall endure,
The wisdom that speaks
Or the silence that sings?
SARA VAN ALSTYNE ALLEN.

Policeman Cops Honors

AH, FOR THE LIFE OF A POET-ER!

Sergt. Cyrus C. Johnson, the poetical cop of Highland Park, whose verse frequently appears in national magazines, sends us these stirring lines:

HIGH SEAS

I care not how the winds may blow
If but the winds blow strong.
Pray send no veering, halting breath
To bear my craft along—
Just a bright, bright star to steer by
That my ship may not go wrong.

I care not how the seas may toss
Or ever the waves may roll,
Or if the fires of outpost stars
Must be my utmost goal . . .

I ride with beauty on treasure ships
Where the far dim quays are piled,
And I carry the kiss of a mother's lips
And the smile of a little child . . .

These are enough, O Master of Ships,
With your harbors of stars a-gleaming:
A far-flung sail, a booming breeze
And a song when the spray is streaming!
SERGT. CYRUS C. JOHNSON.

Like Soft-Singing Wind From the Mesas

Perhaps the most musical of all the poems received follows:

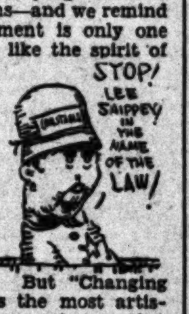
SONG O' THE WEST

Sing me to sleep, little whispering breeze,
Lilting your lullaby soft through the trees;
Sing me o' rivers and valleys and hills;
Coulees and canyons, and rivers and rills;
Snow-crested peaks with their heads in the sky;
Mountains uprearing their shoulders on high;
You have seen all of them, all at their best—
Sing me to sleep with a song o' the West.

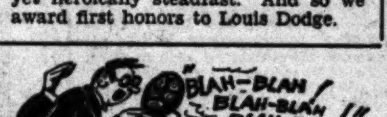
Sing me to sleep with your lullaby low;
Tell me the things I am yearning to know;
Where did you come from—and where have you been?
When did your sweetness and fragrance begin?
Whispering soft in the pine trees above—
Rocking them just like a cradle o' love;
Soothe and caress me, and lull me to rest—
Sing me to sleep with a song o' the West.
JAMES EDWARD HUNGERFORD.

The Winner

It is hard for us to judge between these excellent poems—and we remind you that the judgment is only one man's opinion. We like the spirit of "High Seas" best of all, but Masefield beat our undoubtedly gifted policeman to the main idea expressed. We like the tremendous sincerity of "Peace or War" and the poignancy of "Choice." But "Changing Winds" seems to us the most artistically suggestive, seems to reveal a sensitive spirit almost storm-baffled yet heroically steadfast. And so we award first honors to Louis Dodge.



STOP!
LEE SHIPPEY IN THE NAME OF THE LAW!



BLAH-BLAH! BLAH-BLAH!! BLAH-BLAH!!!

BIRDS AND MEN

By James J. Montague

The robins carol all day long;
The wrens and orioles,
In flowing ecstasies of song,
Pour forth their tuneful souls.
But when these tire of runs and trills,
Their far less gifted buddies—
The hoot owls and the whip-poor-wills—
Go on as understudies.

I like to hear, when days are bright,
The warblers in the wood;
But songs that last throughout the night
Are hardly quite so good.
Moreover, whip-poor-wills and owls
Leave much to be desired,
For, though no doubt well-meaning fowls,
They're wholly uninspired.

It is no dreamy lullaby
They chant from dusk till dawn,
A body cannot shut an eye
The while they carry on.
But yet they go their nightly rounds,
From oak to maple winging,
Emitting harsh and raucous sounds
Which they regard as singing.

However, throughout life one sees
In all its ranks and stations
As well as in the forest trees
Misunderstood vocations.
The man who has but little wit
Is frequently the proudest,
And of the birds that 'round us flit,
The hoarse ones sing the loudest.

CHOOSING YOUR CAREER

VII

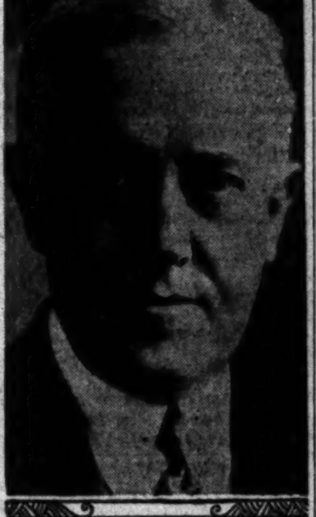
BY JOHN W. DAVIS

As Told to J. W. Fitzgerald

(Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance)

[John W. Davis is an outstanding lawyer. He was in Congress from West Virginia before becoming Solicitor-General of the United States. He was Ambassador to Great Britain from 1918 to 1921, and was Democratic nominee for President in 1924. He was president of the American Bar Association in 1922. He was educated at Washington and Lee University.]

You should have a good digestion, to quote a famous English chief justice, if you are to become a successful lawyer. Likewise you need to possess real character and the industrious traits of the bee. The profession also demands an analytical mind—the ability to get at the root of a proposition and to separate essentials from nonessentials.



John W. Davis

Furthermore, you must be an excellent judge of human nature and have a sound, moral sense together with the determination to work hard until you have accomplished your set task. The law is no profession for the drone or shirker. To succeed in it you have to labor and study unceasingly and to put in long hours in office and court. An old saying has it that a lawyer works hard, lives well and dies poor. There is much truth in it.

You should be something of a business man to make strides in the profession. Very often you will be called upon to advise clients on matters that have a decided business aspect, aside from the legal. Such problems require more than mere knowledge of the law.

Don't think you have to be a great orator to succeed as a lawyer. If your reasoning powers are of high order and you have a logical mind, with the other qualifications, you will find ample satisfaction and sufficient financial rewards without gift of oratory. Some of the greatest lawyers in the country are not famed for their talents as speakers. Daniel Webster summed up the matter when he said:

"The power of clear statement is the great power of the bar."

If you have the gifts of persuasion, clear and logical expression and are keen and alert, you will succeed as a trial lawyer. If you lack some of these qualities, but possess other necessary traits, you might get the best results by devoting your time to office work.

Long preliminary training is required of the law student nowadays before he is qualified to seek admission to the bar in most States. The requirements will become even more stringent as the years go by. Generally speaking, you can utilize six years of collegiate work in order to be best equipped for your career in the legal profession.

Such a course, combining the cultural with the legal, will furnish you with the broad, general education that is more and more being demanded of lawyers. It will equip you with a knowledge of history, philosophy, literature, economics and broad grasp of English, provided, of course, that you are an intelligent student. With such a background your legal education will have a greater value than if you restricted your studies to the law.

Those of you who can't afford the longer course need not be discouraged. You can obtain a broad, cultural background by wide and intelligent reading. Do as much of this as you can, regardless of your preliminary education. The variety of cases that arise in the practice of law demand a knowledge of many subjects.

When your law course has been completed and you have been admitted to the bar, your next step will depend on circumstances. If you already have had practical service in a law office and have the necessary finances and prospects of an immediate clientele, you can start practice in your own office.

If you intend practicing in a smaller community, where, if your opportunities may be somewhat limited, your living expenses will be less and the demands put upon you physically fewer, this would be the wiser course for most of you. Outside the big cities the financial rewards at the top are not so great, but they are bigger in the intermediate stages.

If it is your plan to practice law in a larger city, you would perhaps find it of advantage to enter the employ of a firm. If you have not completed the necessary clerkship it would be necessary for you to do this. You can earn on an average of $2000 a year at the start, if you can qualify for a position with one of the large city firms.

You will have to be an outstanding student in college to get such an opportunity. Your future, if you make such a connection, is in your own hands. If you hang out your shingle in a smaller community you will be doing well if you are making expenses at the end of two or three years. However, you will have a chance there to emerge sooner as a figure in public and professional affairs.

Big law firms in the cities will offer you plenty of opportunity if you have ability. You will have the chance to work on cases of increasing importance as you progress whether you associate yourself with one upon finishing your college course or after a period of practice outside the metropolitan areas. Such an association might lead to a partnership or to an important post with a big corporation. Few of you can attain such success, but the goal and incentive are there for the capable ones.

Don't be induced to take up the profession by prospects of financial gain. While you will be assured of a living, if you are capable, you should not enter practice unless the law appeals to you as an attractive life's work.

The profession offers you a great opportunity for public service and a gateway to public life because you are constantly studying the problems of government. For that reason you are better equipped to deal with them than the average man in other walks of life.

The practice of law furnishes a constant stimulant to your intellectual powers through the variety of demands put upon you. While you will have to do a certain amount of drudgery you will have no dull times mentally.

And that, aside from financial and other considerations, is a decided recompense.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Art?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

An exhibit of over 100 paintings is being held at the Gardena Evening High School, Normandie and Palm avenues, Gardena. There is no admission charge and people of all ages are welcome. There are catalogues explaining the subject and the painter of each and student guides will gladly tell the plan of the school in holding this annual exhibit. Two pictures will eventually be bought by the school to be added to the large collection already hung in the assembly hall. Visitors may go on any school day from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. or from 7 to 9 p.m.

On Monday and Wednesday evenings, 7 to 9, there is a free class for those who wish to study art. Some students make wall hangings in oil on monk's cloth; or on theatrical gauze, with yarns and felts. Others paint fireside screens and telephone screens on upson board, with narrow molding, either hinging them or leaving them in one piece. Some paint canvases for the wall and others originate designs of various kinds to express their artistic impulses.

FRIEND OF MINE

Dark shadow dimmed the golden sun.
O'ercast the azure of the sky.
My heart knew naught
But quivering pain,
For love had died.

O God! I lifted up my cry,
How can I live, and find again
A quiet heart,
The joy of life
So lost in tears?

The winding road we'd wandered o'er,
The songs that we together sang,
The laughter. Ah!
It seemed that life
Held naught but pain.

Dear God! If thou can'st not again
Give back the love that once I knew,
Perchance thou'llt give
A richer gift
Of greater love.

And then you came, God's gift to me,
Your voice, your smile, the tender clasp
Of your strong hand
From out the dark,
Oh, friend of mine.

I cannot speak the words, nor tell
You how I love you more and more,
And that your voice,
Your tender smile
Has healed my soul.

You do not know, may never know,
Beloved comrade of my soul,
The peace that dwells
Within my heart
Because of you.
LILLA VANCE.

Airplanes are coming into world-wide use for many things besides conveying passengers and mail; for instance, the thick forests of Alsace-Lorraine are sprayed from the air so as to kill the millions of marauding caterpillars which cling to the treasured trees. Cotton dusting in the South is an old story, while in Russia poisonous gas is used by flyers to kill locusts.

Separate two eggs and beat the yolks until light and creamy, beat into them one-half a cupful of milk, and then add to them the sifted flour mixture. Beat well and add two tablespoonfuls of melted butter. Beat the whites of the eggs until they are stiff and dry and fold them into the batter adding one-half a teaspoonful of vanilla extract. Oil and flour a square baking pan, pour half of the batter into it, mix together one-fourth of a cupful of brown sugar, one tablespoonful of flour, one teaspoonful of cinnamon, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, one-half a cupful of chopped nut meats, one-half a cupful of raisins. Mix altogether and spread over the layer of batter, pour the remainder of the batter over this, place in a moderate oven and bake.

NUGAT CAKE

Cream one-half cupful of butter and cream into it a little at a time, one and one-half cupfuls of sugar. Separate four eggs, beat two of the yolks until light and creamy, then add them to the butter mixture, beat the whites of the four eggs until stiff and dry and add to them two teaspoonfuls of grated lemon rind, one-fourth of a cupful of lemon juice, and one-fourth of a cupful of sugar, beat the remaining egg yolks and fold them into the egg whites, with one-half a cupful of cold water. Place the egg white mixture in a double boiler and stir and cook until thick. Remove from the fire and allow to cool. Sift two cupfuls of flour with one-fourth of a cupful of corn starch and four level teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Add the flour alternately to the creamed butter and sugar mixture with a half a cupful of ice water. When the egg white mixture is cold add it to the batter, a little at a time, and beat well. Place the mixture in three oiled and floured layer cake pans, and bake in a moderate oven. White boiled icing: Place one cupful of corn syrup and one cupful of sugar in a saucepan and boil it gently until it will spin a long thread, beat the whites of two eggs until stiff and dry adding to them one-eighth of a teaspoonful of salt. When the syrup reaches the long thread stage, remove it from the fire and beat it into the egg whites, add only a few drops at first, beating continuously, then add the remainder very slowly. Continue the beating until the mixture is cool and thick enough to spread. Flavor with one teaspoonful of any desired extract.

PEACH CONDE

Mix with two cupfuls of hot boiled rice, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, one-half a teaspoonful of vanilla extract, and one cupful of peach juice. Place the mixture in an oiled casserole and on top of it place halved canned peaches with the pit side up. Place in the oven just long enough to heat the peaches through, from fifteen to twenty minutes. Then remove from the oven and fill the centers of the peaches with raspberry jam or any red, tart jelly.

BIRD'S NEST PUDDING

B. J. S., Los Angeles

Cut a slice off of the top of four or five large tart apples, pare the remainder of the apple and core but not all the way through. Scrap out as much of the inside as possible, without breaking it, add to the scrapings sugar, cinnamon, raisins and a few finely chopped almonds and two tablespoonfuls of sweet cooking cherry and the grated rind of one lemon. Fill the apples with this mixture and place the top on it. Butter a baking dish, place the apples in them and allow to cook in the oven for ten minutes. Then make a batter of four well-beaten eggs to which has been added one cupful of powdered sugar, beat well and add one cupful of flour that has been sifted with one teaspoonful of baking powder. Pour this mixture over the apples, return to the oven and bake for thirty minutes.

BUTTER SPICE CAKE

W. L. G., Los Angeles: One-half a cupful of butter, two cupfuls of brown sugar, two and one-half cupfuls of flour, one teaspoonful of baking powder, one-half a teaspoonful of soda, two teaspoonfuls of cinnamon, one-half a teaspoonful of cloves, one-half a teaspoonful of nutmeg, one cupful of thick sour milk. Cream the butter, gradually cream in the sugar, then add the well-beaten yolks of the eggs and beat until light. Sift the flour, soda, baking powder and spices and add it alternately to the butter mixture with the sour milk. Fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the four eggs, place in oiled and floured layer cake tins and bake in a moderate oven. Put together with a boiled frosting to which has been added one cupful of chopped raisins.

WHITE BREAD

I. C., Los Angeles: One cake of yeast, one and a half quarts of lukewarm water, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, four and one-half quarts of sifted flour, four tablespoonfuls of melted shortening or butter. One tablespoonful of salt. Dissolve the yeast and sugar in one quart of the lukewarm water and add one and one-half quarts of sifted flour or sufficient to make an ordinary sponge. Beat well, cover and set aside to raise for about one and one-half hours in a warm place. When well risen add the pint of lukewarm water, melted shortening, remainder of the flour or enough to make a moderately firm dough, and salt. Knead thoroughly, place in a greased bowl, cover and let rise for one and one-half to two hours. When light mold into loaves and place in a well-oiled baking pan. Cover and let raise again for one hour. When light bake from forty to fifty minutes. Placing in a hot oven for the first ten minutes, then reducing the heat. This recipe makes four large loaves. If a richer loaf is desired use milk in place of water.

DINNER ROLLS

I. C., Los Angeles: One cake of yeast, one cupful of milk scalded and cooled, one tablespoonful of sugar, three cupfuls of sifted flour, the white of one egg, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter or shortening. One-half a teaspoonful of salt. Dissolve the yeast and sugar in the lukewarm milk, add one and one-half cupfuls of flour and beat until smooth. Then add the well-beaten white of the egg, melted butter and the remainder of the flour or enough to make a moderately firm dough, and the salt sifted with the flour. Knead lightly, using as little flour in kneading as possible. Place in a well-oiled bowl, cover and set to rise in a warm place until double in bulk, about two hours. Pinch off pieces of the dough and roll into balls about the size of a large walnut. Place in well-oiled pans, cover with a cloth and let rise one-half an hour or until light. Brush the tops of the rolls with the white of an egg that has been slightly beaten and one teaspoonful of water added to it. Bake in a hot oven for ten minutes.

TELEPHONE OFFICES TO BE ERECTED

Plans for Three Dial Central Offices Involve Outlay of $2,770,000

Expenditure of $2,770,000 on three groups of buildings to be erected at once and on equipment with which they will be outfitted was announced yesterday by M. L. Stannard, division manager of the Southern California Telephone Company in making known the utility's plans for decentralizing its activities.

New dial central offices bearing the names of Hillside, Adams and Capitol will be located in the new district buildings located in Hollywood, on East Vernon avenue, and North Daly street.

Basic records will be transferred to these offices from present downtown headquarters at 740 South Olive street, and the company will transfer more than 300 employees to the three new districts.

The Hollywood building will be adjacent to the present Hollywood central office at 1429 North Gower. It will represent an investment of more than $200,000 with $50,000 additional for a garage. Equipment for a dial office to be called Hillside will represent an expenditure of $319,000.

Buildings to be erected at 513 Vernon avenue will include a two-story and basement Class A steel frame structure to house a dial central office called Adams. This equipment will cost about $524,000. A one-story garage also will be built.

The third division of the decentralization project involves an expenditure of $1,155,000 for the erection of a district business office, an equipment building and garage at 143 North Daly street.

Films to Show Household Work

Household work, from cooking to sweeping, has been classed as a science and duly recorded in motion pictures to be screened at the sixth annual Food and Household Show, opening Monday in the Ambassador Auditorium, according to program announcements yesterday.

Pictures at the show, Waldo T. Tupper, managing director, stated, will reveal some of the leading home economics experts of this country employing methods calculated to minimize kitchen toil and other home duties of the housewife.

Officials of the Southern California Retail Grocers' Association declare the event will be the finest food exhibit yet given in the West. It will run until the next Saturday night.

Burglar Suspect Arrested on Tip

Acting on an underworld tip that they would find at 102 South Commercial street, Inglewood, the man who broke into the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Tuttle at 4141 Fifth avenue and attacked her on the 2nd inst., University division police visited the dwelling yesterday and arrested Eugene F. McGee, 34 years of age.

McGee, booked on suspicion of burglary, answers the description of the suspect described by Mrs. Tuttle, the officers stated, and also that of a man who robbed M. Y. Hossick of 4164 Sutro street. He is said by police to be a drug user. He denied implication in both the attack and robbery. An attempt was to be made yesterday to have Mrs. Tuttle identify him.

Women are especially susceptible, doctors say . .

—to troubles caused by harsh, non-absorbent toilet tissue

THERE is no form of human illness quite so humiliating as rectal trouble.

Yet in millions of homes women are exposing themselves and their families daily to ailments of this nature.

For much of the toilet tissue sold to housewives today is entirely unfit for bathroom use. It may be glazed, chemically impure, or harsh-surfaced—infested with tiny slivers.

Today more and more housewives are realizing the health importance of toilet tissue.

And millions of women are insisting upon the tissues that physicians and hospitals have thoroughly approved — ScotTissue, Sani-Tissue and Waldorf.

These three health-protecting tissues are unusually soft and cloth-like. So absorbent they sink in water almost instantly.

The sheets tear easily and squarely at the perforations. And the rolls are closely wrapped to fit the built-in fixtures.

It doesn't pay to be careless in this bathroom essential. Be sure of safety. Always ask for ScotTissue, Sani-Tissue or Waldorf.

SONG DRAMAS WILL BE GIVEN

Alumnae Association to Meet Tonight

[Witzel studios]

Mrs. Joseph Danner Taylor

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION of Los Angeles will hold its annual banquet at the Town House this evening. A charming program has been arranged which will present Mrs. Joseph Danner Taylor in miniature song dramas. Mrs. Taylor has studied at the Schola Cantorum of Vincent d'Indy in Paris and is a delightful interpreter of songs. Her skill as a violinist has given her a lovely legato and her diction ranks with that of the best French diseuses. She will appear in two groups of French folk songs in costume and will be accompanied by Raymond McFeeters.

Mrs. Edward H. Roberts is chairman of the banquet committee and is assisted by Mmes. Arthur Hadley, Ruth Clarke, Jack Van Dorn and George V. Shipley.

Society

by JUANA NEAL LEVY

One of the loveliest affairs of the week was the reception and tea given Sunday afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. Orra Eugene Monnette at their home in South Oxford street, the affair being in the nature of a housewarming, as they have recently remodeled and furnished their house.

Spring flowers in a riot of color were used in profusion, with yellow roses predominating, and the tea table was garlanded by ropes of pansies and sweet peas with maidenhair ferns.

Assisting the hosts and presiding at the tea and coffee urns were Mrs. Henry Arthur Strodthoff, Mrs. Harols Swartz, Miss Alma Dorothy Priester, Mrs. A. A. Houck and Mrs. William Hamilton Cline.

The hours were from 4 to 7 o'clock, and more than 200 guests were bidden.

Home From Honeymoon

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Andrew Addleman, Jr., whose wedding was an event of March 18 in San Francisco, have returned from their wedding trip and are at home at 1464 Great Highway, San Francisco.

Mrs. Addleman was formerly Miss Elizabeth Kathryn Priesler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Wilbur Priseler of West Twenty-second street, and the ceremony was quietly solemnized in Trinity Episcopal Church in the northern city.

Mrs. Addleman was graduated from Los Angeles High School and Miss Fulmer's, later attending Stanford.

Informal Tea

Miss Marjorie Jones, one of the popular subdebs and a junior at Marlborough School, entertained Saturday afternoon with an informal tea at her home, 730 South Oxford avenue, 100 invitations having been issued to her classmates and school friends.

The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Richard Jones in receiving her young guests, while assisting about the rooms and at the tea tables were Miss Mabel Tanner, Miss Barbara Hope, Miss Patricia Richards and Miss Sheila Hunt.

Dancing formed one of the interesting features of the afternoon.

Several Affairs

One of the attractive members of the younger set, who has been entertaining with a series of lovely affairs this spring is Miss Woodie Lou Hunsaker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hunsaker, who Tuesday evening invited sixty-five guests to hear a musical program given by Irl Hunsaker, tenor, of Chicago. Following the program a delicious buffet supper was served.

Today Miss Hunsaker will give a bridge tea and shower as a postnuptial courtesy to Mrs. Malcolm Currie (Alice Flowers) and next Tuesday she will give a bridge luncheon and shower in honor of Miss Dorothy Dawn, fiancee of Paul Boggs, Jr., twenty guests being bidden.

Spring flowers and foliage are being used by this charming hostess at all of her affairs which are given at her parent's home in Beverly Hills.

Betrothal Luncheon

Honoring Miss Lala Heustis, whose wedding with William Oliver is to be an event of June, Miss Edith Selby, daughter of Mrs. William Selby, entertained yesterday afternoon with a luncheon at the California Club, the occasion also serving to announce formally the engagement of the young hostess to George Coles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Coles of Toronto. The date of the wedding has not yet been announced. The news was told by cards attached to gardenia corsages at each place and those included were Mrs. R. L. Heustis, Mrs. Gertrude Netcher, Mrs. Charles Selby, Mrs. T. S. Clark, Mrs. Lewis McClelland, Mrs. Harold Parsons, Mrs. Wesley La Fever, and Misses Lucille Foster, Janet Burns, Katherine Moriarity, Mary Lou Ryan, Jane Oliver, Edith Shankland, Betty Ebbert, Katherine Labry, Virginia Aldous, Delores La Belle, Evelyn McCombs, Alice Aldrige, Deborah Barrington, Betty Hart, the hostess and hohor guest.

Invitations Issued

Invitations are being issued by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Evans of Santa Monica for the wedding of their daughter, Miss Laura Linck Evans, and Francis Bryant Hull, the ceremony to take place Monday evening the 26th inst. at 8:30 o'clock in the First Presbyterian Church of the seaside city.

Repeat Raggedy Ann and Andy

The Pasadena Junior League will repeat its Children's Play, Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy, at the Community Playhouse in the Crown City, tomorrow at 10:30 a.m. The charming vehicle was such a great success last Saturday morning that they had to turn away more than 200 children as every seat in the theater was taken and a great demand was made to repeat the show tomorrow morning.

These plays for the little folk are given each year by the Pasadena Junior League with immense success. Mrs. Carleton Swift is chairman of the play committee while Mrs. Burns Armstrong is in charge of publicity, Mrs. Chandler Ward, production, Mrs. John Ward costumes, Mrs. Charles Stimson, rehearsals, and Miss Sally Cameron dancing.

Chapel Ceremony

With a background of spring flowers and ferns St. Xavier chapel of Harvard Military School was the setting for the marriage Thursday afternoon of Miss Erna Meinschock to Sidney Vernon Pexton, the ceremony being read by Rev. R. B. Gooden. The brideg, given in marriage by her uncle, William Wilke, wore an ensemble of beige lace, with hat and shoes to match, and carried Talisman roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Jane Bangsund in aquamarine lace, carrying an arm bouquet of Russell roses, was the maid of honor, while Ellsworth Pexton served his brother as best man and Dr. C. W. Solier, William Cabell and Donovan Nutt ushered.

John Behan played the wedding music and sang several numbers preceding the ceremony, and immediately afterward a reception and wedding dinner was given for members of the bridal party and immediate relatives at the Mary Louise.

Mrs. Augusta Meinschock, mother of the bride, came from her home in West Bend, Wis., for the ceremony, and upon their return from the wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Pexton will make their home here.

Among the prenuptial courtesies extended Miss Meinschock and Mr. Pexton was the breakfast with which Mr. and Mrs. William Cabell entertained at the Dyas-Carleton, while Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Pexton entertained members of the bridal entourage with a rehearsal dinner-dance at the Pacific Coast Club in Long Beach, the table being decorated with spring flowers and lighted by tall tapers.

Luncheon Series

Mrs. Georgina Elizabeth Schmerhorn, who is giving a series of bridge-luncheons at the Town House this season, entertained with the second in the Wedgewood Room, honoring Mrs. Harriet S. Cole, who left the 4th inst. for her eastern summer home in New York State, many of the guests including old-time friends of the honoree, who has lived in Los Angeles for many years.

The large round table was a veritable garden of beautiful blossoms, the color scheme yellow and orchid with green and white covering the cloth. A fountain surrounded by yellow roses and maidenhair ferns formed the centerpiece, and from this long garlands of gardenias extended in every direction and with the ferns completely covered the cloth. A number of plaques effectively placed were also of yellow roses with a foundation of orchid sweet peas. The table was placed in the large circular window overlooking the gardens—just a pane of glass between this gorgeously decorated table and the sunken garden, which is now in bloom.

After luncheon bridge was played in the oak room.

When Fresh Peas are tasteless, can improve their flavor as cook by adding a dash of Suga

DON'T blame the peas if they are flat. If you could have eaten them when fresh picked, they would have been sweet and juicy. But the longer peas are off the vines, the less sweet they are.

Other vegetables—carrots, spinach, cabbage and tomatoes—can also be made much more palatable by adding a dash of sugar while cooking.

And the same holds tru preparation of stewed cooked cereals, meats,

There is no need to yourself of flavor ment when you sit do the table. Use sugar fo flavor value in the whol foods that belong in your and each meal will be pleasant event. The Institute.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

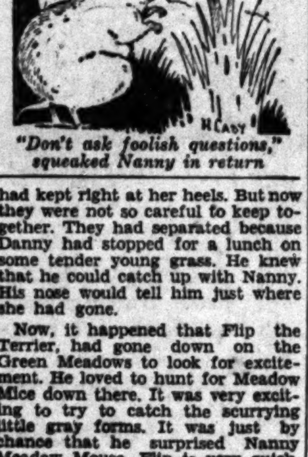
by THORNTON W. BURGESS

Make plans with care, but don't forget,
The best of plans may be upset.
—Nanny Meadow Mouse.

DANNY AND NANNY BECOME SEPARATED



"Don't ask foolish questions," squeaked Nanny in return

Danny and Nanny Meadow Mouse are old travelers. They have been around a good deal, living here and living there. Their last home was in the Long Lane. They had had a very comfortable home in the bushes where they grow along the fence on one side of the Long Lane. But Killy and Mrs. Killy the Sparrow Hawks had become very near neighbors, so Danny and Nanny thought they must move. It wasn't safe to live there any longer. It was Nanny who led the way.

"Just where are you going?" squeaked Danny, who was right at her heels.

"Don't ask foolish questions," squeaked Nanny in return. "I don't know any more about it than you do. We'll know it when we get there. The chief thing is to get away from the hunting ground of those Sparrow Hawks."

"Right, my dear, quite right," replied Danny. "We must get away from those Sparrow Hawks. But I wish we knew where we were going. In getting away from the claws of Killy the Sparrow Hawk we don't want to run into the paws of Reddy Fox."

"Of course we don't," replied Nanny, "and we're not going to. I'm not half as much afraid of Reddy Fox as I am of Killy the Sparrow Hawk. Those keen eyes of Killy's looking down from above can see every little thing, even in the grass and bushes. It is a wonder to me that we have escaped so long as we have. Yes, sir, it is far easier to keep out of the clutches of Reddy Fox."

Nanny suddenly squatted very close to the ground. Danny did the same thing. For three or four minutes neither of them moved. Then Nanny once more started ahead. "What was it?" squeaked Danny.

"I saw a shadow," squeaked Nanny. "I think it was Spooky the Screech Owl. He is as bad at night as is Killy by day."

All that night, with frequent and rather long stops to rest and eat, Danny and Nanny traveled. When daylight came they had left the Long Lane and were well out on the Green Meadows. They had had no real adventures. Perhaps it was on this account that they had grown somewhat careless. At first they had kept very close together. Nanny had led the way and Danny had kept right at her heels. But now they were not so careful to keep together. They had separated because Danny had stopped for a lunch on some tender young grass. He knew that he could catch up with Nanny. His nose would tell him just where she had gone.

Now, it happened that Flip the Terrier, had gone down on the Green Meadows to look for excitement. He loved to hunt for Meadow Mice down there. It was very exciting to try to catch the scurrying little gray forms. It was just by chance that he surprised Nanny Meadow Mouse. Flip is very quick. It is a smart mouse that can escape him. He almost stepped on Nanny and, of course, Nanny ran. Instantly, Flip was after her. Nanny was desperately frightened. She was so frightened that for a moment or two she simply ran blindly, without knowing where she was going or what she was doing. Flip was right after her, trying to pin her down with one of his paws. It was just good fortune that there happened to be an old can lying there—an old rusty can. Nanny dodged into it and Flip didn't see where she went. He hunted and hunted but he couldn't find her. Then he trotted back in the direction from which he had come.

Now, of course, Danny Meadow Mouse had heard the excitement and he in turn had been badly frightened. When he heard Flip coming his way Danny ran. He ran as fast as those short legs of his could take him. He ran off to one side and hid under a little tangle of old dead grass. So it was that Danny and Nanny became separated.

Of Interest to Women

Your Baby and Mine

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

USUALLY ACCOM- BY TEMPORARY UPSET

is a tendency on the part mothers to over-emphasize of teething. That is a for it makes teething for most of the ail- of childhood. We must realize, however, that even healthy babies do show some temporary upset during the actual eruption period, and the weaker child may have a real illness.

In the moment after the mother discovers the sharp little edge of the tooth, she is very apt to say, "Don't you remember how upset Bobby was last week? He wouldn't drink all his milk and woke up and cried so many times at night. I didn't think of it then but the poor little fellow was probably cutting these teeth."

Sometimes there are more noticeable symptoms—some fever, or more than the usual number of bowel movements, or a noticeable loss of appetite.

DECREASE FEEDINGS

When baby isn't hungry, don't force him to eat. Give him fewer feedings a day and weaken those. Shake up the bottle, pour off an ounce or two of formula and fill up the deficit with boiled water. Cut down on the amount of sugar baby gets if he is vomiting or the bowels are loose. If he is nursing, give him boiled water before each nursing. Help his stomach by lightening the load, instead of trying to wheedle more food into him and making him sick. Mothers have to get over the idea that baby is going to dry up and blow away if he misses a meal or two. Sometimes it is very good for him.

NO LOTIONS OR SYRUPS

To soothe his sore and irritable mouth, there is nothing better or more harmless than just ice water rubbed on with a piece of absorbent cotton. Or mother can wrap her finger in sterile gauze and dip that in the ice water and rub the gums. Baby will accept this gratefully. A nice, clean rubber ring, or a piece of orris root (soft wood) will give him something to bite down on hard. Never give soothing syrups or paregoric, or rub the gums with thimbles. The gums part and let the tooth through when it is ready, it doesn't have to be "rubbed" through.

If baby has a convulsion and high fevers, make up your mind his diet is poor. Perhaps he has been nursed too long, and thus lacks the elements that will make teething an easy process. Blame the diet, not the teething, for that. If baby's teeth are slow in coming in, blame the diet again.

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

Too Low

One housewife who found her kitchen table too low for comfort bought four door stops and screwed them to the bottom of the table legs. This will elevate the table to a comfortable working height for a tall woman.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

BOILED BEEF TONGUE, SWEET AND SOUR

Take a beef tongue, wash well, remove the roots and cover with boiling water. Add to the water, in which it is boiled, a spray of parsley, a slice of onion, one stick of celery and one sliced carrot, and boil slowly until tender. Remove, drain and cover with cold water and peel off the outer skin. Cut it into even-sized slices, season with salt and prepare the following sauce: Place one tablespoonful of butter or shortening in a saute pan, slice an onion finely and allow to slightly brown. Add a tablespoonful of flour and stir, until it bubbles then gradually add one cupful of liquor, the tongue was boiled in. Take one medium-sized lemon, cut in thin slices, remove the seeds and one-fourth of a cupful of seeded raisins, one-third of a cupful of finely chopped almonds, one-half a teaspoonful of cinnamon and two or three whole cloves. Add four tablespoonfuls of brown sugar, one tablespoonful of molasses and two tablespoonfuls of vinegar. Let this mixture boil until slightly thickened, lay in the sliced tongue and simmer gently for ten minutes.

SPANISH EGG PLANT

Take one medium sized egg plant, peel and cut in thin slices. Slice fine one large onion, and one bell pepper cut in strips, one pimiento and one can of tomatoes, three cupfuls of finely chopped celery, five tablespoonfuls of shortening, two drops of tabasco sauce. Cover the green pepper with boiling water and allow to stand for five minutes. Place a layer of the egg plant in a well oiled baking dish, cover with a layer of the celery, peppers, tomatoes, and onion, until the dish is filled, pour a tablespoonful of the melted shortening over each layer and season with salt, add the tabasco sauce, cover tightly, and bake until the egg plant is tender.

POTATO PUDDING

One-half pound of potatoes, one and one-half cupfuls of stale grated sponge cake crumbs, one cupful of sugar, one-half teaspoonful of cinnamon, mace and nutmeg, one-half cupful of butter, five eggs, one-third of a cupful of cooking sherry, one tablespoonful of grated orange rind. Peel and boil the potatoes, and put them through a ricer. While hot, add the butter and beat until light. Beat the eggs, add the sugar to them and the flavoring, then mix with the potatoes and cake crumbs. Oil a baking dish, pour the mixture in and allow to bake for thirty minutes in a moderate oven.

RISSOLES

One and one-half cupfuls of cold meat of any kind, cut in small dice, one-fourth of a cupful of finely chopped cooked ham or pork, four tablespoonfuls of finely chopped parsley, one egg, one teaspoonful of butter. Place the butter and flour in a saucepan and stir until well blended, then add the gravy or water, stir until smooth, and cook for two minutes, then stir in the meat and seasonings, bring to the boiling point, remove from the fire, beat the egg well, and add it to the mixture. Allow the mixture to cool, roll out a thin sheet of pastry, wet it slightly for about three inches on the edge and place on one-half of the sheet, little heaps of the prepared meat, about four inches apart, double over the pastry, covering the meat, and press with the back of a knife, but not cutting through, between each one of them. Brush with an egg, place in the oven and bake, cutting before serving.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Color Values

Blue is a contrasting color and apt to make a room appear cold.

Yellow is an enlarging color and will bring brightness to the dark places.

Gray is a harmonizing color, almost every hue looks well with it. It also gives the appearance of space to the room.

Cover the Bad Spots

Small oilcloth rugs in quite pretty designs and colors may be bought at the 5-and-10-cent store and they are splendid to place before the sink and one before the refrigerator to save the linoleum. The kitchen floor seems to keep clean longer with these little helps in the bad spots.

Dull Paint

Sometimes when we give the paints a particularly good scrubbing it leaves them dull and unfinished. The following mixture will wash it and leave a fine glossy finish. Into a quart of hot water pour one tablespoonful of turpentine, one tablespoonful milk and one-half tablespoon soap jelly or powder. It will bring back the gloss immediately.

A Scratched Stove

So many housewives have a nasty scratched place on their gas stoves from striking matches. It is so easy to tack a small piece of sandpaper close to the match box and avoid those ugly scratches on the stove.

*Quick vegetable-cream soup: While I always advocate the waterless method of cooking vegetables whenever possible, there are many instances when there will be found on hand a small quantity of the liquid from some cooked vegetable, or perhaps the liquid drained from canned vegetables, which contain valuable mineral elements that should be used. This liquid may be combined with an equal amount of canned or fresh cream, a little chopped parsley or celery, heated just below the boiling point, and served garnished with a dash of whipped cream. As an example, even the water in which cauliflower has been cooked makes a very appetizing soup; or the liquid from canned asparagus, peas or tomatoes. Those vegetables with the more pronounced flavors are especially suitable. It requires but a few moments to prepare soup in this manner, and the result is very pleasing as well as economical and healthful.

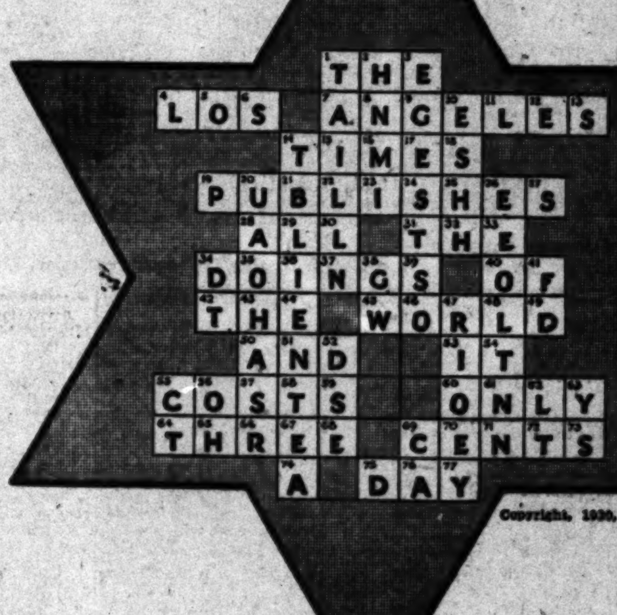
Are You Working The Star Puzzle?



Copyright, 1930, by Paul M. Bryan

A FLOOD of inquiries about the Star Contest arrives in every mail. This new, unusual and instructive pastime has certainly struck the popular fancy in the Southwest. A woman writes and thanks The Times for giving her children an opportunity to become interested in the best possible way to learn about the formation of words.

The principal of a big school advises that all his pupils are finding the Star of great interest and inestimable value. An author telephones from Hollywood that she didn't know that words could be so fascinating until she began to dig them out of the Star.

The Times wants everyone to enjoy the Star, and welcomes all questions even though nearly all of them could be answered by those who inquire if they would note carefully the rules and instructions. To answer every inquiry by mail is an impossibility, and it would be unfair to others to make an exception in any individual case. Therefore, all answers will appear from time to time in The Times.

Hundreds ask this question: "The rules are silent regarding such and such words. Can they be used?"

The answer is: "Any English word, the use of which is not directly forbidden by the rules, will be allowed."

Many ask why it is necessary to list all the words in alphabetical order. Because the lists must be checked with the words in the dictionary, which are in alphabetical order. This is a requirement which must be followed; otherwise, the lists cannot possibly be checked. The consecutive numbering of each word, and putting the total number of words at the top of the list, are also necessary in order to enable us to arrive quickly at the number of words in a list.

Q. Will names of plants, animals and stars be allowed?

A. If the names of the plants and animals are properly formed from the letters in the Star, and are not obsolete, archaic, or un-Anglicized (as indicated by two vertical lines in front of the words in the dictionary,) they will be allowed. A star is a place, and its name will not be allowed.

Q. Are variants allowed? MA and MAMA, PA and PAPA?

A. Yes.

NOMINAL PENALTY GIVEN CLERGYMAN

Rev. E. E. Wall

serve a sentence of twenty days for contempt of court, spent practically his entire day yesterday talking to visitors in the attorney's room of the jail.

Among the visitors was Mrs. Shuler, who saw her husband for the first time since his incarceration. Aside from the mild plaint that the change to jail diet is not wholly agreeing with him, Shuler said he was "getting along fine."

METHODIST CONFERENCE DECIDES AGAINST MESSAGE

DALLAS, May 8. (AP)—The conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church today voted to send and then not to send a telegram to Rev. R. P. Shuler of Los Angeles, serving a sentence in jail for contempt of court. Expressing disappointment at Mr. Shuler's being unable to attend, the telegram extended sympathy and stated the conference had confidence in his character.

There was some opposition to an expression, former Gov. A. C. Millar of Little Rock, Ark., stating he did not believe such action would show "due respect to the courts."

Opposition to sending the telegram developed when a delegate from the East asked some one to explain the incident.

A motion that the telegram be not sent was carried, after which W. H. Nelson of San Francisco, substituted on the Pacific conference delegation for Mr. Shuler, told the conference if it knew the facts it would send the telegram and attempted to explain what caused Shuler's sentence for contempt.

Bishop S. R. Hay of Houston told the delegates that Shuler was "the most influential man in California on moral reform."

Josephus Daniels also came to Shuler's defense.

"I have been in jail myself for contempt and I am proud of it," Daniels said, the delegates cheering him.

A telegram was read from Dr. C. C. Stevenson of Los Angeles, chairman of Shuler's board of stewards, advising that the board was "unanimously supporting" him.

RADIO PROVIDES GOOD 'MEDICINE'

Health-Aid Hints Not Only Offering Along This Line

Mere Twist of Dial Often Serves to Banish Blues

Ruth Hanna McCormick to be Heard Over KHJ

The Times Forum, KHJ, 1:30 p.m. Dr. Phillip M. Lovell, editor Care of the Body department of The Sunday Times. World-wide news, 12:30, 4:45 and 10 p.m.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

Radio is "good medicine" not only when it brings medical experts with the most advanced teachings for the promotion of health, but above and beyond that in the spiritual solace it offers when one is "down in the dumps and blue."

When mother has dressed and fed the children, sent them off to school and surveyed the "wreckage" it is her task to straighten up—when dad drags himself home from an office or factory session and feels there's a conspiracy to break him down—a slight twist of a radio dial sometimes gives that added impetus to "carry on."

The radio set taps a world of music and song without the four walls of the home, bringing a renewed interest and inspiration.

Even the modern Romeo, heartbroken over some love affair, may turn to the radio dial, hear the first few strains of a peppy dance orchestra—and another heart is mended.

Truly, radio is "good medicine."

WHERE TO TURN

At 2 o'clock this afternoon over KHJ Representative Ruth Hanna McCormick, Republican Senatorial candidate from Illinois, will speak for fifteen minutes on "The Illinois Election and the World Court." At 3 this afternoon Babe Ruth, "the King of Swat," will give a five-minute address. One can imagine the size of the audience of kids and ball fans that will hear the mighty Babe at the microphone. At 4 p.m. the Nit Wits, with Prof. Musclebound and Lord Algernon Ashcart, and an able cast, are to bring "Robin Hood" to a waiting public. This play originally was scheduled for Good Friday. The Sign of the Green and White at 6 o'clock is to feature one of Frank Crumit's latest comedy songs, "Donald the Dub." There will be other popular tunes on the program played by David Mendoza and his orchestra. Norman Brokenshire and Herbert Polesie will furnish the comedy novelties. At 7 p.m. Joseph Scott will be the featured speaker on a musical program, while at 8 tonight is to bring a vaudeville pot pourri from KFRC replete with variety, including the melodrama "Dangers of Desdemona." At 7:30 tonight Raymond Paige and his orchestra will be heard in the two suites of "Peer Gynt," while the reading of parts from this Ibsen play will be a feature of the half-hour. At 8:30 more California history will be offered when the story of the city of Oakland and its remarkable development is to be recounted. Raymond Paige's concert orchestra, with Robert Bradford as guest soloist, will furnish the musical background.

VARIETY AND CONTRAST

KFI from 6:30 p.m. on tonight promises an evening of delightful and vividly contrasted music and song composition. At 7:30 p.m. there will be the Schonberger Trio, with Paul Roberts, tenor, as soloist, in popular and semiclassic repertoire, while 8:30 is to bring the Two Shades of Blue in more modern harmony. At 9:30 p.m. the Packard Symphonet, with Jane Green, blues singer, will hold the dial.

KECA at 4 this afternoon, will feature the Cities Service Orchestra, Jessica Dragonette and the Cavaliers, guest soloists, in an hour of music and song. "Estrellita" and "Melody of Love" will be Miss Dragonette's solos, while the first half-hour will be devoted to excerpts from "The Love Parade." From 5 until 8 p.m. a wide choice of national network programs will be on the dial, including the Raleigh Revue at 6:30, Amos n' Andy at 7:30 and an Eastman Kodak program at 9:15 p.m.

KNX at 6:30 p.m. is to present the Piano Twins in special arrangements for two pianos, and the Trojan Woman's Trio, an organization from the University of Southern California. At 8 tonight KNX will say "Whoopee" with the Optimistic Donuts, billed as giving "the fastest moving program on the air-today." At 9:45 p.m. fight fans will listen in on two main events instead of one at the Hollywood Stadium.

KFWB at 9 tonight is to interview Jack Doyle, noted sports impresario, while 9:30 will feature Emma Kimmel, soprano, as guest soloist, in a half-hour of melody of the lighter sort. Ray Martinez's concert orchestra will be heard at this period.

KMPC promises "a good half-hour program that will chase away the blues" every Friday night from 9:30 to 10 o'clock. It might be a good idea to tune in.

Art Club Plans Ceremonial for Lighting Park

The California Art Club as host to the Park Board and engineers in charge of installation will observe by official ceremony the turning on of the new lighting system of Barnsdall Park. The event will be marked by a banquet and program on the 15th inst., to be held at the artists' clubhouse in the park.

To date, except for illumination that filtered through the foliage from the confines of the three buildings that stand on Olive Hill, Barnsdall Park has nightly been enshrouded in darkness. This is to give way to evenings of brilliance from a hundred or more radiant lights placed in advantageous locations following the dedication.

Flood lights have been incorporated about the patios of the clubhouse, and radiation lanterns of unique pattern topping standards especially designed for this particular park scheme line the driveways and lawn areas and border the terraces, sunken gardens and pools.

CITY ENGINEER WILL RETRENCH

Outlay to be Slashed During Coming Fiscal Period

Dismissal in Prospect for Ninety-one Employees

Hundred and Fifty-eight to Go on Part-time Schedule

Heavy cuts in the City Engineer's office are to be made during the coming fiscal year, with the probability that ninety-one employees will be dismissed, eighty-one vacant positions eliminated and 158 employees put on half-time.

The Board of Public Works yesterday asked the City Council to adopt ordinances creating the half-time jobs, following budget conferences between Mayor Porter, Budget Director Knox, City Engineer Jessup and the Board of Public Works.

The city is running an estimated deficit of $638,000 this year, while estimates of income for the coming fiscal year indicate a drop in income of $600,000. In addition to cuts in the City Engineer's budget, $67,000 has been lopped from the present expenditures of the police department and about $140,000 from the fire department.

The engineer this year is expending $7,402,237. He asked for $8,540,847, which the Mayor and Knox cut by $1,561,874. Thus the City Engineer will be allowed $423,264 less than he is spending this year. From the requested item of salaries $614,822 was stricken, $80,730 from expenses, $123,657 from equipment, while requests for land, $140,000; buildings, $137,000, and additional positions, $163,393, were eliminated.

By placing 158 employees on half-time, a monthly saving in salaries amounting to $10,610 will be effected. The positions to be placed on half-time are 132 laborers, two truck drivers, two clerks, a chainman, two instrument men, four civil engineers, six inspectors, four foremen, two firemen, a roller operator and two asphalt workers.

RED RIOT CHARGES DENIED

Three of Five Communists on Trial Declare They Did Not Start Disturbance at School

Denial that they started the riot on Roosevelt High School grounds on April 25, last, was made yesterday by three of the five Communists on trial by a jury in Municipal Judge Sheldon's court on charges of disturbing the peace and annoying school children. The remaining two are scheduled to take the stand in their own defense when the trial is resumed this morning. All three admitted they are members of the Young Communists League.

In addition to David Sinski, student at the school, who told his story on the first day of the trial, Victor Patik and Warren Payne, students, and O. L. Graham, vice-principal, were called as witnesses yesterday by Deputy City Prosecutor Hornaday.

They declared that Sinski was attacked by the Red "defense group" when he told Yetta Stromberg, who was speaking from a soapbox, to "hire a hall." The attack continued until halted by police officers, they said, and after the officers left the school another disturbance occurred.

In addition to Yetta Stromberg, known for her San Bernardino Communist school activity, the defendants are Abraham and Martin Shapiro, Israel Shuman and Tuffy Mallet, the latter head of the "defense squad."

CITY UPHELD IN FLOWER STREET SUIT

Supreme Court Decides Appeal Attacking Validity of Condemnation Action

Steps taken in 1925-1926 to widen and extend Flower street from Washington street to the intersection of Thirty-eighth and Figueroa streets meet all legal requirements, according to a Supreme Court decision handed down in San Francisco, of which a copy was received yesterday by Hugh Coultis, deputy in charge of the tribunal's Los Angeles office.

The decision was in the case of the Zobelein Company, owner of a parcel of property affected by the plans, against the city. The essence of the appeal was that the summons failed to make reference to the complaint for descriptions of parcels sought to be condemned.

The court held that inasmuch as the summons contained a description of the property in mass and the complaint contained a description of it in separate parcels, copies of the complaint and the summons being served together, the summons was sufficient.

DISCUSSION CLUB TO MEET

The Civic Discussion Club of Los Angeles Evening High School will hold a public meeting at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the school auditorium, under direction of its sponsor, Attorney Arthur S. Wolpe. Addresses are to be given by Superior Judge Hazlett, City Prosecutor Nix, Chief Deputy City Prosecutor Eberhard and Mrs. Amelia F. Johnson, head of the City Prosecutor's bureau of domestic relations.

Visitor Urges Canal Building for Nicaragua

Possible candidate for the Presidency of Nicaragua at the election two years hence is Dr. Joaquin Gomez, who arrived here yesterday on the Panama Mail liner Colombia, with Senora Gomez. They are en route to visit a daughter, in school at San Francisco, and a son at Notre Dame.

"I am not in politics," Dr. Gomez rushed to explain when the Presidency was mentioned. But in the next breath he remarked that he is a national Senator from Granada, where he is an attorney, and a leading Conservative.

"Let us talk about your proposed American canal through Nicaragua. It has been the great hope, the great dream of Nicaragua for years. It is the perfect project. There are no insurmountable obstacles."

JIMMY'S DAD HAS HALITOSIS
Frances Tipton Hunter

Something to it—There's something to a dentifrice that wins leadership in 4 years. LISTERINE TOOTH PASTE, 25¢.

Not one out of ten escapes this social fault

Can you be sure that you never have halitosis (unpleasant breath)? Are you certain at this very moment, that you are free of it?

The insidious thing about this unforgivable social fault is that you, yourself, never know when you have it; the victim simply cannot detect it.

Remember, also, that anyone is likely to be troubled, since conditions capable of causing halitosis arise frequently in even normal mouths.

Fermenting food particles, defective or decaying teeth, pyorrhea, catarrh, and slight infections in the mouth, nose, and throat—all produce odors. You can get rid of these odors instantly by gargling and rinsing the mouth with full strength Listerine. Every morning. Every night. And between times before meeting others. Listerine halts fermentation because it is an antiseptic. It checks infection because it is a remarkable germicide.* And it quickly overcomes odors because it is a rapid and powerful deodorant.

Keep a bottle of Listerine handy in home and office and use it always before meeting others. Then you will know that your breath cannot offend. Lambert Pharmacal Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

LISTERINE ends halitosis

*Though safe to use in any body cavity, full strength Listerine kills even the Staphylococcus Aureus (pus) and Bacillus Typhosus (typhoid) germs in counts ranging to 200,000,000 in 15 seconds (fastest time accurately recorded by science).

OFFICE ROBBED BY ARMED PAIR

Edison Company's Employees Made to Face Wall

Thieves Take $500, Escape in Old Automobile

Officers See Similarity to Crime of Year Ago

Holding the manager and a woman employee at bay, two bandits yesterday robbed the Belvedere Gardens suboffice of the Southern California Edison Company at 4437 Whittier Boulevard of $500 and escaped in an automobile.

Entering the office shortly after 8 a.m., one of the bandits confronted R. E. Davis, manager, and Miss Bernice Carpenter with a revolver and compelled them to face the wall while the second man rifled the cash compartment of approximately $500, the victims reported to the Sheriff's office. Partial identification of the man who held the gun was made later by Miss Carpenter. Included in the money was $10 taken from Miss Carpenter's purse, she reported.

Two men in an old model car who were seen by Roy H. Ellis, collector for the company, as he drove up to the office a few minutes after the hold-up, are believed to have been the bandits. The two are also believed to be the same men who robbed the office under similar conditions on April 15, 1929. In both robberies the bandits wore gloves.

PLEDGE NO PART OF ALTAR VOWS

Wife Fails to Win Annulment Because Husband Fell Off Water Wagon

A prenuptial promise made by a man to quit drinking intoxicating liquor, broken after the wedding, is not sufficient grounds to grant the wife an annulment of the marriage.

This was the ruling yesterday by Superior Judge Collier when he refused to give Mrs. Pearl C. Lampey an annulment of her marriage with Grover W. Lampey, who, she asserted, promised to quit drinking but, after the marriage, fell off the water wagon.

Judge Collier advised Mrs. Lampey to file for a divorce instead of the annulment and continued the case until next Wednesday.

FOREMANSHIP TAUGHT

A course in foremanship is announced by the Frank Wiggins Trade Evening School, Venice Boulevard at Olive street. The class meets Mondays and Wednesdays from 7 to 9 p.m.

CORNERO GUILTY JURY'S DECISION

Two of Trio Convicted of Sea Rum Running

Frankie Cornero, brother of Tony Cornero, now serving a term at McNeil Federal prison for rum running, yesterday was convicted by a jury in United States District Judge Cosgrave's court on a charge of conspiracy to land from 1500 to 2000 cases of Canadian liquor in Southern California.

In the same verdict Jack Wilson was convicted, but the jury disagreed regarding the guilt of L. V. Murphy, formerly justice of the peace at Laguna Beach, also a defendant.

The court continued the case until this afternoon, when the question of sentence will be considered. In the meantime the two defendants convicted were remanded to County Jail. The case of Murphy was continued, to be considered later by the court.

Two other defendants, F. E. Howell, former motorcycle officer of Orange county, and Eddie Collins, are still at large.

Two Supervisors Aspirants for McClellan Seat

Two members of the County Board of Supervisors want to be chairman, to succeed the late R. F. McClellan, it developed yesterday, when Supervisor Shaw made a statement indicating he thought the rule of seniority should be followed in filling the place, and inasmuch as he is the youngest member in point of service, he is willing to allow the older members to "skirmish around" for the place.

Supervisor Wright is the oldest member in point of service, he having been a member of the board since 1921. Supervisor Graves was elected four years ago.

"I am a candidate," announced Supervisor Graves yesterday.

Supervisor Wright, while not so outspoken, indicated he considered the post an honor, and will be happy to serve if elected.

MRS. PRICE NEW P.-T. PRESIDENT

San Diego Woman Elected by State Congress

Other Officers Named at Riverside Meeting

Fresno Chosen for Next Year's Convention

BY MYRA NYE

"Times" Staff Representative

RIVERSIDE, May 8. (Exclusive) Mrs. W. A. Price of San Diego was elected president of the California Congress of Parent and Teacher associations here tonight at the thirty-first annual conclave of the organization, and Fresno was chosen as the convention city for 1931.

Other officers elected are: Mrs. W. J. Hayes, Burlingame, first vice-president; Mrs. Frank R. Schaefer, Los Angeles, second vice-president; Mrs. B. C. Clark, Sacramento, third vice-president; Mrs. W. H. Ash, Colusa fourth vice-president; Mrs. E A. Benson, San Francisco, fifth vice-president; Mrs. F. V. Vollmer, Oakland, sixth vice-president; Mrs. O. M. Robertson, Arlington, seventh vice-president; Mrs. Andrew Hancock, Bakersfield, treasurer; Mrs. T. L. Barnes, Long Beach, historian; Mrs. C. H. Turner, Redondo Beach, recording secretary; Mrs. Steven Gould, Coalinga, financial secretary.

Nominations for the positions were made yesterday, and the convention polls opened this morning and closed this afternoon. A complete count of the ballots, however, was not made and announced until late tonight.

KIERSEY SPEAKS

During the day Vierling Kiersey, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, held with rapt interest the attention of the delegates with his address "Parenthood and Nation Building" in which he asserted that no secrets should be withheld from boys and girls and urged parents to truthfulness with their children.

"This is my recommendation: That we keep nothing secret from them," said the educator. "We live in too close a relationship and they are too clever to be deceived. But in every experience they must be taught self-control. This is the keynote to all good behavior. What are we doing to fortify them for the problems of the future? Only by giving them the fiber of character that includes self-control can we make them ready for an anticipated, analyzed future whose problems will be far beyond us, their parents and teachers. Only thus can we correctly and soundly build our nation."

The State superintendent named four institutions and the one thing above everything else that each must do to make nation-building sound. They are the home, the church, the school and "the institution of the other fellow."

EXAMPLE POTENT FORCE

"Why does my girl demand a new dress? Because she wants one like her chums. The force of example is one of the greatest compelling motives for action. In the institution of the other fellow every one of us must see that his example is one to promote truth, integrity and beauty," he said.

It was a colorful session of the five-day meet this morning when each district's delegates, wearing some garment significant of their work—for instance, the tenth district of Los Angeles was garbed in blue beret and blue and gold smocks—sang songs whenever a tribute or honor was given their district.

The thirteenth district, composed of Butte, Modoc, Lassen, Shasta, Sierra, Siskiyou, Tehama and Yuba counties, won the membership cup, Mrs. Paul Alexander of Los Gatos, chairman, reporting a total membership of 186,000 members. Mrs. C. C. Noble of Los Angeles was donor of the cup. Others winning in membership competition, in the order of their excellence, were: Ninth district, San Diego and Imperial counties; Hillside association in the Los Angeles district having the largest percentage of gain, 1411 per cent; twelfth district, Ventura county; thirteenth district, with the greatest number of fathers; one small community in the north having every father and mother in the whole town a member of the P.-T.A., and sixteenth district, including Oakland and Alameda.

GOLD CUP AWARDED

Mrs. Benjamin Ferris of Los Angeles, chairman of life memberships, presented the fifteenth district, including Santa Barbara county, with the gold cup for most memberships obtained.

Mrs. H. H. Gadd of San Francisco, stating that Los Angeles city leads the nation in numbers of subscriptions to the national magazine of the P.-T.A., awarded first prize to first district in the city and second prize to the eighth district. Mrs. M. Combs of San Francisco, chairman of emblems, awarded the prize for the second time to the seventeenth district. Mrs. F. V. Vollmer of Oakland awarded prizes in child-welfare work and magazine subscriptions to first district and third district.

California, standing first in the nation in council work, according to an announcewment of Mrs. R. C. Cardiff, presiding, was asked to tell at the national convention in Denver its plan of work. Project books were asked for to answer this demand and prizes were given as follows: Exposition council of Los Angeles, tenth district; Oakland council, Lankershim and Van Nuys of tenth district, and East Alameda council. Sweetwater council was honorably mentioned.

Divorce Trial Halted to Fix Property Shares

The divorce trial of Mrs. Emma M. Mullins against James M. Mullins, electrical contractor, was halted yesterday by Superior Judge Crawford to allow attorneys to arrange a property settlement.

Mrs. Mullins asks half of community property she says is worth $100,000, and adequate alimony. She charges her husband was fond of pretty girls whom he took on "business trips," posing as his "sisters."

Mullins replied that Gordon Bennett traveled with Mrs. Mullins from New England in an automobile, and later the men had a fight, Mullins striking Bennett in the eye. Mrs. Mullins declared the assault was unprovoked.

R.-K.-O. SIGNS TALENTED BEAUTY

Young Writer Elevated by Paramount to Directorship; Leila Hyams Plays Lead Opposite John Gilbert; Philip Ryder Wins First National Role

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Another young and talented beauty has been signed by R.-K.-O. on a long-term contract. She is Roberta Robinson, and she is but 17 years of age.

ROBERTA ROBINSON

William Le Baron made the announcement yesterday, when he also let us in on the fact that Miss Robinson's former film work consists only of one role, that being in Paramount's "Dangerous Nan McGrew." She revealed so much talent that several companies have been bidding for her services.

Though youthful, Miss Robinson is a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music, and has sung with the opera company at Ravinia Park, Chicago. Her voice is said to be of great beauty, recording especially well.

Miss Robinson is the daughter of a retired publisher, whose home is in Cherryfield, Me. So far no assignment has been given the new R.-K.-O. actress, but it is expected that she will be given a featured role within a week or two.

LLOYD CORRIGAN IN DIRECTOR ROLE

Very quietly Paramount slipped one over by promoting a writer to a directorship and having him complete his first picture without anyone finding it out until now.

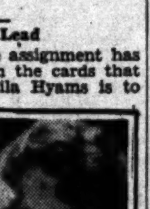
Lloyd Corrigan is the man in question. He has just completed codirection with Laurence Schwab in the filming of the all-technicolor talking-film version of the stage play, "Follow Thru."

If ever a man served his apprenticeship and is prepared for a directorship, it would seem to be Corrigan. He was formerly an actor and is the son of actors, his father being the late James Corrigan of the Morosco Stock Company, and his mother Lillian Elliott, of the same organization.

Graduate of the University of California, young Corrigan was assistant director of the Greek Theater presentations at Berkeley. Later he played in numerous pieces at the Morosco.

Leila Hyams Plays Lead

While no definite assignment has been made, it is on the cards that beautiful young Leila Hyams is to play the lead opposite Jack Gilbert in Gilbert's next Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, "Way for a Sailor."



LEILA HYAMS.

Miss Hyams has had a remarkably successful career ever since she left the stage as a very young girl appearing in her father's and mother's vaudeville act to go into pictures. Her parents are John Hyams and Leila McIntyre.

John Cromwell Directs

John Cromwell, former New York stage producer, actor and director, now for more than a year established as a leading film director in Hollywood, has been assigned to William Powell's next starring picture following his success with "Street of Chance."

JOHN CROMWELL

The new Powell picture is "For the Defense," adapted by Oliver H. P. Garrett from an original by Charles Furthman. Kay Francis again will have the chief feminine role.

Cromwell came to Los Angeles a little more than a year ago with the New York company playing "The Racket" and was signed to a contract at that time as a player and student director. His work as codirector with Eddie Sutherland on "The Dance of Life" and "Close Harmony" was so skillful that since that time he has directed most skillfully without collaboration.

Philip Ryder's New Role

Philip Ryder, New York actor, who during the past four years has been playing the role of Ali Ben-Ali in the Metropolitan and Chicago companies of "Desert Song," has decided to go into pictures.

He was engaged yesterday for a featured role in First National's picturization of the Bartletts' novel, "Adios."

Before signing in "The Desert Song," Ryder sung one of the principal roles in "Topsy and Eva," with the Duncan sisters. This will not be his first adventure into pictures, however, as he played in a number of screen productions before going on the stage.

Christy Cabanne With R.-K.-O.

That pioneering director of many a film success in the old days of silent pictures, Christy Cabanne, has entered the talking field as director, a place to which he is entitled by reason of his former long stage experience both as actor and director.

Cabanne has just signed, through Charlie Beyer, with R.-K.-O. to direct the film talking version of John Emerson's old play, "The Conspiracy," in which Bessie Love and Hugh Trevor have the leading roles. Ned Sparks has been assigned the featured comedy lead and other names will shortly be announced.

Kernell Writes Operetta

That rising young composer, Will Kernell, has been commissioned by Fox Films to write an operetta. It is not yet decided who will appear in the production, but it is known that it will have a historic background.

MERCHANTS MEET ENVOY FROM JAPAN

Debuchi Confers With Countrymen and Later Addresses Banquet

Making the acquaintance of a number of prominent Japanese business men of this city took up the major portion of the day for Katsuji Debuchi, Japanese Ambassador to the United States, yesterday when he met with them at the home of Toshito Satow, Japanese Consul, at 1723 North Wilton Place, and chatted informally throughout the afternoon.

A group of twenty-two local Japanese business leaders gathered at the Satow residence for luncheon with the Ambassador, with Consul Satow presiding, and during the entire afternoon they remained there discussing questions of the day and assisting the Ambassador with the information and understanding of the Pacific Coast which is the purpose of his trip to the West.

Mme. Debuchi was a luncheon guest at the home of Mrs. Everett of Pasadena, after which she visited the Huntington Library.

In the evening, a typical Japanese banquet was given by the Japanese Chamber of Commerce at the Japanese Cafe, 127 North San Pedro street, at which Ambassador and Mme. Debuchi were the honor guests. About 180 members of the Japanese colony were present to hear the Ambassador give the address of the evening. N. Toyama, president of the Japanese Chamber of Commerce, presided.

Studio Change for Monta Bell

Expressing amazement at the growth of Los Angeles and Hollywood Monta Bell, film director, yesterday returned to the film capital.

MONTA BELL

Since leaving Hollywood, Bell has been under contract to Paramount's eastern studios. He declared, however, that he had terminated his agreement. A report that he forfeited approximately $200,000 in continued percentage rights to pictures which he has directed was neither confirmed nor denied by Bell.

It is understood that previous to leaving New York Bell received an offer from Carl Laemmle, Jr., general manager of Universal, who is now in the eastern metropolis. Queried as to this report, Bell admitted that he had been in conference with the film executive, but had made him no definite promise.

El Brendel in Feature and Laurel and Hardy Provide Merriment

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

El Brendel, Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy—you can put these names down as synonyms for much mirth currently at Loew's State Theater. They don't appear in the same picture by any manner of means, but they spice up the general program with comedy. Brendel is the leading mirth-cajoler in the feature, "Her Golden Calf," and Laurel and Hardy have their own special inning with the comedy, "The Brat," in which there is plenty of L. and H. because they double up on their roles.

The film features are embellished with a very fair stage prologue, in which a trio of steppers, the Slate Brothers, and the xylophonist—I take it to be Lamberti—are the climaxing entertainers. The presentation goes by the name of "Smiles," and contrives to be modernistic in costuming, and rather attractive. In some respects the stage offering and the Laurel and Hardy comedy overshadow the feature.

"Her Golden Calf" expounds the reliable old idea of the ugly duckling who becomes the beautiful swan thanks to a facial treatment, and a different headdress. The ugly duckling, as happens from time to time in pictures, is the unprepossessing secretary, who falls in love with her employer, and decides to make herself beautiful. Not a new idea fundamentally, that, but jazzed up a bit this time with a Greenwich Village environment, a contest for a beautiful-limbed artist's model, Brendel's incidental comedy, and Marjorie White's indefatigable pep in a role that allows her a song or two.

Millard Webb directed "Her Golden Calf," and the leading serious roles are played by Jack Mulhall and Sue Carol. Besides these two, and Brendel and White, the cast comprises Walter Catlett, doing duty familiarly as a master of ceremonies, Richard Keene, Paul Page and Ilka Chase, though the last named is difficult to discover.

Miss Carol has the best chance for characterization in the secretary portrayal, and indeed the plot rather hinges on this particular impersonation. She is able to change her make-up sufficiently when the process of beautification goes forward to make the contrast interesting, and enacts the part competently.

Mulhall interprets the "village" artist who seeks the girl with the perfectly shaped legs as a model and, not finding her among some hundreds of applicants, finally discovers that his secretary is the one that qualifies. He does not identify her, of course, as his employee when he makes his selection.

All of this is rather trifling, to be sure, but then there is Brendel, who is always funny, a glittering musical number or two, and a fair love interest furnished by Mulhall and Miss Carol. With the other offerings on the bill, especially the Laurel and Hardy comedy, the feature will doubtless help to round out the entertainment. Except for a certain slowness in getting started, the action of the feature moves along and reflects to the credit of the film's direction and the majority of the portrayals.

There is a very large aggregation of girls in the contest scene.

'Kibitzer' Back in 'Honey' Role

The "Kibitzer" is back again on the screen. The smart fellow who knew everybody's business but his own, knows all about women in "Honey," Nancy Carroll's starring picture now screening at the Million Dollar Theater.

Harry Green is the "Kibitzer." He has established a new type for the talkies through his work in "The Man I Love," "Why Bring That Up?" and "The Kibitzer," it is claimed. Others who have prominent parts in the production are Stanley Smith, Skeets Gallagher, Lillian Roth, Mitzi Green, Zasu Pitts, Jobyna Howland and Charles Sellon.

"Wizard of Oz" Offered Here

Catherine Cotter plays the leading role in "The Wizard of Oz," to be presented tonight at the Playshop, Hollywood. Miss Cotter began her stage career at the age of 3 in the old Columbia Theater, San Francisco, and recently appeared here with the English Shakespearean Players from Stratford on Avon during their run at the Belasco Theater. She has also played on leading vaudeville circuits.

Presented by the Children's Theater of the Drama League of the West, "The Wizard of Oz" is the first of a series of plays to be given solely for children, though acted by professional adults.

'Numbered Men' Screened Today

Heralded as a timely film, since it brings to the screen a visualization of the wave of prison riots that has been sweeping the country, "Numbered Men," a First National Vitaphone production featuring Conrad Nagel, Bernice Claire and Raymond Hackett, opens a one-week engagement at Warner Brothers Downtown Theater today.

The cast also has such players as Tully Marshall, Ralph Ince, Maurice Black and George Cooper. Mervyn Le Roy directed. The story is based on Dwight Taylor's play, "Jail Break."

'Mystic Mirror' Starts Tonight

A mystery drama combined with romance is "The Mystic Mirror," which comes to the Filmarte Theater tonight for a week's showing. The film was made in Berlin at the U.F.A. studios, and the two directors, Carl Hoffman and Prof. Teschner, assembled a strong cast of players, headed by Fritz Rasp.

"The Mystic Mirror," is set against the picturesque background of an ancient castle that has passed into the hands of a new owner.

"LAST MILE" ANNOUNCED

Lillian Albertson Plans Production of Sensational Stage Play at Majestic Theater

Lillian Albertson announces the purchase of the Pacific Coast rights to the sensational New York success, "The Last Mile," by the 24-year-old playwright, John Wexley.

"The Last Mile" leaped into national prominence with the January premiere and since then every seat for every performance at the New York Playhouse has been commanding premiums from the "scalpers."

"In devising 'The Last Mile' from the hectic newspaper narratives of the Canon City prison outbreak in Colorado," said Miss Albertson yesterday, "John Wexley was faced with a realization that the shrieks of newspaper headline type at best live over night. Moved by the overwhelming content of the event and its clear application to the lives of us all he wanted to make a record. He had something to say. The most striking means of portrayal by all odds is the drama. 'The Last Mile' was the result. He wrote a profound exciting drama commanding respect for and in itself by all critics and audiences."

The entire action of "The Last Mile" takes place in the grim cell block where seven men wait execution. The principal character is "Killer" Mears, the leader of the prison revolt, and eleven other men. The story is based on the diary of the last twenty-four hours in the death house as written by the late Robert Blake, a condemned convict in the State prison at Huntsville, Tex., and also on the recent Colorado jail break. The mother of Blake receives each week part of Wexley's royalties.

"We shall produce the play immediately at the Majestic Theater, following the close of 'The Student Prince,'" explained Miss Albertson, "and I am looking forward eagerly to personally directing the production. Whatever one grants or denies, 'The Last Mile'—and it has been called everything from a savage attack on the most vulnerable emotions to an important social document that calls for compulsory attendance—must be acknowledged by those who have seen it to have escaped the pitfalls of other prison-break stories by not being a mere record of a riot. A particular fire becomes stale in an hour . . . but fire itself, the terrible condition of it, is perpetually fresh and exciting.

"'The Last Mile' audiences come away with the realization (probably for the first time in their lives,) of exactly what capital punishment means."

The cast will be announced in a few days. Rehearsals will start Tuesday upon Miss Albertson's return from San Francisco.

INTELLIGENT FILM DRAMA PRESENTED

"He Knew Women," With Lowell Sherman, Enacted on R.-K.-O. Screen

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

Amusing, sophisticated, ironically human is "He Knew Women," currently on view at the R.-K.-O. Theater with the debonair Lowell Sherman in a role tailored to order.

"He Knew Women" is a film version of the Theater Guild play, "The Second Man," by S. N. Behrman. It has been transferred, as far as the casual observer can glean, practically intact to the screen. Situations and dialogue follow the original with faithful intent and the result is a delightfully intelligent film play.

As playgoers who saw the Behrman comedy at the Figueroa Playhouse last spring may remember, the plot revolves about a literary artist who is pursued with vehemence by a matrimonially intent young girl. The writer, who classifies himself as a third-rate craftsman, as indeed he seems to be, wants to wed an older woman, a woman of wealth and position who can endow him with the creature comforts of life.

A serious young scientist is in love with the girl. The writer does his best to throw the pair together and to himself escape from the straightforward courtship of the girl. There are many amusing complications. Situations and good ones follow one another rapidly.

The chief delight of the film as in the play is in the smart, clever dialogue, the rapid interplay of verbal thrusts. One can readily see why the film is such a close approximation of the play. It would have been practically impossible to have tampered with the closely knit, skillfully contrived original and to have retained its subtlety and brilliance.

Sherman is excellent in the principal role, that of the writer. He is charmingly superficial, ingratiatingly human. His portrait is etched with dexterity and skill born of ability.

Alice Joyce does a pleasing piece of work as the woman whom Sherman would wed and who can endow him with such a substantial portion of the world's goods.

Frances Dade is very good as the high-strung Monica Grey, intent upon marrying Sherman despite his reluctance. Her voice is unusually interesting and she manages to convey much emotional appeal in its usage. She is not as successful in capturing expression in her face. David Manners, as the scientist, is handsome to look upon and adequate in his role. Hugh Herbert directed and with William Jutts is given credit for the screen play.

The R.-K.-O. vaudeville for the week features a dancer, Natacha Nattova. There is comedy from Tyler Mason, from the Tom Lomas company and from Johnny Sully and Sully Thomas.

Mother Love Theme in New Warner Film

Warner Brothers Theater in Hollywood will celebrate Mother's Day with a midnight world premiere of "Courage" Saturday. "Courage" is a picture that deifies the American mother and makes every day Mother's Day, it is said. The film tells a story of modern family life, featuring Belle Bennett, who will be remembered for her characterization of the mother in "Stella Dallas."

In addition to Miss Bennett the cast includes Marian Nixon, Leon Janney, Richard Tucker, Blanche Frederici, Carter De Haven, Jr., and Rex Bell.

The picture reveals Belle Bennett as a widowed mother with seven children, faced with poverty. Her brave struggles against misfortune are depicted. Archie Mayo directed.

CHEVALIER TO APPEAR AT MAYAN

Noted Stage and Screen Star Booked With Ben Bernie and Band

One of the most ambitious undertakings in local theatrical history is said to be the signing of Maurice Chevalier, who will appear at the Mayan Theater in person. This was achieved yesterday when Sidney Algier, general production executive for Franklin Productions, secured the celebrated star of the stage and screen for a limited engagement beginning Sunday evening, the 18th inst.

MAURICE CHEVALIER

Through arrangements and by permission of Paramount Publix Corporation, Chevalier will appear at the Mayan Theater for eight days. Chevalier has been acclaimed an overnight sensation—a real hit since his arrival in America. He achieved his greatest success on the talking screen in "The Love Parade."

Appearing with Chevalier will be Ben Bernie and his band. The engagement is being billed as "informal, intimate entertainment." "Journey's End," now playing twice daily at the Mayan, concludes its engagement on the 17th inst.

ACTOR MOTORS

Having completed the featured character role in "Come Easy" for Warner Brothers, Jean Hersholt, accompanied by Mrs. Hersholt, has departed on a motor tour of Northern California.

FU MANCHU REAPPEARS AS MENACE

Sinister Oriental Role Again in Hands of Oland at Paramount

BY PHILIP K. SCHEUER

Whether its right name is "The Return of Dr. Fu Manchu" or "The New Adventures of Dr. Fu Manchu," its effect is substantially the same at the Paramount Theater. A glorified serial thriller, this, with Warner Oland carrying on like nobody's monkey business as the mean old Chinese with a grudge; carrying on ad absurdum, and proving that there's no fool like an old Fu.

The present sequel to the earlier film, by your leave, is so preposterous that it is almost continually funny. I should think that would be a recommendation, in a sense; and even that this was the intention of the producer, were it not that the blundering idiocies of William Austin in his old role of silly Sylvester plainly indicated that here was the place to laugh—with him—and here the place to be serious—with Fu.

Mr. Oland, as before, plays the demented doctor with a suave benignity that is oddly at variance with the crimes of violence laid at his door. Neither does the fairly sinister appearance he assumes on occasion accord with the high-pitched yet almost cooing quality of his voice. And where is this oriental laconicism they talk about? Dr. Fu is one of the most garrulous individuals on record.

The actor's interpretation of his role is important only, of course, in its bearing on the picture as a whole. By reducing his audible menace, so to speak, the producer takes away the threat he holds out to the characters of the story, and so lessens the concern of the spectator for their ultimate safety. And when, in addition, the situations in which they find themselves are as far-fetched as the ones in this affair, it is small wonder that they create two expansive smiles for every shudder intended.

However, the film possesses the virtue of movement, with events tumbling over each other in endless succession from start to finish. Resuming where "The Mysterious Dr. Fu Manchu" left off, it opens with preparations for the wedding of Lia Eltham to Dr. Jack Petrie, both of whom believe themselves freed at last of the danger from Fu. Inspector Nayland Smith of Scotland Yard even attends the late doctor's funeral, less out of respect for the memory of that unworthy than to make sure that the obsequies are all shipshape. And, vindicating his worst suspicions, the corpse comes to life.

From then on, it is touch and go. Not all the King's men, it develops, are able to stop Dr. Fu once he gets touching and going. His favorite pastime, kidnaping, brings practically the entire cast to his various strongholds from reel to reel; but it is always his fatal procrastination, coupled with his fondness for making each of his victims die at least a couple of times, that leads at last to his undoing. But is it? I have an idea that, drowned in a moat and then blown to bits underwater as he most certainly was at the fade-out, Dr. Fu will come again another day, smiling a little at such incidental discomforts as these, and ready to pursue his murderous iniquities with renewed benignity.

The supporting players, routinely good, are O. P. Heggie as the inspector, Neil Hamilton and Jean Arthur as the lovers, William Austin as Sylvester; Margaret Fealy, Evelyn Selbie, Shayle Gardner, Evelyn Hall, Ambrose Barker and others. Rowland V. Lee directed.

"Actions Speak Louder Than Words" is an unusually clever comedy at the Paramount, the sound device serving in a novel capacity. It reproduces the words conventionally spoken by the three characters—a man, his wife, the other man—while the screen depicts the working-out of their concurrent thoughts. Thus the husband, leaving his lady for a few days, blithely bids his friend take care of her, oblivious to the mental fact that the two are already swept into one another's arms.

Besides other subjects, the theater is showing a Paramount News on its wide screen.

"Prince" Charles Stuart in Court Once More

Trial Date Set on State Pharmacy Charge

Hint He May be Wanted in Boston Denied

"Prince" Charles Stuart, astrologist, whose wizardry with the heavenly bodies got him not good luck but into the hands of police and the courts last Monday, was haled into court on a new charge yesterday. This time the State Pharmacy Board charges him with practicing pharmacy without a license. Municipal Judge Ballard heard his plea of not guilty and set his trial for the 29th inst. at 10 a.m. before Municipal Judge Sheldon and a jury. He was released on his own recognizance.

PRINCE CHARLES STUART.

Police swooped down on the "Prince" Monday and arrested him on a charge of practicing medicine without a license. They charge he gave astrological advice, then medical advice and finally medicine to a woman detective, a charge which he vehemently denies. He is at liberty under $250 bond on that charge, which is to come up on the 29th inst. Arrested with him also was Rudy Morris, 1222 North Ogden Drive, at whose home the arrest took place. Morris also is out on bond.

BOSTON CHARGE DENIED

Stuart, or Stewart, as he said he sometimes spells it, branded as "perfectly absurd" the declaration by local police that he might be a man Boston police are looking for on a 1927 grand theft charge involving $43,000 in which the felon is said to be known by the name of William Hood, George E. Gordon, Dr. Gordon or R. C. Tilden.

The "Prince" said he was born in Boston but came to California in 1920 and has not been back since. He said he has been in Los Angeles or vicinity since 1927. In 1927, he said, he was on Santa Monica Pier with "Zenda the Great." He exhibited much California newspaper publicity about his astral work and princely rank in which he was known as Stewart or Stuart to show that he might easily have been found if Boston police were looking for him. He furthermore pointed to the police acknowledgment that his fingerprints do not correspond with those of the Boston man known as Hood.

IN MAGAZINE VENTURE

Stuart said he left Morris on April 28 to join Frank W. Newby in a new magazine venture called Health and Happiness, 332 South Western avenue, and conduct its astrology department and to speak for it over the radio. He said he had gone back to Morris's house on the Monday night of his arrest on an errand and that he did not sell the woman detective medicine, but merely told her that if she sought medicine for her troubles she might see Morris.

The "Prince" title which Stuart affects he explained is "merely a courtesy title," knowing that as he is an American citizen he can have no such title. He says, however, that he is a descendant of the famous Stuart line of Bavaria and could formally acquire the title prince if he wished to.

PRESIDING JUSTICE NAMED

Gov. Young Appoints ex-Judge Cary of San Diego to Fourth District Appellate Bench

Appointment of former Superior Judge W. P. Cary of San Diego, to the position of Presiding Justice of the Fourth District Appellate Court, succeeding the late Justice W. A. Sloane, was announced yesterday by Gov. Young. Judge Cary, the executive said, has consented to accept the post only until January 1, next.

"I have been exceedingly desirous that, if possible, he should serve for a longer time," said Gov. Young. "If this more permanent tenure cannot be obtained, I imagine that Justice Barnard or Justice Marks may hereafter become presiding justice, leaving the position of Associate Justice to be filled by the voters at November's election."

Judge Cary has served for six years as Superior Judge of San Diego county, retiring to resume the practice of law.

"His reputation as lawyer and judge is very fine," said the Governor, "and I predict that he will render the same splendid type of service which was given by his distinguished predecessor. He has always taken a keen interest in the civic affairs of his county and city and enjoys the confidence and respect of every one. I believe that this appointment will be regarded as a just tribute to his worth and ability."

Last year Judge Cary was president of the Bar Association of San Diego county. He is a past first vice-commander of the California Department of the American Legion and has been post commander of the Legion in San Diego.

This contest was originally planned for last Sunday but owing to the heavy rain it was postponed until this week-end. Roberts's Golden State Band will present an all-Spanish program featuring guest artists and ensembles.

HUGE S.C. FUND DETAILS GIVEN

Semicentennial Gifts Now Total $2,900,000

Goal of $10,000,000 for University Sought

Dr. Von KleinSmid Outlines Needs of Institution

More than $2,900,000 has been subscribed toward the $10,000,000 proposed semicentennial fund for the University of Southern California, according to George Oliver Tamblyn, financial adviser to that institution, in a report submitted yesterday at a luncheon given at the Biltmore in honor of the 300 members of the semicentennial commission.

Of the total donated $1,685,289 was given by persons not connected with the university, $901,506 by alumni, $760,410 by members of the board of trustees and $172,707 by members of the faculty and student body.

PLANS OUTLINED

George I. Cochran, president of the board of trustees, presided at the luncheon. Dr. R. B. Von KleinSmid told of plans for the progressive development of the university to meet the diverse needs of Southern California. Dean Rockwell D. Hunt, chairman of the celebration committee, outlined plans for the semicentennial programs, which will begin the 29th inst.

"With a teaching staff of 500 and an enrollment of more than 17,000, the university is engaged in providing Southern California with men and women possessing sound cultural background and expert professional training, in promoting research in various departments of knowledge and in co-operating with every worth-while agency in advancing the well-being of this community," said Dr. Von KleinSmid. "The University of Southern California is alma mater to 30,000 men and women who are a credit to the community and the nation. After all, the best thing about any community is the opportunity it offers for abundant life and usefulness to the present and future generations."

Dr. Von KleinSmid voiced the belief that technical and professional schools will become increasingly popular because of the need for specially trained men and women.

Dean Hunt announced that the annual commencement week will begin June 1 when baccalaureate service will be conducted at Shrine Auditorium at 4 p.m. Commencement day will be June 7.

"As 1930 marks the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the university, many alumni will don their caps, gowns and hoods and join the semicentennial academic pageant which will march from University Park to the Shrine Auditorium," said Dr. Hunt. "The first public rendition by a chorus of college students of a Trojan anniversary ode, the words of which were written by Floy F. Palmer and the music by Mabel Woodworth, will be a feature of the baccalaureate ceremony."

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

The calendar of graduation activities is as follows:

STATE REPLIES IN GAS ROW

Special Counsel Files Answer to Companies' Claim of Wastage Act Being Unconstitutional

Citing numerous authorities supporting the constitutionality of the California Gas Conservation Act, James S. Bennett, special counsel for the State Department of Natural Resources, yesterday filed in the District Court of Appeal the State's reply to petitions of five oil companies seeking to restrain Superior Judge Hazlett from enforcing orders against gas wastage in the Santa Fe Springs oil field.

The companies contend that the measure is unconstitutional because it deprives them of property without compensation and because the definition of the prohibited "unreasonable waste" of natural gas is so uncertain as not to constitute due process of law.

Bennett sets forth in answer to the charge that the statute is vague that the final decree in definite language must provide a rule which will clearly designate the limits of waste, both underground and above ground, for each operating well and which should designate at what point of gas production the waste of a well reaches such a degree that the well must be taken off production as an "unreasonable waster."

The attorney points out that conditions vary in different fields. He concludes that the Legislature, therefore, acted properly in foregoing laying down a rule-of-thumb standard for the guidance of a court of equity.

The oil companies figuring in the case are the Bandini Petroleum Company, Wilshire Oil Company, Wilshire Annex Oil, Inc., Ambassador Petroleum Company and the Commodore Oil Company.

AUTO ACCIDENT INJURIES FATAL TO TWO WOMEN

Mrs. Alice L. Patton of 1106 East Pico street died at the Pomona Valley Hospital yesterday a short while after the automobile in which she was riding collided with another car about a half mile east of Brea Canyon Road on Valley Boulevard.

The accident, according to deputy sheriffs, occurred when an automobile driven by Mrs. Rose L. Ross of 1839 East Fifty-fourth street collided with a car operated by David C. Kent of 208 Montebello Boulevard, Montebello, precipitating both automobiles off the road and down an embankment.

Cuts and bruises were suffered by Mrs. Ross and Mrs. T. W. Brown and her daughter, Moselle Brown, 1622 East Fifty-second street, who, with Mrs. Patton, were riding in the Ross automobile, deputy sheriffs reported. Mrs. Patton is believed to have suffered a skull fracture. Kent and his wife Maxine, who was riding with him, were uninjured.

According to officers, Mrs. Ross stated she had attempted to pass the Kent car when Moselle Brown caught hold of the steering wheel, causing her to lose control of the machine.

Injuries received when she was struck down by an automobile driven by a hit-and-run motorist last Monday morning resulted yesterday in the death at General Hospital of Mrs. May Alt, 67 years of age, of 618 East Pico street. An inquest will be conducted at the Coroner's office at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow.

Search by police for the driver of the death car has failed so far.

CULVER CITY FIVE PLEAD NOT GUILTY

Trial Date for Mayor and Trustees Set as Former Police Chief Also Appears

Pleading not guilty to charges of misappropriation of public funds, Reve Houck, former Culver City Mayor, and Dan Coombs, Milt Gardner, Earl Bobier and Dave Clark, former Trustees, yesterday were ordered by Superior Judge Wood to appear before Superior Judge Fricke on June 23, next, for trial.

The five men are accused of expending approximately $2600 of Culver City funds in an attempt to colonize a certain district with transient voters to control an annexation election. The election was never held, however.

Shortly after the five defendants appeared, Macey O. Barnard, former Police Chief of Culver City, appeared and pleaded not guilty to five counts of bribery preferred in a separate indictment. His trial was set for June 30, next, in Superior Judge McComb's court.

SOUNDLESS HYMN SUNG AT CHURCH FOR DEAF

Hearing a song without seeing the singer is a common experience with radio audiences, but something comparatively new under the sun was witnessed at 216 East Thirty-first street last night when a large audience saw a hymn sung by 100 men and women who did not open their lips nor utter a sound.

The "singers" sung on their hands, for they are members of the First Full Gospel Church for the Deaf, who were celebrating the opening of their new church at the Thirty-first-street location. The service was attended by several prominent ministers, who were allowed to actually hear the hymn when it was vocally interpreted by members of the church who have not lost the power of speech. Addresses by the ministers were interpreted to the deaf by Mrs. Elsie Peters, pastor of the church, who converted their words into the sign language.

Mrs. Peters, who, assisted by Glover W. Peters, her husband, has been working without salary for the last ten years among the 1500 deaf mutes of Los Angeles, probably is the only woman minister in the United States who employs two methods of communication, simultaneously, and whose sermons are "heard" in three different ways. While Mrs. Peters preaches with her voice, she expresses the same words on her hands. Thus she is understood by those who can hear, by those who know the sign language and by those who only understand lip reading.

The church of which Mrs. Peters is pastor is the only religious organization of its kind in California and includes men and women of many nationalities and denominations. Sunday-school is conducted every Sunday at 9:45 a.m., and preaching services at 11 a.m. and in the evening. Connected with the church is a Bible school, conducted every Tuesday and Thursday evening for the purpose of training deaf mutes to become missionaries among their brothers and sisters.

Voigt's Irons Illegal; Must be Reshafted

LONDON, May 8.—(NANA) George Voigt, generally ranked No. 3 among the amateur players of the United States, must have all his irons reshafted before he can compete in the Walker Cup and the British amateur matches. Voigt brought only one set of clubs to England. All his irons have laminated shafts consisting of two pieces, hickory and bamboo. A member of the royal and ancient golf club saw Voigt practicing yesterday and told him the shafts of his irons were illegal. An official ruling was handed down today barring Voigt's clubs.

SCHONRATH KAYOED BY STRIBLING

Flat-footed German is Easy Mark for Speedy William L.

LONDON, May 8. (NANA)—William L. (Young) Stribling of Georgia, won a technical knockout over Hans Schonrath of Germany in the second round of their scheduled ten-round bout in Royal Albert Hall tonight. The German proved to be a flat-footed fighter with no defense. He was hanging over the ropes in a helpless condition when the referee stepped in and awarded the decision to Stribling.

YOUNG STRIBLING

Schonrath is reputed to be the hardest hitter in Germany—harder even than Schmeling, but he showed no punching power against Stribling. What few blows he landed had no effect upon the Georgian.

In the first round, Stribling landed three smashing lefts to the stomach, staggering the German. After that, Stribling hit him at will. In the second round, Stribling landed a left to the chin and crossed with

The Prince and the open champion of the United States were saved at the last hole when his royal highness made a sensational shot from a bunker to place the ball on the green, and ultimately halve the match.

Sir Victor also had to play from a trap at the eighteenth, but his ball struck the face of the hazard and failed to reach the green.

MRS. PRESSLER DEFENDS TITLE

Faces Mrs. Green Today in Southland Finals

San Gabriel Champion Wins Over Miss Lawson

California Golfer Defeats Miss De Long, 4 and 3

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Mrs. Roy Green of the California Country Club, Los Angeles city women's champion, today stands between Mrs. Leona Pressler of the San Gabriel Country Club and a third consecutive Southern California women's title.

MRS. LEONA PRESSLER

Finals are thirty-six holes over the oak-dotted reaches of Mrs. Pressler's home club with the consensus of golfers in the "know" that Mrs. Green will not succumb without a terrific struggle—and there are even some who go so far as to give the brilliant California player an even chance to win.

GALLERY FEE

They will tee off for the morning round at 9:30, and in the afternoon about 1. There will be a gallery fee of $1.

Two courageous young golfers, both with years of championship golf ahead of them, fell before more experienced opponents yesterday.

Miss Helen Lawson of Wilshire slipped a bit after getting off to a disheartening start, and lost to Mrs. Pressler, 6 and 4. Had Miss Lawson been playing at her best, however, it would only have been a matter of losing by a smaller margin. That is no reflection on Miss Lawson's game, but rather a tribute to Mrs. Pressler, who played the outgoing nine in 38, and was only 3 over men's par at the fifteenth hole. Such golf is almost unbeatable.

Miss Lucille De Long of Coronado had Mrs. Green worried for awhile in the earlier stages of their match, but the former weakened on her approaches and putted poorly to lose, 4 and 3.

Coming back to the Pressler-Lawson match, it seemed from the first that it just wan't in the cards for the Wilshire miss to win.

MISSES PUTT

Starting out on the 292-yard first hole, both smacked sparkling drives down the center of the fairway, but both pitched short on the apron. Miss Lawson's approach was two feet past the cup, Mrs. Pressler leaving herself a putt of four feet. The defending champion tapped her putt in for a 4, while Miss Lawson's ball, hit too sharply, caught the edge of the cup and bounced out.

It was then a case of nip and tuck to the fifth hole, which Mrs. Pressler won with a par to go into the lead, 1 up. Miss Lawson sliced into a yawning trap, and missed her first shot, barely getting out.

Going to the sixth hole, Miss Lawson again found a trap. Apparently unsettled after dubbing her explosion on five. She failed to get out in two and conceded the hole with Mrs. Pressler putting for a 3. That not only shattered Miss Lawson's poise, but gave Mrs. Pressler a decided psychological advantage.

The Southland champion was not long in making the best of her opportunities, turning the nine-hole mark 5-up.

Mrs. Pressler won the tenth, but lost the short eleventh when Miss

FIELDS DEFENDS CROWN

Welter Champion and Jack Thompson Tangle for Title Tonight at Detroit

DETROIT, May 8. (AP)—Jackie Fields was three-quarters of a pound overweight today as he finished training to defend his welterweight title tomorrow night against Young Jack Thompson, San Francisco Negro.

His handlers said, however, the champion will have little trouble in taking off the excess weight before 2 p.m. tomorrow, when he will step on the official scales. The time for the weigh-in was advanced an hour as final arrangements were made. Thompson weighed 144 today, three pounds under the maximum.

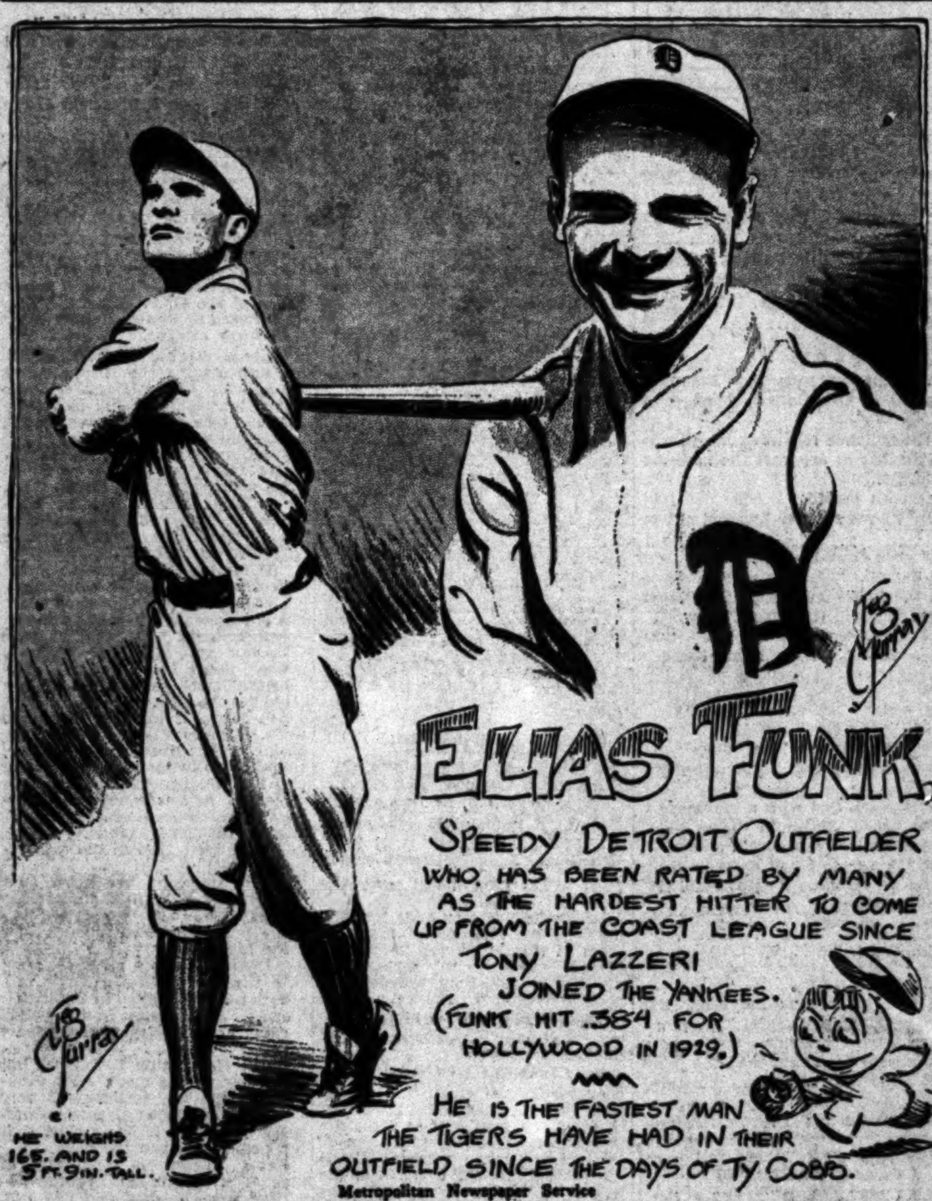
JACKIE FIELDS

Madison Square Garden came to Detroit today in the person of Frank M. J. Bruen and Thomas McArdle, who were accompanied by Pop Foster, manager of Jimmy McLarnin. The trio will be interested spectators, with negotiations for a bout between Jimmy and the winner in their minds.

Ray Alvis, Thompson's manager, expressed satisfaction over the announcement of Referee Elmer (Slim) McClelland that he will not call the fight tomorrow night a draw. McClelland said that if the affair goes the full fifteen rounds he will announce a winner, no matter how close the match is. A draw would mean that Fields would retain his title. The no-draw announcement thus gives Thompson a slight mathematical advantage.

Olympia Stadium today employed 248 persons to care for the big crowd expected at the fight. The management predicted the "gate" will exceed the $77,000 in the Tom Heeney-Johnny Risko bout in 1927.

A HOLLYWOOD TIGER - - - BY FEG MURRAY



ELIAS FUNK,
SPEEDY DETROIT OUTFIELDER
WHO HAS BEEN RATED BY MANY AS THE HARDEST HITTER TO COME UP FROM THE COAST LEAGUE SINCE TONY LAZZERI JOINED THE YANKEES.
(FUNK HIT .384 FOR HOLLYWOOD IN 1929.)
HE IS THE FASTEST MAN THE TIGERS HAVE HAD IN THEIR OUTFIELD SINCE THE DAYS OF TY COBB.
HE WEIGHS 165. AND IS 5FT. 9IN. TALL.
FEG MURRAY

Metropolitan Newspaper Service

ELIAS FUNK is a young man who should go far in major-league baseball. He is a hard hitter, is just 25, fast and ambitious, and it appears that, barring injuries, he ought to follow right along in the footsteps of such famous Tiger outfielders as Cobb, Veach, Crawford and Heilmann. I don't mean that he's a "second Ty Cobb" by any means. It's far too soon to pin that tag on him. But he's the fleetest thing seen in a Tiger uniform since the renowned Georgian was burning up the basepaths of the American League back in the days when base stealing wasn't a lost art, and he also wallops the ball at a lively clip, as you can tell from his .384 average 6made with Hollywood last season.

Anyway, Detroit fans would probably be raving about Funk already if a bad lef had not kept him out of most of the season's initial games. He played in the opening game, got two hits and handled his fielding chances flawlessly, and then didn't appear in a game again until the twenty-second when he was used as a pinch hitter. He went in at his regular position, center field, the next day, and continued his good work from then on.

Detroit pitchers won't have to worry about many vital fly balls dropping safe in Funk's territory, for he is a wizard at going and getting them, and has speed boys on both sides of him, too, when Johnson and Rice are playing. Although Funk was bought by the Tigers on the strength of his batting, Detroit fans are counting on his speed in the outfield and on the basepaths, and on his getting to first by upsetting the infield with a well-placed bunt, rather than on his extra-base drives. But just the same, out in Hollywood they rated Elias the heaviest hitter turned out by the Coast League since the day Tony Lazzeri left.

CHICAGO, May 8. (AP)—A home-run attack in the late innings today gave the Cubs their seventh straight victory and their third over the Brooklyn Robins by a 7-to-4 count.

CARD I.C.4-A. TRIP APPROVED

STANFORD UNIVERSITY (Palo Alto) May 8. (Exclusive)—Any doubt that Stanford will be represented at the I.C.A.A.A.A. meet at Harvard May 30-31 was removed last night when official permission for the trip was granted at a meeting of the board of athletic control, it was announced today by manager of athletics Al Masters. The sanction of the university's president, Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, has been secured from Washington, D. C., Masters said. The questions of how many Card tracksters will make the trip and of the time of their departure were not decided.

DELANEY HURLS SERAPHS TO WIN OVER MISSIONS

Elmer Jacobs Hands Sheiks Third Defeat

BY BOB RAY

Elmer Jacobs, poppa of the much publicized five little Jakes, who has been discouraging batters and clapping his hands a la penguin at umpires' decisions for lo! these many years, pitched the Seals to another victory over the Hollywood Stars in just another ball game yesterday at Wrigley Field. The score was 5 to 2 and the result made it three straight for the Seals over the sagging Sheiks.

ELMER JACOBS

Poppa Jacobs limited the Stars to eight more or less scattered singles and would have turned in a shut-out but for a high heave by Ike Caveney in the fourth inning. The heave was intended for Jacobs, who had come over to cover first, but it is doubtful if even Signor Carnera, the push-over pusher from the Po valley, could have reached Caveney's altitudinous toss. One run came in on the error and another arrived shortly after on an infield out that should have retired the side without a Star crossing the platter.

Not only did Poppa Jake pitch effectively to earn food, shoes and clothing for five little Jakes, but he also slapped one over the left-field fence for one of his rare home runs in the fourth inning.

The bulk of the Seal slugging, however, was ably taken care of by Mrs. Crosetti's young son, Frankie,

Schulmerich Bats in All Cherub Runs

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8. (Exclusive)—Los Angeles made it three straight from the Missions by winning today, 4 to 0. It was a much better played game than the two previous contests. Art Delaney, formerly with the Oaks and just back from Boston, had the Missions well tamed and at no time was he in danger.

WES SCHULMERICH

Bert Cole, making his first appearance after his illness, pitched pretty fair ball, but he had no chance to win because his mutes made no runs for him. The Angels scored a run in the first inning that could have been shut off by a little brisker work in the field. Cole got the first two men out and then Sigafoos beat out a hit to Rodda.

Wes Schulmerich, the "bone-crushing fullback," lifted a lazy fly to center with Christensen and Rodda in pursuit of it. They both stopped and bowed to each other while Sigafoos scored and the bone crusher got a cheap double.

The Angels hit Cole hard in the third inning when they bunched four hits and scored two runs. Statz led off with a single and Sigafoos followed with a double. They both scored when Schulmerich smashed a liner up against the bleacher front. Dittmar got a hit later in the inning, but there was no further scoring.

Schulmerich accounted for the

Ernie Owens and Royal Elliott Headline Forty-Round Card Tonight at Hollyw

HEAVYWEIGHTS IN MAIN EVENT

Ernie Rules Favorite to Defeat Opponent

Eddie Roberts Will Fight Cordoza in Ten

One Eight, Three Fours on Legion Bout Card

BY KAY OWE

It's bargain night at the Hollywood American Legion stadium. For the first time in the years of its existence there will be six fights, or forty rounds of boxing scheduled. The six fights will appear as booked but there may not be the forty rounds of fighting as some of the battlers in the line-up of talent pack dynamite.

There will be two ten-bout fights. Ernie Owens, heavyweight who meets all comers and has put up some pretty nifty performances, fights Royal (Dutch) Elliott of Alhambra in the featured bout. Owens is coming to life if his fight with Max Baer is a sample of his work. Ernie looked good against Baer and if he beats Elliott tonight will probably be rematched with the northern heavyweight. Elliott as an amateur looked promising. He lacks experience as a professional but he is game and tough and the big boy is a socker.

Royal Elliott is one of the few fighters in the game for the kick he gets out of it. He and a brother have a walnut grove in Alhambra that brings them in a tidy sum every year. He was a member of the last American Olympic team and the only reason he didn't fight in the Olympics was because he broke a couple of ribs on the boat crossing the Atlantic. Just a month ago Elliott was booked into San Diego to fight a hot favorite. He flattened Tony Starr, the marine. In San Diego they thought the kayo a fluke because little had been known of Elliott and he was booked right back the following week with the same Starr and once again he flattened Tony. Those knockouts got him on the card tonight at the stadium.

The other ten-round shot features Joe Cordova and K. O. Eddie Roberts. Cordova has had his ups and downs but Windy Winsor is his manager now and Winsor has a way of rejuvenating fighters. He likes Cordova because he is aggressive and a socker. Roberts should win this one. He is the boy who stopped Joe Dundee when the Baltimore boy was welterweight champion.

Tommy Gardner should beat Angie De Mille in the eight-round special event. They are featherweights. Stutz Houck, light heavyweight, is favorite over Fred Gardner in one four-rounder; Young Papke, brother of the Young Papke of the four-round days, should win from Lucky Baldwin in another and Eddie Neal is picked to beat Bobby Flores in the curtain raiser.

CANTO ROBLETO WINS BOUT AT PASADENA

Canto Robleto won a hard-fought decision from Pedro Villa, of San Francisco in the eight-round main event at the Pasadena Arena last night. Clayton Gough dropped a close verdict to a newcomer from San Bernardino by the name of Chalky Wright, in the other eight-round go. Jimmy Harrison won the special event from Johnny Martinez, who also hails from San Bernardino. Leo Reed won over Joe Padilla, while Johnny Medil and Al Garcia fought a draw in the preliminaries.

SAGEHENS ANNEX FROSH NET CROWN

Defeating Caltech, 6 to 0, in the final and deciding match of the season, the Pomona freshman tennis team won the Southern Conference championship yesterday. Tech took second place, yesterday's defeat being the only loss sustained all season. Nearly every match went three sets.

STANFORD NINE WINS

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, May 8. (Exclusive)—A muffed fly ball in the eighth inning enabled the Stanford University baseball team to put over a winning run of a 4-to-2 score here this afternoon against the Kwansai University nine of Osaka, Japan. The Japanese team, which is on a tour of the United States, will leave here tonight for Los Angeles, where they will meet American-Japanese nines.

The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Stanford	4	7	3
Kwansai	2	3	4

HORTON SMITH THIRD

SOUTHPORT (Eng.) May 8. (AP)—Horton Smith, the only American entered in the northern professional championship which carries £1300 pounds prize money, today finished third in the long list of England's best shot makers with a total of 146 for the first thirty-six holes. Another thirty-six holes will be played Friday.

Smith followed a morning round of 72 with a score of 74 in the afternoon.

PLAY RETURN GAME

"Frozen Tricks" indoor baseball team will play a return game with the hard-hitting Recreation Center Club Sunday morning at the Echo Park Playground, the latter team requesting the game due to the inability of their first-string pitcher to work the previous game. "Frozen Tricks" have won eleven consecutive games.

BANK BOWLERS BATTLE

The Bank of Italy's bowling team from San Francisco, champions for Northern California in the Bankers' League, will play tomorrow afternoon for the State championship in the American Institute of Banking, with the Bank of America's Los Angeles team, which holds the championship for Southern California.

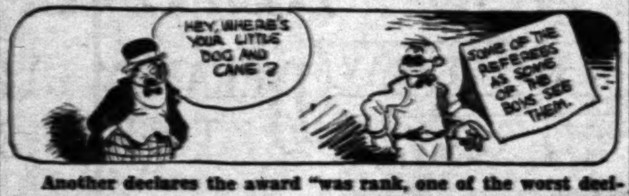
RABBIT PUNCHES
by PAUL LOWRY

A FAMILIAR SQUAWK

CONTRARY to local opinion, not all the weird fight decisions are made in Los Angeles. Comes a cry from the wilderness of Philadelphia about the horrible verdict rendered in the recent Tommy Loughran-Ernie Schaaf bout in that metropolis.

Gleanings from pieces in the papers indicate that Loughran, once light heavyweight king and now a seeker of the heavyweight mantle, was robbed blind by the referee, Leo Houck.

The decision to Schaaf is declared by one writer to have brought Philadelphia to a "real crisis in boxing." That sounds familiar.



HEY, WHERE'S YOUR LITTLE DOG AND CANE?
SOME OF THE REFEREES AS SOME OF THE BOYS SEE THEM.

Another declares the award "was rank, one of the worst decisions I have seen in many, many years. It was beyond all excuse or argument, and fandom resented it deeply as an open insult to any intelligence above that of the half-wit stage."

Still another chronicler of the doings insists Loughran won all but two rounds of the fight.

However, I note there is some balm in Gilead for the boys tooting Mr. Loughran's horn after all.

There is to be a return match at Philadelphia June 9 between Loughran and Schaaf, and it is possible that Mr. Loughran can make Referee Houck swallow his verdict at that time.

THE BRICKBAT STAGE

THE acrimony stage has finally been reached between Papa Emanuel, guiding Armand's fistic ship of state, and Dan Carroll, manager of Jimmy Maloney, Boston heavyweight.

It may have something to do with the ballyhoo regarding the heavyweight bill at Wrigley Field Monday night, but at any rate the boys are no longer gentlemanly about their arguments.

The retort courteous border line has been passed.

It's all over that Boston fight, when Maloney either knocked out or fouled Armand Emanuel.

"It was a foul in the second round," yells Papa Emanuel.

"It was no such thing," bellows big Carroll. "Maloney really stopped him with a wallop under the heart in the first round, but he managed to last out the round and folded up with fright in the second."

It has been suggested by innocent listeners that the orators take brickbats and settle the argument in a vacant lot—or await Monday night's verdict.

ROAD CHAMPIONS

IT DOES appear as if our Angels stayed home too long. They are doing better on the road than in the familiar confines of Wrigley Field.

They are banging the ball all over the lot, and with a revamped batting order which sees Statz on the bench, Moore in the second spot and Schulmerich in the clean-up berth, have power to spare.

On paper the Angels have one of the sweetest ball clubs in the circuit, and once they get to clicking on all cylinders it is doubtful if any team in the Coast League can stop 'em.

THE HOLLYWOOD Stars are just the reverse.

Champions last year, they are hovering around the cellar this season.

They have no batting punch and need two or three more A-1 players. Even the return of Dud Lee to the line-up hasn't supplied the missing spark, and it is quite apparent Boss Lane will have to do something about the situation sooner or later.

If later, the Stars may never get their noses in the first division.

BRUIN ELEVEN DISPLAYS CLASS IN INITIAL TILT

The 1930 football season was inaugurated yesterday afternoon at U.C.L.A. when the Bruin veterans defeated a team composed of newcomers by the score of 14 to 7. The game climaxed the annual spring grid training season and showed a wealth of material that will be available for Coach Bill Spaulding next fall.

The game also completed the competition in the various departments of the game to determine the respective best men. The all-around contest was won by Norman Duncan, star fullback, who amassed twenty-three points. Duncan's nearest rival was "Bewie" Roberts, halfback, with seventeen points, and Capt. Eddie Solomon, quarterback, with seven points and Ed Austin, freshman guard, with six points, finished third and fourth, respectively.

The varsity team scored in the first and third quarters, with the novices tallying in the final period. The first touchdown came after Solomon had completed a 20-yard forward pass to Len Wellendorf, end, to the 6-yard line. Roberts ran around left end to the 1-yard line and Duncan plunged it over. Solomon converted. The second score was made by Reuben Thoe from the 1-foot line after runs by Duncan and Solomon. Duncan converted. Freddy Oster, Bruin frosh coach, who played fullback for the newcomers part of the time, plunged over a touchdown in the final quarter. The line-ups:

HONOR BEACH BOWLERS

Today will be observed as Santa Monica day at the Pacific Coast Bowling Congress tournament now in session at Davenport Recreation Building.

Four open and two local booster teams are scheduled to take the drives on the early squad, with the beach combers taking alleys on the late shift with six five-man teams, led by Jadir Men's Shop, an open aggregation that is liable to burn up the alleys if they get "hot." The balance of the squad are 550 booster class teams.

Luxor Recreation quintet with a 2464 total are in temporary lead in the open division in the five-women team event, with Crystal Ice Company, Glendale, second and Diamond Dicks, Los Angeles, third. Dome Recreation quintet, Ocean Park, are setting the pace in the 750-team division with a 2268 mark. Smith's Public Market, South Gate, are anchored in the runner-up position with a 2198 count.

Mrs. Babe Taylor, with an excellent 588 series, assisted by Mrs. Harriette Mayers with 535, were chiefly responsible in placing the Luxor five in first place. Mrs. Taylor had high individual game at 214. Bernice Marmer, a 16-year-old miss bowling in her first tournament, starred for the Smith Market with a 495 series. The women's events will be brought to a close with four San Francisco, one San Bernardino and one San Diego quintets shooting their team events on the 12th inst., and winding up with doubles and singles the following day.

MRS. PRESSLER DEFENDS TITLE

Lawson holed a sizeable putt for a birdie 2. Mrs. Pressler blew putts of three and five feet, respectively, on the twelfth and thirteenth holes for wins, but ended the match on the fourteenth, when Miss Lawson again found a trap too difficult to negotiate.

Playing as calmly as a chunk of ice, Miss DeLong had Mrs. Green 1 down going to the sixth hole, and the California champion was obviously nettled. Mrs. Green won three of the next four holes to be 2 up at the turn, however, and the danger of an upset was past.

Coming in they halved the first three holes, Miss DeLong losing the long thirteenth to be 3 down. Whatever chance Miss DeLong had of staging a comeback evaporated on fourteen when she missed a short putt for a win after Mrs. Green had three putted.

The match ended on the fifteenth, Mrs. Green getting on nicely in two, while Miss DeLong took three to get on and two putted.

STANFORD ACES IN TRACK MEET

frosh while thirteen will enter the meet unattached.

Varsity men are on edge for the meet as the showing of many of them in this affair will be an important factor in determining whether or not they will be sent back to Boston for the I.C.A.A.A.A. championships May 30 and 31 and the N.C.A.A. championships at Chicago June 6 and 7.

COMPETITION HOT

As the Trojan squad that is sent East may be limited to from fifteen to seventeen men and as there are twenty-seven good prospects on S. C.'s team for the national meets, the competition for the trip is the hottest in S.C. track and field history. Southern California's men consequently will be out to give their best performances in the A.A.U. event and the California intercollegiate championships next Saturday in order to win places on the picked team to be sent east.

With the exception of Howard Paul, winner of the broad jump in the Stanford meet with a leap of 24ft. 3½in., the Trojans will enter the A.A.U. championships in full force. Paul is out with an injured leg.

The sixteen frosh entered in the meet represent the cream of the 1930 yearling talent at S.C., and the showing of these first-year athletes and of the unattached men, most of whom will be varsity material next year, will give a good indication of what Coach Cromwell can expect in the way of new material for his 1931 track and field team.

Trojan varsity entries in the meet are as follows:

100, Wykoff, Maurer, Draper, Guyer; 220, Wykoff, Maurer, Draper, Guyer, Anderson; 440, Williams, Pearson, Woessner; 880, McGeagh, Burke; mile, Halstead, Hansen, Cuthbert, Patterson, Fitzmaurice; high hurdles, Welsh, Stokes, Moffat, Vignolo, Ritchie; low hurdles, Payne, Carls, Welsh, Stokes, Powers; mile relay, Burke, Woessner, Pearson, Williams.

Shot, Hall, Kline, Stewart; discus, Hall, Kline, Stewart, Van Vliet, Bradbury; javelin, Mortensen, Snider, Beatty; pole vault, Hubbard, Livingston, Chientes, Harris, Mitchell; high jump, Van Osdel, Stewart, Noverson, Hill; broad jump, Barber, Corrie; hop, step and jump, Corrie.

Freshman entries from the University of Southern California are:

220, Casey; 440, Dow, Dubbell; high hurdles, Berry; 440-yard hurdles, Berry, Priebe, Owens; mile relay to be selected from Casey, Berdan, Dubbell, Owens, Dow; pole vault, Graber; high jump, Brannon, Kuynes, Deniel; shot, Brown, Bridges, Nemeth; discus, Carter; javelin, McKenzie.

Trojan students entering the meet unattached are:

100, Said, Ball; 220, Said, Ball, Parsons; 440, Oswald, Bastatian; 880, Colton; high hurdles, Ellis; low hurdles, Ellis, Martin; 440-yard hurdles, Mitchell; high jump, McNaughton, Brosman; 56-pound weight, Wigger; hop, step and jump, Johnson.

STEPHENS, ALVARADO TO CLASH TOMORROW

Carlo Curtis will be looking for talent for his open-air shows, which he expects to hold this summer at the White Sox ball park, when he holds his weekly fight card at the Main-street Club tomorrow night. If "Red" Stephens and Jimmy Alvarado put up a good bout in their main event, Curtis may use them on the card of his next offering at the Hooper-avenue ball park.

Stephens and Alvarado have fought two draws previously and both were slashing fights. Morrie Eagleson and Leo Hernandez will box the six-round semi-wind-up. Another six brings together Hy Diamond and Joe Borola, lightweights.

INGLEWOOD DEFEATED

Inglewood High dropped its first league game in two years yesterday afternoon, when the Venice Gondoliers tripped the Sentinel nine by a 3-1 score. Venice won the game in the eighth, when Bell singled with two men on base. Both scored. Redling, Inglewood hurler, walked seven men to make it easy for the Gondoliers. Score:

Prep Runners Leave Today for Berkeley

BY IRVING ECKHOFF

Winning Phi Beta Kappa honors and coaching a team to the Southern California prep track and field championship all in the same week was the record set by Tex Oliver, Santa Ana High mentor, last week.

Tex is winding up his college career at S.C. and Trojan officials announced last week that the genial Oliver had attained that great scholastic honor, Phi Beta Kappa.

Oliver and his team left last night on the Owl for Berkeley and the State interscholastic meet, which is carded for the California oval tomorrow afternoon.

The Santa Ana team is composed of Norman Paul, who is entered in the broad jump, low hurdles and relay; Alvin Reboin, high hurdles and relay; Doyle Gilbert, broad jump, and Lloyd Nusum and James Danerl, relay runners.

Oliver's outfit was the first of the Southland contingent to leave. The remainder are scheduled to go in two sections, some leaving on the Daylight Limited this morning and the others taking the Owl tonight.

Exactly fifty-seven athletes are making the trip, according to Seth Van Patten, director of athletics for the southern section of the C.I.F. They will be quartered at Bowles Hall on the Berkeley campus.

Quite a number of prep officials are also making the trip, among them being Kinter Hamilton, who will act as starter; Jim Reinhard, this section's official representative to the meet, and Van Patten.

The Class B and C Southern California meet, postponed from last week, will be run off at Housh Field, L. A. High, tomorrow. Art Badenoch, of Inglewood High will be the referee. The first event is scheduled for 1:30.

While both Sacramento and Berkeley are expected to put up a strong fight to win the Class A championship, Southland fans expect Santa Ana, San Diego, Manual Arts, L. A. Poly, Inglewood, Santa Monica and Huntington Beach to put in a hefty bid for the title.

San Diego is sending Fernando Ortiz, sprinter; Irvine Warburton, quarter-miler; Evans Dowers, miler; Howell, javelin tosser, and Fletcher and Pierson, relay runners.

Manual Arts is sending a three-man team composed of Jimmy Lawrence and Claude Lindsey, milers, and Carl Satterfield in the quarter-mile.

Poly is basing her hopes on Jimmy La Valle in the quarter, Dick Lindsey and Stankovitch in the pole vault and Vignolo in the high jump.

Inglewood has a great chance to win with Bill Du Pay in both hurdles, McNeil in the high jump, Joe Ramsey in the pole vault and Charley Hull in the shot.

While Huntington Beach has but one entry in the meet, Alvin Koenig, diminutive sprinter, is very likely to win both dashes. Competition appears to be so close that ten points may win the meet.

Santa Monica is sending three men, John Lyman, who is going after Bud Houser's shot record of 55ft. 4 4-5in., White in the high hurdles and Munro in the low sticks.

LINCOLN NINE COPS

EMANUEL ASKS FOR REFEREES

Armand's Pop Wants Either Burke or Kennedy

Maloney Camp Satisfied With Names Specified

Commission Will Have Last Say on Subject

Charley Emanuel and Dan Carroll have finally agreed on one thing. Since the Armand Emanuel-Jim Maloney bout has been on their managers had failed to strike any chords of harmony until yesterday. It is over a choice of referee for the Wrigley Field fight Monday night.

JACK KENNEDY

The two men named by Emanuel are Billy Burke and Lieut. Jack Kennedy. Carroll, who doesn't know any of the officials on the West Coast, doesn't care who the third man is going to be.

The commission is to meet here Monday and it is this body, not the managers or the promoters, who decide such matters.

ARMAND RESTS

Emanuel was the only heavyweight on the bill who didn't box yesterday. He will work today and tomorrow at full speed. He may not weigh over 185 pounds for the Maloney battle, it was said yesterday by his trainer, Joey Greenberg.

The Jewish barrister is in fine shape and is on edge for the fight now. Maloney went four rounds at the Main street and will work straight through to Saturday. The Boston heavyweight will scale 200 pounds, or maybe a couple of pounds this side of it.

Frankie Campbell, who has been a favorite over Les Kennedy for their fight on the ball-park show, may be brought back to even money by the sudden flood of Kennedy sentiment.

When the match was first made there were 2-to-1 odds offered on the "Italian Dempsey." The figures had changed to 10-8 odds last night on the markets.

Campbell boxed three rounds yesterday after a two-day lay-off. The "Italian Dempsey" doesn't look so good only when he is knocking out an opponent. He was hitting hard in his workout, but did not attempt to flatten any of his help.

Kennedy will remain at Murietta Springs in the Ace Hudkins camp until Sunday. Word from the longshoreman is that he is feeling great and will weigh around 192 pounds for the Campbell test.

DOMAN FAVORITE

Vigo Doman is favorite to beat Ray Spiker, the marine, in the eight-round added bout. However, Ben Smith and other trainers say that Spiker may look entirely different against a big fellow like Doman than he did with the lighter Ernie Owens.

With a better break in weather yesterday the ticket sale began to move along the stride expected for outdoor attractions. The bill featuring the two tens between Maloney and Emanuel, Campbell and Kennedy, with added eight between Doman and Spiker, makes it attractive.

Promoter Jack Doyle believes the show will hit $40,000 or better if the weather continues fair and warmer. The weather reports are optimistic about warm weather over the week-end.

CITY LEAGUE BASEBALL SEASON STARTS TODAY

Prep baseball fans' cravings for the national pastime will be appeased this afternoon when six baseball teams of the City League swing into action in the opening round of the 1930 season. Three games are on tap for the opening festivities, with the old-time rivals, L. A. High and Poly, featuring the afternoon's play. The other two games billed will see Coach Frank Malette's Lincoln High Tigers defending their 1929 title against the formidable Hollywood High nine and the Franklin High nine locking horns with Coach "Ching" Duhm's Jefferson High fence busters.

The site of the Lincoln-Hollywood fracas, which was billed for Patterson Field, Occidental College, was changed for the Redshirts' diamond. The Lincolnians, however, will act as the home team. The impressive way in which the Tigers emerged through a thirty-game practice schedule has installed them as favorites again in this year's flag chase. The Tigers are heavy favorites to win from Hollywood this afternoon, although the Redshirts may turn the tables on the Lincoln athletes.

The L. A. High-Poly game slated for the Romans' field is predicted as a toss-up. Both teams ooze with reserve strength and the breaks of the game are expected to decide the issue. "Pop" Mahoney, Mechanic mentor, is said to have developed as strong, if not a stronger, nine than last season's, although the Mechanic mentor himself is not overexuberant over his team's chances. Coach Herb White of the Romans is banking on Melo Almada, southpaw, for a victory.

The Jefferson-Franklin tussle, to be held at Jefferson, should see the Democrats on top when the slugfest is over. "Ching" Duhm's Democrats are said to be strong this year, and are doped as the only team capable of stopping the Lincoln nine.

BELMONT AND UNIVERSITY MIX IN FEATURE TILT

Fighting to retain their position on the top of the Minor City League Coach Sid Witherow's Belmont High baseball team is scheduled to meet the University nine on the Warriors' own field this afternoon in the feature game of the third round of play. Fremont goes to Fairfax, and Garfield to Roosevelt in the other league games.

Having already disposed of Fairfax and Roosevelt in making their bid for the title, the Hilltoppers are considered as slight favorites to chalk up another victory at the expense of University, which has yet to win a league game this season. Last week Witherow's men displayed plenty of fight when they overcame a two-run lead in the ninth inning to snatch the game away from the Roosevelt Roughriders.

Garfield and Roosevelt still have hopes of winning the title. The team which loses today, however, will be definitely out of the running. Both teams lost last week as a result of some one making an error at a critical moment. Today's contest will probably be so close that a miscue will again decide the outcome.

BELL AND WASHINGTON TO TANGLE TODAY

Coach Norman Smith's Bell Eagles travel to Washington today, where they will take on the powerful President nine in the feature tilt of the four Marine League games scheduled for this afternoon. The three other games will find Gardena at Narbonne, Torrance at Riis and Banning at Jordan.

Coleman Wins Diving Title

Georgia Coleman won the ten-foot springboard diving championship of the Southern Pacific Swimming Association meet, which was held at the Pasadena Athletic and Country Club last night. Miss Coleman, who was competing for the L.A.A.C., registered a score of 144 points. Buster Crabbe, competing unattached, won the 220-yard free-style sprint for men in the fast time of 2m. 18 2-5s. Norene Forbes won the girls' sprint in 2m. 49 1-5s. The results:

220-yard free style for men—Won by Buster Crabbe (Un.); Frank Walton (P.A.C.), second; McGowan Miller (P.A.C.) third. Time, 2m. 18 2-5s.

220-yard free style for girls—Won by Norene Forbes (Un.); Olive Hatch (L.A.A.C.), second; Jennie Cramer (L.A.A.C.) third. Time, 2m. 49 1-5s.

10-foot springboard diving championship—Won by Georgia Coleman (L.A.A.C.); Dorothy Poynton (P.A.C.), second; Elsie Ennis third.

SENATORS TROUNCE OAKLAND CLUB, 8-2

OAKLAND, May 8. (AP)—Backed by fine pitching and timely hitting, Sacramento's Senators gave Oakland's Oaks the well-known trouncing today, winning, 8-2. Three Oak pitchers were led to slaughter as the Senators chalked up fourteen hits. Dolph Camilli, first-baseman, led the visitors in the hitting spree with two doubles and two singles, thereby pounding in five runs. Thomas, Sacramento pitcher, did his part by making the Oakland batters nearly break their backs as they swung at his "faders." He fanned eleven. Score:

STRIBLING WINS BY KNOCKOUT

a right to the stomach. Schonrath dropped for a count of seven.

Half a minute later, Stribling dropped him again for a count of five with a right to the jaw. They clinched, and on being parted Stribling smashed a right and left to the stomach and Schonrath dropped helplessly over the ropes, hanging there while the referee waved Stribling to his corner and declared him the winner on a technical knockout.

Schonrath was the amateur champion of Germany in 1928. He turned professional and won twenty-five bouts in a row. He was never beaten until tonight. Schmeling has refused to meet him.

Stribling meets Phil Scott here on June 2.

FIVE TIGER FROSH GET TRACK AWARDS

Track numerals and sweaters were voted yesterday to only five Oxy frosh by the Athletic Council, according to Dick Glover, athletic representative. The names of Tuffy Reed and Byron Kelly were stricken from the list due to their ineligibility which caused the Tigers to forfeit the Southern Conference frosh cinder title. Those winning the awards were Capt. Dick Entwhistle, George Bent, Bob Snyder, Ray Clever and Fred Donald.

JACOBS HURLS SEALS TO 5-2 VICTORY

who does quite a bit of shortstopping for Nick Williams's outfit. Crosetti pounded out what the boys call a baseball straight in his first four times at bat. In other words, Frankie collected a home run, triple, double and single. He fanned on his final trek to the plate to spoil a perfect afternoon.

Emil Yde, Hollywood's good-looking southpaw, started on the mound for Oscar Vitt's outfit but was batted out of the picture during the Seals' third-inning rally. Augie Johns, also a fork-hander, replaced Yde and put down the third-inning uprising, but was touched for a couple of runs later in the contest. The Seals got nine hits off the combined southpawing of Yde and Johns.

In an effort to bring the Stars out of their slump, Vitt will send George Hollerson to the mound in today's game. Hollerson has been the only consistent winning pitcher on the club so far this season and has a good chance of stopping the Seals. Jimmy Zinn, husky right-hander whom the Seals purchased from Cleveland, is expected to be Nick Williams's mound choice.

Crosetti put the Seals off in front when he opened the ball game by bouncing a home run off the top of the left-field fence out into Thirty-ninth street.

The Seals chased Yde to cover in the third with a short but snappy rally that produced two more runs. Crosetti led off with a slow roller through short that he stretched into a double. Baker walked. Donovan belted a single to right that scored Crosetti and then Wingo doubled to center, Baker tallying. Johns then came on the scene and retired Sheely, Jahn and Caveney in order to leave Seals stranded on second and third.

San Francisco got another run in the fourth, however, when Jacobs belted one of Johns's offerings over the left-field barrier.

Hollywood's two tallies arrived in the home half of the fourth. After Carlyle had gone out, Rumler and Green singled. Heath hit one between Sheely and Caveney and both went after it. Caveney got the ball and Jacobs ran over to cover first. The Seal second-sacker's toss was just about twice as high as intended and soared over Jacobs's head, Rumbler scoring and Green and Heath pulling up at third and second. Severeid's infield out scored Green and then Jacobs fanned Catina to end the inning.

The Seals' final run came in the seventh when Crosetti tripled off the center-field bricks and scored on a single by Lorey Baker.

The Stars had a couple of men on the paths in both the sixth and ninth innings, but both times Poppa Jacobs pitched his way out of difficulty. Score:

Mulligan got a hit in the first inning only to be forced at second by Monroe. Boone also hit safely. With a chance to put the Missions in the ball game Fuzzy Hufft struck out and Monroe was caught stealing third. The double play put the crusher on the Missions. The score:

In dress it's Distinction

in a cigarette it's Taste

IT'S THE UNUSUAL that distinguishes a gown. Again, it's the unusual that sets Chesterfield apart.

STYLE in a gown, "chic" in a hat—and in a Chesterfield, Taste!

TASTE IS THE REAL REASON for Chesterfield's enduring popularity . . . the better taste of choice tobaccos, mild and ripe, blended and cross-blended to a rich delicacy of flavor, unique in a cigarette—in every sense of the word . . . "TASTE above everything".

Chesterfield
CIGARETTES
LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

We state it as our honest belief that the tobaccos used in Chesterfield cigarettes are of finer quality and hence of better taste than in any other cigarette at the price. LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

Withuhn Oration Champion

Idaho Student Ranks Second With Baughn of Arizona in Third Place

Winner Speaks on Marshall as Great Defender of Constitution

SEATTLE (Wash.) May 9. (AP)—[illegible] Withuhn, champion of Washington, tonight won the Pacific Coast championship in the National Oratorical Contest from a field of seven high school orators from six Pacific Coast and Rocky Mountain States, and the Territory of Hawaii.

Winners of second and third places were: Lavon Sorensen, champion of Idaho, and Alfred Baughn, of Phoenix, Ariz., champion of California, Nevada and Arizona, respectively.

SPEAKS ON MARSHALL

The winner, who spoke on the subject, "John Marshall and the Constitution," will represent the Pacific Coast in the national finals at Washington, D. C., the 24th inst., and will then travel for three months in Europe with the other finalists in the national contest, regardless of final standing.

Withuhn told of the service of John Marshall in his speech. He said that without the work of the great jurist the Constitution would not have been the document of "Liberty, justice and equality for all."

Margaret Bairos, champion of Hawaii, and the only girl entered in the Pacific Coast finals, was seventh. She spoke on "The Constitution, a Guarantee of Liberty for Every Individual." The 15-year-old high-school girl spoke of the immigrants coming into the country with great hope for the future and how they learn to appreciate the meaning of the word liberty.
